Will of Young Man Who Cared about Others Enables Township to Buy Mountain Lakes

When Billy Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Johnson Jr., was growing up in Edgerstone, he liked to play in the woods around his home and camp overnight along Stony Brook with his brothers.

At age 21, knowing that he would come into his Johnson & Johnson inheritance at various stages in his adult life, he made a will and directed the establishment of the Willard Trotter Case Johnson Foundation to benefit worthy causes. Two years later he died in a motorcycle accident in California.

Last week, as they gathered for the fireside christening of his sister's baby on Thanksgiving, Billy's family decided the time had come to let Princeton know, through Town Topics, that this foundation is providing the $2.3 million to the Township to purchase the Mountain Lakes property for open space. Billy Johnson, in effect, is "the anonymous donor" whose gift is making possible the addition of approximately 70 acres of land for passive recreation — land of woods, streams and ponds that has been described as perhaps the most beautiful of Princeton's many beautiful properties.

The money is being funneled through the Nature Conservancy and is available to buy the property from Design Interface, the development arm of the Hillier Group, architects and planners. Design Interface bought the 74.5-acre tract for $2.3 million in December, 1984. The firm's development proposals for 23 to 30 single-family homes around the largest lake triggered efforts to save the property for open space, as was intended in the 1980 Master Plan.

According to family members, Billy Johnson thought a lot about the future, a trait they feel he may have inherited from his grandfather, General Robert W. Johnson. Thus the purchase of an oasis of green space, which would prove ever more valuable as development continues in this area, would have appealed to him. He also showed a marked interest in the poor, a concern for the welfare of those who were less fortunate than he, which he verbalized at an early age.

Born in New Brunswick, December 1, 1952, Billy was the third son and fourth child in a family that would eventually include another boy born seven years later. Billy's arrival prompted the family to move from New Brunswick to a larger home on Edgerstone. There he grew up playing in the woods of the Russell estate and pitching his tent by Stony Brook.

Summers would include a family fishing trip to Wisconsin or time spent at the Jersey shore. As the fourth child, Bil-

Hearing on DWI Charge against Civil Rights Director Marked by Acrimonious Accusations of Prejudice

An expert witness for the defense testified Monday night in Township Court that he did not believe Joint Civil Rights Commission Director Joan Hill was under the influence of alcohol when she was arrested on August 27 for driving while intoxicated.

Dr. David Lester, of Princeton, professor of biochemistry at the Rutgers Center of Alcohol Studies, Rutgers University, said he twice viewed a videotape made of Ms. Hill after she was arrested, and also reviewed the police report.

Police had testified that two breathalyzer tests administered to Ms. Hill after her arrest showed a .20 reading. A reading of .10 is considered legally intoxicated.

Dr. Lester testified that, even with a reading of a tenth of a percent, a person standing upright with eyes closed would show some sway. He said Ms. Hill performed without noticeable sway, and that he saw nothing amiss in her speech, alertness, or orientation.

He said the breathalyzer used in the test has one serious defect: it produces no hard copy and the operation is subjective. "The officer is at liberty to write down any number he pleases," he told the court.

Ms. Hill was stopped and arrested by Sgt. Anthony Gaylord of the Princeton Township Police Department shortly before 1 a.m. on August 27, as she turned right onto Bunn Drive after driving through Princeton Professional Park. She and her attorney, Charles Casale Jr., have asserted that Sgt.

Gaylord is prejudiced against women and minorities and is personally hostile to Miss Hill. They have also suggested that

Large, Vociferous Crowd Expected To Object to DOT S-92 Proposals

A large turnout of vocal citizenry is expected at the N.J. Department of Transportation public hearing Monday evening at Princeton High School. The hearing, on proposed highway S-92 and the western relocation of a portion of Route 206 between Oposum Road in Montgomery and south of Arreton Road in Princeton, will be held between 5 and 10 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Meetings are taking place all this week — in town councils, planning offices and private living rooms — to prepare for this hearing on the DOT's Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) on these proposed highways. Under federal highway regulations, the state DOT is required to solicit public comment at a hearing, and also written comment, before adopting a final Environmental Impact Statement. The final EIS is the basis on which the final alignment is selected.

In work session Monday night, Township Committee batted about some of its concerns for specifics of the pro-

Calton Homes Settlement To Be Unveiled to Public

The Calton Homes lawsuit settlement agreement will be unveiled to the public Wednesday, December 10, at a special meeting of the Planning Board. The meeting will begin at 7:30 in the Valley Road building, Witherspoon Street entrance.

The purpose of the meeting is to give the public information on the terms of the agreement with the developer. It is not a public hearing, but the public is invited and may be allowed to comment. Public hearings will be scheduled in January, giving individuals and groups more time to prepare a response, Planning Board officers say.

Calton Homes is contract purchaser of the 128-acre historic Hunt Farm (also known as the White Farm for the present owner) between Mercer and Stockton Streets. The developer first challenged Township zon-

Hill Case

Sgt. Gaylord may have altered the results of the breathalyzer tests.

Ms. Hill testified that she had consumed one glass of white wine at about 6 p.m. on August 26 and from one-and-a-half to two Bacardi-on-the-rocks drinks between 10 p.m. and midnight. The wine, she said, was consumed at her home, with food, and the drinks were ordered at the Masonic Lodge on John and Maclean Streets. Dr. Lester testified that her behavior on the videotape was consistent with these amounts of alcohol.

He added that a person registering a .20 on the breathalyzer would have had to consume about nine ounces of 80-proof spirits or a quart and a half of wine.

Cross Examination. In cross examination, Township Prosecutor Donald Veix asked Ms. Hill why she had told police she had drunk beer and wine on the night of her arrest when she had really been drinking wine and rum. He also questioned her statement regarding medication she had taken that day, which differed from the response recorded on tape.

Ms. Hill said she had answered in jest and was being facetious in response to the way she had been treated by Sgt. Gaylord. She said Sgt. Gaylord kept asking her the same thing over and over, and that she gave different answers each time because he was getting on her nerves. "He treated me like a dog," she said.

Ms. Hill testified that, in addition to acting rudely and handcuffing her after she was stopped, Sgt. Gaylord had shoved her forcefully into the back of the police car. She denied using profanity against him during the arrest, although Ptl. John Buszko had testified earlier in the proceedings that she had.

Ms. Hill testified that she knew of four complaints against Sgt. Gaylord since 1973. Three of the complainants were identified as a black female, Indian male, and white female. She said she was involved in assisting all three in proceeding with their grievances against Sgt. Gaylord, and that he was aware of her involvement.

Vendetta Alleged. Ms. Hill said that Sgt. Gaylord, who had been a classmate of hers at Princeton High School, refused to have anything to do with her after 1983. She stated she believes he has a vendetta against her because of her assistance to the three who had come to her for help with their grievances against him.

Ms. Hill testified she had taken a friend, April McElroy, of Redding Circle, out for a ride in her new car at about midnight. They drove down Mt. Lucas Road to Ewing Street and turned into Princeton Professional Park. The car was stopped just as it left the office park.

Ms. McElroy testified that Ms. Hill drove without swerving through Princeton Professional Park, and was polite when stopped by Sgt. Gaylord. Ms. Hill denied being abusive or threatening to the arresting officer during the arrest. (The videotape taken at Police Headquarters, in addition to showing Ms. Hill undergoing several tests for intoxication, shows her cursing at Sgt. Gaylord.)

In the earlier hearing, Sgt. Gaylord had testified that the car had swerved from side to side at least three times. He also said he had no idea who was driving the car until he stopped it and recognized Ms. Hill.

Township Committeewoman Carol Wojciechowicz and Borough Councilman Mark Freda were in the audience at the Monday hearing, as were several representatives of the Joint Civil Rights Commission and some members of the public.

A third hearing is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 10, in Township court. If it is anything like its two predecessors, it may be expected to run at least five hours.

Rev. Michael Nabors Attacks Drug Use in Princeton In Second Open House of Concerned Black Parents

It might have been the timing — Saturday after Thanksgiving — or it may be that drugs are not as burning an issue as they were in August, but the second open house sponsored by the Concerned Black Parents and Citizens of Princeton was not well attended.

What the open house at Mt. Pisgah Church Saturday afternoon lacked in numbers was made up in the fervor of the speakers, particularly the keynote address by the Rev. Michael Nabors, pastor of First Baptist Church. A rally at Redding Circle to focus on issues of drugs and loitering in the black neighborhood drew 200 people last August.

Mr. Nabors said he was not "heartbroken" by the poor showing. "A few of us on fire can set fire to the whole town," he maintained. Referring to the new ecumenical strength in the three Black churches in town, he added, "We are breaking down the walls of division and are seeking to replace them with a new fellowship."

Mr. Nabors told his own story of drug experimentation, beginning at age 11 and ending when he was hospitalized at 14 after inhaling an unidentified spray substance. Suffering from a "nervous breakdown," he lost 40 pounds and was near death, he said, until he prayed that, if "led to live, he would do everything the Lord asked of him."

As one "who has used and knows the great dangers," he outlined individual, family and community goals to combat drugs. He exhorted his listeners — some 25 women of various ages and perhaps two who qualified as "youth" — to the positive self-image ("be all that you can be") that helps one say "no" to drugs and alcohol. He took exception to headlines last summer that said "crack is seeping" into the suburbs.

"It is obvious we have a drug and alcohol abuse problem; it has always been in our community. It affects somebody's child, somebody's grandchild. Our children are no longer safe."

Painting a vivid picture of dope pushers and drug dealers on the street corners, he charged that if such activity were taking place on Hodge Road "or in front of the mayor's house" the police would be quick to take action, but that they give excuses such as lack of manpower for not taking care of the problem in the John-Witherspoon area.

"We've got to take care of it ourselves," Mr. Nabors asserted, adding: "When we fail to fight against drugs we fail to respect our community and our neighborhood." He spoke of community resources, such as Corner House, AA and Al Anon as well as the churches being "always available to help us get our lives together."

Linking problems of race relations with drugs, and speaking of his dream of Princeton as a town in which everyone works together to overcome these problems, he told his audience: "It's time for us to stop shucking and jiving, to create a brand new day in Princeton."

Earlier Joanne Rice Parker and Lynetta Murphy, organizers of Concerned Black Parents and Citizens of Princeton, spoke about the organization. Ms. Murphy said the purpose is to present a united and more powerful voice for the betterment of our community. Appealing for additional members, she said, "Our young people need to see your presence in their lives."

Asked later to comment on Mr. Nabors' charge about the police being quicker to respond to problems on Hodge Road than on John and Lytle Streets, Borough Police Chief Michael Carnevale said this was an accusation he had heard "over and over, for 25 years."

"It really is senseless, and not true," Chief Carnevale said. "I feel we have made a positive impact on the concerns of residents of the John-Witherspoon area with the two-man Safe Neighborhood Street Patrol last summer." He said the police are continuing to investigate reports of drug trafficking.

"We'll be continuously pursuing any illegal activity, whether drug or otherwise," he said.

Design Phase Is Funded For Harrison St. Bridge

Contrary to a recent story in a Trenton newspaper, a delay by Congress in passing an omnibus appropriations bill will not delay the design phase of the Harrison Street Bridge.

Township Mayor Gail Firestone received this assurance from Jack Freidenrich, N.J. Department of Transportation assistant commissioner for engineering and operations. Mayor Firestone was at the DOT office Friday, along with Planning Director Duggan Kimball, Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser, and Deputy Mayor Tom Poole. Their purpose was to talk about DOT plans for two other Township bridges — the one over Harry's Brook on Route 27 and the 1792 bridge over Stony Brook on Route 206.

Mr. Freidenrich assured Mayor Firestone that funding was in hand for the design phase of the Harrison Street bridge replacement all the way through preparation of bids and awarding the contract. If Congress does not pass the funding package by the time this work is scheduled to be completed in the summer of 1987, actual construction of the bridge could be delayed, he told her.

Mayor Firestone said this knowledge would stimulate members of Committee to write Congressional representatives to urge passage of the bill in January.

Harry's Brook. The little band of elected and appointed officials and Township staff asked for the appointment with the DOT because of their concern that the DOT might be planning four-lane bridge replacements at the two locations. They were assured that in the case of the Harry's Brook bridge this is not so.

There the DOT plans two 12-foot lanes, two 12-foot shoulders and a six-foot wide sidewalk on either side. This adds up to 60 feet — more than double the width of the existing bridge. The new bridge would be a 40-foot span with no increase in profile from the flat span that presently exists.

Mayor Firestone reported to Township Committee that the DOT seemed receptive to the idea of reducing the shoulders somewhat, but not below an eight-foot width. Construction of the Harry's Brook bridge would begin in June of 1988, but would not involve the closing of the road. Instead, the shoulder and sidewalk area would serve as a lane while the main roadway is being built.

Stony Brook Bridge. The DOT has hired the firm of Clark and Rapuano to undertake the preliminary feasibility studies of the Route 206 bridge over Stony Brook. The old stone part of this bridge dates back to 1792, and the consultants have asked two subconsultants to prepare historical and ar-

Christmas Appeal

With Christmas just three weeks away, we appeal to Princeton residents to remember that the holiday season can be the longest and loneliest time of the year for those "who fall between the cracks."

The TOWN TOPICS Fund is used to help those whose needs fall outside of what can be provided by local or county agencies. Fuel, food, carfare to get home, money to restore utilities, camp scholarships for children of working parents, and loans for vocational training to build self-reliance — these are some of the uses to which the Fund is put.

All administrative costs are borne by this newspaper so that every penny can be channelled to where it is most needed by Family Service. All contributions are welcome, no matter what their size. Checks should be made payable to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund and mailed to the paper at P.O. Box 664, Princeton, N.J. 08542.

cheological studies relating to the bridge. The subconsultants are Heritage Studies, the firm founded by former Planning Board member and historian Constance M. Greiff, and Hunter Associates, a spin-off from Mrs. Greiff's firm.

Construction — or reconstruction — of the Stony Brook bridge is scheduled for 1991 on the DOT's timetable. Meanwhile a preliminary study will address traffic and structural needs, factoring in the architectural and historical survey.

Gas Station Conversion Approval Being Sought

Eric Keller's proposal to attach the Victorian house he saved from demolition to the stone gas station known as Frenchy's, and thereby create banking and office space, was the main item before the Planning Board Tuesday, December 2.

The application involves relocation approval under the Borough's newly adopted ordinance providing for modification of certain zoning standards in order to preserve and relocate historic architecture. It also involves site plan approval and approval of variances having to do with signs.

about pedestrian and vehicular traffic on Nassau Street and adjacent "tree" streets.

Iraqi U.N. Ambassador To Speak on Iran War

His Excellency Ismat Kitani, Permanent Representative of Iraq to the United Nations, will speak on "The Iran-Iraq War: Prospects for Peace," at the Woodrow Wilson School, Bowl 2, at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 10.

The Ambassador graduated from Knox College in Illinois and speaks fluent English. He served in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Baghdad in 1952-56 and has been associated with the United Nations since 1957, holding such posts as Secretary of the Economic and Social Council and President of the 36th session of the U.N. General Assembly in 1981-82.

His talk is being sponsored by the Arab Society of Princeton. The public is invited.

According to a description of the project prepared by Planning Director Duggan Kimball, the two gas station bays used for oil changes and engine repairs would be converted into two drive-up windows for the bank. Entrance would be from Maple Street, with an exit-only access to Nassau Street.

The two buildings together would come to 5,560 square feet, which is proposed to be converted to office, bank and retail use. Eight parking spaces would be provided.

The Historic Preservation Review Committee has a number of suggestions relating to door, window and bay window treatment to preserve the original character of the Victorian house. This house was moved to make way for a parking lot adjacent to the new Davidson's Store in the former Turney Motors building. Stored temporarily on University property, it will be moved again across Nassau Street.

During the hearing Tuesday night, the Borough Police were expected to voice concerns

Four Homes Are Entered Last Week in Borough

Four homes in the Borough were broken into last week. A home on Witherspoon Lane was entered Friday evening between 8:30 and 10:30 by an intruder who first cut a screen of a ground-floor window, broke a pane of glass to unlock the window and then crawled through. Taken were two portable AM-FM stereo cassette players and a 20-inch color television set, worth a combined $610. The victim discovered the entry upon returning home.

A side window was broken to enter a Green Street home Saturday between 9 in the morning and 10:50 p.m. Stereo equipment and a television set are known to have been stolen, but police say they are awaiting the return of the owner for a complete inventory. Capt. Thomas Michaud said the entry was reported by another person living in the house.

A break-in at a Chestnut Street home was reported to police on Friday afternoon. A rear door was pried open to gain entry, said police, who add there was evidence that the interior was searched for valuable items. Taken from a bedroom bureau drawer were two gold bracelets, valued at $350 and $150.

Capt. Michaud said police were able to pinpoint the entry after a neighbor noticed a small bag used to hold the bracelets in her yard Thanksgiving afternoon.

Taken from a Pine Street apartment entered Friday were a black and white TV set, cable control box, blanket and foiletries. All the missing items are valued at $125.

There was no forced entry and police report it is not known if the apartment was locked or unlocked at the time.

An unlocked students' suite in 1938 Hall on the university campus was entered between 2 and 4 a.m. Saturday.

Missing are a number of cassette tapes from a desk drawer. A stuffed "Snoopy" dog had its head cut off.

In one of three break-ins reported in the Township, assorted jewelry valued at $2,900, including rings and pearls, is missing from the bedroom of a Snowden Lane home. No forced entry, say police, who placed the theft between November 16 and 24.

A home on Ewing Street was entered overnight last week, and again there were no signs of forced entry. Taken was some silver flatware from the dining room plus a few rings, a bracelet, a pin and two antique mugs. Total value: $1,945.

While the owner was home at the time in the opposite end of the house, a burglar kicked in the lower panel of a rear door to enter a Dorann Avenue home

Woman Fined in Court On Harassment Charge

Jill Savitt, 260 John Street, was fined $225 and received a 30-day suspended sentence to the Mercer County Correctional Center last week in Township court for harassment.

In addition, Ms. Savitt was fined another $30 for the Violent Crime Compensation Board and placed on probation for a year, on the condition she have no further contact with the complainant, Ted Hammond.

Peter J. Bearse, 110 Leigh Avenue, was fined $115 and had his license suspended for six months for no insurance, and was fined an additional $20 on a second charge of unregistered vehicle. Marie B. Marseille, 6 Shirley Court, paid $65 for a stop sign infraction.

In Borough traffic court Monday, Vito Armenti, 481 Ewing Street, and Barbara D. Hoisington, 155 Ewing Street, were each fined $75 for stop sign violations.

Speeding cost Gerald J. Muller, 739 Princeton-Kingston Road, $90, while Marsha K. Chellah, 279 Washington Road, paid $60, for improper turn.

Improper Turn Charged Following Two-Car Crash

Roberta B. Freedman, 35, 3 Quick Lane, Plainsboro, was issued a summons for an improper turn at a traffic control signal, following a two-car collision last week at Valley Road and N. Harrison Street.

According to the accident report by Ptl. David Leiggi, a Voyager van operated by Ms. Freedman was stopped near a grass median when it suddenly turned left in front of a small 1985 sedan traveling southbound on Harrison Street. The driver of the oncoming car, Nora D. Powell, 36, of Laurel

Kingston Man Charged In Tree Lights Theft

David Neumann, 27, of Ridge Road, Kingston, has been charged with the theft of three strings of tree lights from a tree in front of the Nassau Inn.

Police responded to a 1:43 call Sunday morning that some men were removing the lights. As Sgt. Charles Davall and Patrolmen Chris Boutote and Ralph Terracciano arrived they stopped a suspect leaving the area. The suspect made it easy; hanging from underneath his bulging black jacket was a green wire.

Neumann was charged by Ptl. Terracciano and later released, pending a court appearance here January 17.

Brian Newell, 28, of Nassau Street, has been charged with shoplifting at Davidson's Market. He was detained last week by employees of the store until police arrived.

Newell allegedly stole a carton of cigarettes, a bag of mixed fruit and some apricots worth a combined $15.58. Later released, he faces a December 17 hearing in Borough court.

In the Township, Percy Randall, 24, of Redding Circle has been charged by police there with three counts of resisting arrest and three counts of assaulting a police officer. He is currently being held in the Mercer County Detention Center in $30,000 bail ($5,000 on each charge) awaiting possible action by a Grand Jury.

Randall was seen Thursday

PMC Needs Students

Princeton Medical Center is seeking additional student volunteers.

Student volunteers help patients and assist the professional staff as couriers; maternity dinner assistants; helping staff the gift cart and gift shop both at Merwick and in the hospital; delivering menus to patients; staffing the information desk; helping on the nursing units; in admissions, in physical therapy and as discharge couriers.

To qualify, students must be at least 14 years old, possess a good school record and be available to work at least six hours each week. Volunteer assignments are scheduled either after school (3-6 p.m. or 6-9 p.m.) or weekends.

A special training and orientation class will be held on Tuesday, December 30 from 9:30 to noon.

For more information and registration materials call the Medical Center at Princeton Volunteer Office at 734-4589 before December 19.

afternoon on Witherspoon Street by police who attempted to arrest him on a contempt of court warrant from the Borough. After a short chase, he was apprehended behind Taggart's Garage by Sgt. Anthony Gaylord, Ptl. David Leiggi and Ptl. John Buszko.

According to Lt. Samuel Bianco, Randall put up a struggle in resisting arrest and each of the officers charged him with assault.

A 22-year-old Lawrenceville resident, John S. Whitehead, has been charged by Township police with possession of a stolen bicycle.

Police report that last month, Whitehead was riding on Rosedale Road at 2 in the morning when he saw a car approach. Thinking it was a friend, he kept waving at the car. When Whitehead realized it was a patrol car, he threw the bicycle in the weeds as the car slowed.

A check by the driver, Ptl. Stephan Hogancamp, with Borough and Township police revealed no bicycle theft at the time. However, a further investigation revealed that the bike had been stolen the previous day from the Princeton University campus.

Campus Is Fertile Spot For Active Thieves Here

If there were no university campus, would Borough police begin to feel like the Maytag repairman?

Once again, in thefts last week the campus was the most popular area. A student lost his $150 London Fog winter coat — and his check book — when he left it unattended last week for an hour in a coat room in the Elm Club on Prospect Avenue.

Another student left her purse and luggage last week on a sofa in the Tower Club living room. When she returned 20 minutes later, her green wallet containing $40 had been removed from her purse.

While another student was sleeping on a couch in the basement of the Campus Club between 6 and 11:30 Sunday morning, he placed his wallet beside him. When he awoke, his wallet and $20 were gone.

There were two thefts at Dillon Gym. On Monday, a student left his corduroy pants on the gym floor while playing ping-pong. That was all the invitation a thief needed to steal his pants, which contained his wallet. Inside the wallet was $150.

A Lawrenceville resident, while working out in the gym last week, left some jewelry in an exercise room. That oversight cost her a pearl ring, valued at $250, and a $150 Seiko watch.

A resident of Somerville left her pocketbook in an unlocked locker last week at the YWCA. Inside were her eyeglasses, makeup, personal items and $2, for a total loss of $164.

Stolen from the media audio-visual office at Princeton High the day before Thanksgiving was an Apple IIc computer keyboard and built-in disc drive valued at $800. No forced entry, no suspects, say police.

An unlocked, 10-speed Schwinn bicycle, left outside a Witherspoon Street store on Saturday, was stolen between 9 and 10 in the evening. The victim is a Township resident.

Two cars parked on Nassau Street near Chestnut early Saturday morning were entered, but nothing appears to have been taken in either instance.

Approximately 10 articles of women's clothing were removed from, and strewn outside of, the 1982 Plymouth of a Borough resident. Police said a driver's side window had been smashed to enter the car.

The 1979 Audi of a Borough resident was entered without force and its glove compartment ransacked. Again, nothing was taken.

Township police report the theft last week of two radar detectors from parked cars.

While the 1980 Datsun of a Somerset resident was parked at the Rusty Scupper restaurant on Alexander Street, someone smashed a window and removed a $350 detector. Also stolen were a Seiko watch valued at $250 and two blouses valued at $40. Police report the last items were gifts.

The same day, a $360 detector was stolen from a Princeton resident's car while it was parked near the Super Fresh Market in the Princeton Shopping Center. The car windows were rolled down half-way.

What made this theft unusual, said Lt. Samuel Bianco, is that it was done with the presence of a German Shepherd dog inside the car.

'Special Needs' Program Set by Recreation Dept.

The Mercer County Park Commission has hired a therapeutic recreation specialist to develop recreation programs for the special needs children of school age in the County. Theresa M. Veit-Harmening, a graduate in therapeutic recreation from Temple University, will coordinate the Youth Equipped Satellite Service (Y.E.S.S.) for recreation.

Some programs will start during the month of January. Program offerings will relate to the most urgent needs of the children, as determined by parental replies to a needs survey. The survey was recently distributed to all school districts in Mercer County. All children who have been designated by their district as having "special needs" are eligible.

The Y.E.S.S. for recreation program is seeking interested persons to volunteer time or expertise for programs throughout Mercer County. Program leaders are also needed. For further information or an application, call 989-6531.

Report by Demographer Heard by School Board

A preliminary report by a demographer hired by the Princeton Regional Board of Education has confirmed the soundness of the Board's historical method of projecting enrollment through a formula based on births at Princeton Medical Center.

However, the final report will show three or four variations of these projections, each to focus on a "what if" scenario. One such scenario might be, "What if Mt. Laurel brought in X number of students?"

The demographer, Dr. Lloyd Bishop, is being paid $10,000 to prepare a report that will attempt to determine the number of students who might be expected to enter Princeton Regional Schools in the coming years. He is being assisted in the project by Philip Pitruzzello, who was one of the three consultants hired by the Board last year in its search for a superintendent to replace Dr. Paul Houston.

Board Member Marjorie Smith, who expressed some criticism of the preliminary report at its presentation last week, stressed the reasons the Board wants up-to-date demographic information. "The elementary population has taken a great jump, adding up to 68 kids," she said. "That's three classrooms. If that trend continues, our concern is what is happening in the elementary schools. We want to know what's going on, whether we add classrooms or open schools."

In his final Board meeting before taking over as Montgomery Township's new superintendent of schools, Assistant Superintendent Jameson McKenzie pointed out that Princeton is getting 32-year-old joint career couples with $200,000 in income and with kids. He called it a "yuppie phenomenon," and said, "This is going against national trends, and we are getting [from the consultants] standard figures."

Board Member Corinne Kyle, pointing to a feeling of frustration with the presentation that she sensed among the Board, said she was concerned with the makeup of new families coming in. Dr. Bishop said there is no source of determining what will happen in five years to any given home.

Dr. Bishop said that the preliminary figures distributed to the Board were close to the final projection. "It probably won't change very much. Projecting enrollment is not an exact science."

One set of figures, called an "average forecast," showed an enrollment in Princeton Regional of 2598 in 1996-97, compared with the current school population of 2288. The Princeton Regional Schools' Long Range Plan, published in 1983, predicted a continuous decline in the school population, suggesting there might be as few as 1654 students by the year 2000.

A profile of the Princeton Borough could be glimpsed among the tables of statistics prepared by the demographers. For example, household size in the Borough dropped from 2.46 to 2.20 between 1970 and 1980, while household size in the Township dropped from 3.26 to 2.67 in the same period.

The population density of Princeton Borough was 7179 per square mile in 1984; it was 867 per square mile in the Township. The Borough's 1.8 square miles are 96 percent developed, while the Township's 16.3 square miles are 67.7 percent developed.

In the Borough, owner-occupied housing in 1980 accounted for 41 percent; renter-occupied was 59 percent. Comparable figures for the Township were 65 and 35 percent.

The total number of housing units went from 3,274 in the Borough in 1970 to 3,365 in 1980. The Township went from 4,263 to 5,068 during the same period.

In 1985, the Borough issued six permits for construction of single-family homes. In that same year, the Township issued 64.

Holiday Event Saturday To Benefit Lewis School

The Lewis School of Princeton will hold a Holiday Bazaar Saturday from 10 to 5. Crafts and gifts will be available, and there will be a Santa's Corner, white elephant booth, children's workshop, and holiday garden with silks, plants, and greenery.

Luncheon will be served from 11:30 to 3 and snacks will be available throughout the day. Homemade cakes, breads, pies, and candy will be sold.

Proceeds will benefit the Lewis School Scholarship Fund, which assists dyslexic youths in obtaining educational help. The school is located at 39 Magnolia Lane.

For further information, call 924-8120.

Workshop Will Focus On Long-Range Planning

The Board Member Institute of New Jersey will present a workshop on "Planning for Your Organization's Future" on Thursday at Bramwell House of the YWCA.

The workshop for volunteers and staff of area non-profit organizations is the sixth in a Management Seminar Series sponsored by the Princeton Area Council of Community Services, United Way-Princeton Area Communities and the YWCA.

Elin Mueller and Fran Trivisano, volunteer faculty members with the Board Member Institute who serve as trainers, facilitators and consultants with non-profit groups, will teach participants a process for conducting strategic planning for their organizations. They will discuss developing mission statements, setting goals and

Basement Fire Erupts In Allen's Store Monday

A fire that started at 134 Nassau Street, in the basement of Allen's Children's Store, Monday morning caused minor structural damage, filled the first floor with smoke, and forced the store to close for the day.

The cause of the fire has been blamed on a doll that fell off a shelf in the basement, landed beside a furnace and ignited. The fire spread to an adjoining wall, cabinet and door frame and up the staircase.

Ten people had to be evacuated from the store and apartments above the store, but no one was injured.

Sgt. Charles Davall and Ptl. William Nathan responded to a call from clerk Liz Martini, who reported the fire shortly after the store opened at 9. Finding heavy smoke in the basement, the officers attempted to extinguish the blaze with equipment from their patrol car and from the store. "They were able to knock the fire down but were unable to completely extinguish it," said Capt. Thomas Michaud. A general alarm was sounded at 9:07.

Registration Is Announced For YWCA Winter Session

Registration for the courses and programs offered at the YWCA for the winter session is on Saturday from 8:30 to noon and on Monday from 9 to 7. Registration will continue on a space-available basis.

Many holiday happenings are in December. Youth can join parents in sightseeing in Manhattan, making crafts, cooking "chocolate yummys," building gingerbread houses or having lunch with Santa.

The up-coming session offers new courses as well as a full program in aquatics, gymnastics and fitness. Most winter courses run from January 5 through March 7.

Aquatics highlights a multi-level program in national Red Cross instruction. Offered for the first time is the Pre-Red Cross class for girls and boys four and five years old who can swim but are too young to handle large groups. The adult aquatic program reaches those of all abilities and features Water Aerobics A.M. and the Water Safety Instructor course.

Gymnastics begins at four months of age in "Creepy Crawly" class, progresses through many levels of ability, niques to be used at home with the gymnast.

The fitness program schedules early morning through evening sessions for men and women in aerobics, exercise, dance and specialty exercise for individuals with special interests and needs. A "YW Weigh" and a walking group are also offered. Dance classes are as diverse as country western and ballet, and there are seminars during lunch that target health and fitness concerns.

In the adult department, one can debate current issues, discuss books, improve one's professional image, understand teenagers, play a piano or take a trip. Special groups help widows, breast cancer patients, adult children of alcoholics and the elderly. A new "Women's Support Group" has been formed. Another program, serving the needs of women in business and industry (TWIN), begins a series of supper seminars in January.

The Artisans Guild, with their shop in the Bramwell House next to the YW, promotes the creation of artistic handwork through courses and workshops.

The YWCA continues to offer English as a Second Language from beginning to advanced levels. New courses in language are conversational Chinese and "Just Enough Spanish."

In the youth department, among the offerings for preschoolers are creative movement, story science and cooking. The popular Toddler Fun Club offers a relaxed atmosphere and flexible schedule that enables children to grow at their own pace.

Grade-schoolers can add to their foreign language and math skills or join tutoring sessions offered on Saturdays for sixth through ninth grades. There are programs in art and music, as well as such offerings as "Beyond Spaghetti," a course in international cooking. A new birthday party service is provided that may include gymnastics, aquatics or a choice of five themes. Among the courses for teens is Skills Training for Camp Counseling.

The After School program is an on-going activity for K through eighth-graders. Transportation is provided from public, private and parochial schools to the three locations housing the program.

Further information is available at the YWCA on Paul Robeson Place or by calling 924-5571.

This year's Christmas Candlelight Party will take place from 1 to 5 on Sunday, December 14, at Rockingham, Route 518.

Members of the Stony Brook Garden Club will decorate the rooms in the Colonial manner, with table and mantel arrangements, wreaths, and garlands, all made from natural material and various fruits, nuts and cones typical of the era. Club members will be dressed in period costumes and there will be authentic music and refreshments.

New Pledge to University For Jewish Life Center

Princeton University has received a $1 million commitment from an alumnus toward its proposed new campus Center for Jewish Life. The commitment comes from Michael J. Scharf, a metals company executive and 1964 graduate of Princeton. His gift will facilitate the design and construction of the Center, which will involve renovation and expansion of an existing building at 70 Washington Road. Total cost of the project is expected to be approximately $2 million.

The gift also replaces $750,000 designated for the Center by Ivan Boesky, who withdrew a $1.5 million pledge to Princeton after he was fined by the Securities and Exchange Commission for insider trading. The balance was to go to a new building for the Economics Department.

Mr. Scharf is chairman and chief executive officer of Edgcomb Corporation, the largest independent metals distribution company in the United States. At Princeton he majored in English and was active in various extracurricular affairs, including the American Whig-Closophic Society and the radio station WPRB. He graduated from Harvard Business School and currently serves as president of Park East Synagogue in New York City and a trustee of Yeshiva University.

Princeton's Center for Jewish Life is being designed by architect Robert A.M. Stern. It will include a chapel for worship, a kosher kitchen and dining hall, a library, and space for extracurricular activities, seminars and social events. As a university facility, the Center will be under the supervision of the Dean of the Chapel and Dean of Students, and its activities will be coordinated with the assistance of the Hillel Foundation.

Mr. Scharf has agreed to work with President Bowen, Dean of the Chapel Frederick H. Borsch, and Hillel Rabbi Edward Feld to raise the additional funds needed to complete the project.

The Entrepreneurial City Topic of Talk by Mayor

William H. Hudnut III '54, the mayor of Indianapolis, will speak on "The Entrepreneurial City" at the Woodrow Wilson School at Princeton University on Thursday. His lecture will begin at 4:30 p.m. in Bowl 2.

In a landslide victory in November 1983, Mr. Hudnut became the first mayor of Indianapolis to be elected to a third consecutive term. Under his leadership, the nation's 13th largest city has become known as one of the few major urban areas in the country successful in making the transition from the industrial era into the so-called "information age." Hudnut has overseen the renovations of the city's sports facilities and rail terminal, and has helped to foster further educational, cultural, retail, hotel, residential, and commercial development.

Nearly $1 billion has been invested in downtown Indianapolis since Mr. Hudnut began his first term in January 1976, and another $1 billion is anticipated before 1990.

Last February, Mr. Hudnut

United Way Is Offering Six Free Publications

The United Way — Princeton Area Communities has available a number of free publications that may prove helpful.

"At Your Fingertips," a reference manual, provides area information and referral numbers and a listing of toll-free 800 numbers that provide information on such issues as emergency services, housing/ utilities, substance abuse, and health services. It also includes a guide to services available from United Way agencies and labels to record important phone numbers.

"Child Care: What Every Parent Needs to Know" includes information on the types of child care that are available and how to choose from among them.

"School Age Child Care: Making the Right Decision for Your Child" covers issues and questions facing parents whose children are at home alone after school.

Also available are directories of child care, community services, and volunteer opportunities.

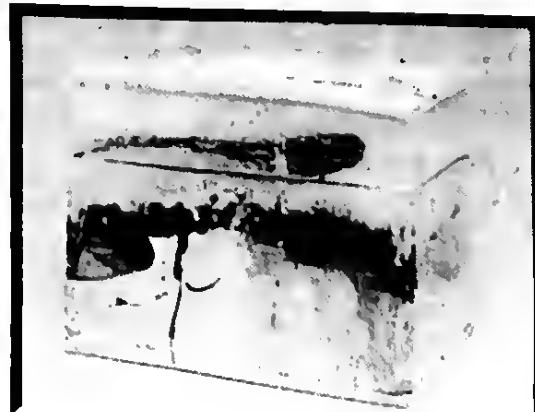

To receive a copy of any of these publications, call the United Way at 799-6639. They may also be picked up at the United Way office, 55 Princeton-Hightstown Road.

Holiday Classes Offered For Children at YWCA

The YWCA offers special holiday classes for children.

Holiday Potpourri for five- to eight-year-olds will focus on making gifts from herbs, including sachets, bath bags, pomanders, and herbal teas. In Fabric Works, six- to eight-year-olds will decorate T-shirts, make banners and other gifts using cold water dyes.

HOW TO BUY ANYTHING YOU WANT AND WRITE OFF THE INTEREST.

An act of Congress and a presidential signature have made home equity loans the only form of tax-deductible consumer credit for the future.

In response, New Jersey National Bank has designed EquiPower. It'll give you more than any other home equity loan. More deductions. More convenience. More for your money. More than anyone else. EquiPower interest is fully deductible.***

Including the interest on EquiPower's Gold MasterCard. The new tax laws rule out deductions for any other kind of credit card and for most consumer loans. But EquiPower is so flexible, you can use it for practically any purpose — and deduct all of the interest. We're the only bank in the state with a tax-deductible credit card.

$20,000 to $250,000 — and more — to use any way you want.

Imagine the possibilities of a credit line that can exceed $100,000. EquiPower can open them up to you. Use EquiPower to pay for a microwave or a Mercedes, new whitewalls or a house-full of thermal windows, a pedigreed collie or college tuition. No reason is too great — or too small — for an EquiPower home equity loan.

All that credit and a really great rate!

EquiPower's interest rate is a highly competitive Prime† plus 2%. Compare that to the interest you're currently paying on your credit cards — or on any other loan, for that matter. And we're also going to give you a great introductory rate: if you apply for an EquiPower home equity loan today, we'll make your first 90 days' interest rate the Prime Rate, currently 7.5% APR.

Your EquiPower gold card gives you money back.

On every purchase you make with your EquiPower Gold

MasterCard, New Jersey National Bank will rebate 1% of the purchase price. No other bank in the state can say that. So whether you buy a vase, a van or a Van Gogh — you'll get 1% back from the Red Circle bank. Your gold card is accepted at millions of retail locations. Or for instant cash at MAC® and Plus System® automatic tellers and at thousands of banking locations nationwide.

You can write yourself a loan with EquiPower Checks, too.

EquiPower Checks are like any other checks, but they're drawn on your EquiPower credit line. You can use EquiPower Checks wherever you'd use regular checks. And any way you access your EquiPower loan — by check or credit card — every payment you make replenishes your credit line.

Stop by your neighborhood branch.

Or call 1-800-542-LOAN.

All it takes is a few moments to get the EquiPower ball rolling. And just 5 days for a qualified approval. Shop around. You won't find another home equity loan like EquiPower: a tax-deductible loan with credit card and check access, a buyer's rebate, higher credit line and lower interest rate. It's probably the last loan — and the only credit — you'll ever need.

EQUIPOWER.™
YOU'LL EVER NEED.

Member FDIC.

An Equal Opportunity and Equal Housing Lender.

*Consult with your tax advisor about your particular situation.
†Discount to the Prime Rate is guaranteed for the first three(3) billing cycles (currently 7.5% APR). Subsequently, rate will become the Prime Rate plus 2% (currently 9.5% APR). Rate may vary with Prime. Annual fee of $50 will be waived for the first year. Offer good on applications received by January 31, 1987.

Volunteers Are Needed At Environmental Library

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association has been accumulating a wealth of reading material for an environmental library. During the past few years the library has been available for use by officials in the environmental field.

The library consists of a collection of books on environmental, conservation and natural history topics; periodicals; miscellaneous pamphlets and official municipal, county and state reports. To make the library more accessible to the public, the Watershed Association is seeking volunteers to help organize and catalog the collection. Volunteers need no experience, and anyone who can offer a few hours a week is asked to help out. For more information call 737-3735.

Discount Cards on Sale At Hopewell Ski Area

'Eminent Person' Here For Talk on South Africa

Dame Nita Barrow, the permanent representative of Barbados to the United Nations, and one of the "eminent persons" from the Commonwealth appointed to encourage political dialogue in South Africa, will speak about her insights into that controversial nation in "South Africa: Perspectives of an 'Eminent Person'" at the Woodrow Wilson School on Monday. Her lecture will be held in Bowl 2 and will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Dame Nita was officially recognized as an "eminent person" when she was appointed a member of the Commonwealth Group of Eminent Persons. The group's mandate, published in the Nassau Accord, called on the government of South Africa to "initiate, in the context of a suspension of violence on all sides, a process of dialogue across lines of colour, politics and religion, with a view to establishing a nonracial and representative government."

Over the course of six months, the group met with members of the South African government and significant leaders of South African blacks and developed a "possible negotiating concept" for opening dialogue between the government and the black majority. The group's final report, made public in June, 1986, concluded that the government was not prepared for fundamental change in the status quo in the foreseeable future.

Dame Nita (so called because she is a Dame of St. Andrews), a Barbados native, was asked to head the organizing committee of the Nongovernmental Women's Forum in Nairobi. Held in July, 1985, the forum brought 14,000 women from more than 150 countries to Kenya to discuss women's concerns and strategize for change worldwide.

Professional training and experience as a nurse and midwife early in her career and interest in nursing and public health led Dame Nita into work with the World Health Organization, for which she served as a consultant in 1981. From 1975 to 1980, she was director of the Christian Medical Commission of the World Council of Churches, Geneva, and from 1971 to 1975, she was associate director of the commission.

She was president of the World YWCA from 1975 to 1983. In 1983 she was one of seven presidents of the World Council of Churches.

Dame Nita Barrow

All-Day Job Fair Held At Rutgers University

Unemployed area residents are invited to an all-day job fair on Thursday at the Labor Education Center, Rutgers University, Ryders Lane. Hours are 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Representatives of area companies such as Bell Telephone, A.T.&T., Chubb and Son, Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital and Roche Biomedical Labs will join 40 additional firms to discuss job opportunities.

Employers interested in participating should call Dora Silverman at (201) 932-9603/9274 from 9 to 2.

Annual Reenactment Set At Washington Crossing

More than 6,000 people are expected to line the shores of the Delaware River this Christmas Day for the 34th annual reenactment of Washington Crossing the Delaware. It will begin at 1 p.m. at Washington Crossing Historic Park, Pa., when Revolutionary War troops will parade along the river bank before boarding 40-foot Durham boats for the crossing.

This year marks the 210th anniversary of the crossing. James W. Gallagher, a member of the board of trustees of the Washington Foundation, will portray General Washington.

Two Princeton Residents Are Featured Speakers

Stanley N. Katz and Mary R. Murrin, both of Princeton, will participate in the New Jersey Historical Commission's second annual conference, "New Jersey's Role in the U.S. Constitutional Convention." It will be held at the Radisson-Cherry Hill Inn on December 6. The commission is a division of the Department of State.

Dr. Katz will deliver the annual John T. Cunningham Lecture on "Constitutionalism and the U.S. Constitution." Ms. Murrin is a member of an afternoon panel on "New Jersey in the 1780s."

Dr. Katz was recently appointed president of the American Council of Learned Societies. For the past eight years he was the master of Rockefeller College and the Class of 1921 Professor of Law, Liberty and Public Affairs of the Woodrow Wilson School at Princeton University.

Ms. Murrin, who is a historical editor and a compiler, is research associate at the Historical Commission. Her publications include "The Henry Chauncey Papers, 1926-77" and "A Directory of New Jersey Foundations." She has edited the Commission's symposium papers on "Women in New Jersey History" and "Religion in New Jersey Before the Civil War."

Registration and luncheon are $20. For a brochure, call Constitution Conference, New Jersey Historical Commission, Department of State, 113 West State Street, CN 305, Trenton, N.J. 08625.

Two Programs Planned At West Windsor Library

A seminar on the Tax Reform Act of 1986, presented by the Individual Asset Planning Corporation, will take place at the West Windsor Branch of the Mercer County Library on Monday at 7:30.

The library has also scheduled a demonstration on "Cake Decorating with a Seasonal Flair" for Tuesday from 7:30 to 8:30. Betty Browning, a professional cake decorator, will present the demonstration.

To register, call the library at 799-0462.

Sam Kind Celebrates 30 Years with LaVake

Sam Kind recently celebrated his 30th anniversary with LaVake, having bought the Palmer Square store in 1956 from Myron LaVake, the grandson of the man who founded it in 1877. The shop then measured all of 700 square feet and boasted all of two staffers — Sam Kind and the watch repairman.

Now LaVake — after having taken over space from Miss Maas Candy in 1965 and Renwick's Restaurant in 1970 — measures 3,850 square feet and has 35 employees. "We grew like Topsy," says Mr. Kind, who had worked with his father in the family's jewelry store in Trenton before taking over LaVake.

Mr. Kind is planning to open a second LaVake store in September of next year in the new Forrester Center on Route 1. Why Forrester, we asked?

Sam Kind

"First," says Mr. Kind, "it will serve a slightly different market than downtown Princeton. Also, our corporate department has been growing tremendously and Forrester will be geographically close to customers. And parking will be easier."

He said the new store, which will be approximately 2,000 square feet, will probably be a center for corporate gifts.

The Palmer Square shop is also set for some renovations beginning in February. Departments will be shifted and new cases and carpeting will be installed — but the woodwork will remain. Also, the glass area of the Nassau Street windows will be expanded. "We will redesign every Saturday afternoon. But the store to make it better for customers and more workable for us," said Mr. Kind.

With the opening of Hamilton Jewelers just a block away, LaVake is clearly entering a more competitive climate. Mr. Kind says his store's response is to "try a little harder, increase the quality of merchandise, and try to train sales people to give better service and broader smiles."

He added that LaVake is not going to change its marketing plans in response to Hamilton's opening. "They will have competition and we will have competition. The extent of our inventory will probably be larger and have greater breadth and depth because this is at the moment our main store, and it's not their main store."

Mr. Kind recalls the Princeton of the fifties as a small town where LaVake would close every Saturday afternoon. But he says the quality of customer service has remained constant and extremely loyal. He feels fortunate in having been here for 30 years, and describes Princeton as the type of town "that can appreciate success through diligence."

general partner of The Landis Group, developer of Carnegie Center on Route 1 and Tower Center in East Brunswick, has received the Middlesex-Somerset-Mercer (MSM) Regional Council, Inc.'s Fourth Annual Community Development Award. Mr. Landis is the first developer to be so honored.

The MSM Community Development Award was instituted in 1983 as a means of recognizing individual leadership in community affairs, said Thomas M. O'Neill, chairman of the award committee. Mr. Landis received the award because of his sensitivity to human values and community needs in the design and development of Carnegie Center and Tower Center, Mr. O'Neill said.

Carnegie Center's 524-acre complex includes more than one million square feet of office space, the Princeton Hyatt Regency Hotel, the Princeton Post Office, a 27-acre greenway with amphitheater, jogging paths, outdoor cafes and sports courts and cages. A child care center, movie theater complex, shopping center and professional building are all under construction, and future plans include another two million square feet of office space and an additional hotel.

Hugh Stubbins, founder and principal of Carnegie Center's master plan architect, The Stubbins Associates, received a special citation from the MSM for his firm's involvement in the cohesive development of the center.

ing as exclusionary, as it was encouraged to do by the N.J. Supreme Court's 1983 Mt. Laurel II decision, and then sought to build 1,280 units on the property. Twenty percent of the units were to be set aside for lower-income families.

The litigation has been pending since February, 1984. In November of that year the Township adopted its affordable housing ordinance, and designated the tract RM (residential moderate density) where a density of 3.25 is permitted and 22 percent of the units must be set aside for lower-income families. The property has historical and environmental constraints.

At the meeting on December 10, the Planning Board is also expected to outline the "housing element" of the Master Plan which it will submit to the Affordable Housing Council by January 4. Revisions to the original affordable housing plan are expected, based on the lower fair-share number (275 instead of the 550 or more originally anticipated) assigned to the Township by the Council. Fewer RH (high density) and RM sites may be needed, since 140 lower-income units are to be provided by Princeton Community Housing on the Peterson tract, and there may be as many as 100 affordable housing units provided by Calton Homes under the terms of the settlement agreement.

Johnson Gift

ly was teased a lot by older brothers Woody (Robert W. Johnson IV) and Keith, as well as by his sister Libet (Elizabeth), but he developed a good-natured sense of humor and a resilience. When he fell off the roof of the fort their father built, for instance, it was a long time before anyone realized that Billy had broken his nose in the fall.

He went to Miss Mason's School and then to Princeton Country Day School. He used words very well, his mother remembers, and there was a uniqueness to the compositions he wrote for English class. From PCD, Billy went to the Rectory School.

He spent a year at a school in Florida before attending Lawrenceville for his sophomore and junior years. Billy spent his senior year at Princeton High School before attending the University of Arizona in Tucson, as Woody and Keith had before him.

He was interested in films and filmmaking and studied this art form at New York University before going to California, where he was going to pursue this as a career. His death in May, 1975 came just six weeks after Keith died of an overdose of cocaine in Florida. Their father had died five years earlier, in 1970, having been ill with cancer and other ailments for eight years. Also during this period, Woody broke his back and spent six months in the Rusk Institute.

Clear, Deep Water. Margen Penick, vice chairman of the Planning Board, calls the gift "the nicest thing that has ever happened to Princeton." Mrs. Penick says that test results by consultants have shown the water in the large lake and small ponds to be clearer, deeper and purer than expected, and to contain an unusual number of fish.

Were the land to be developed around the north, east and south sides of the large lake, as was proposed, construction would bring erosion and silting of the lake, she says. Landscaping would wash fertilizer, rich with nitrogen and phosphates, into the water, causing eutrophication, a condition which favors the growth of plant life at the expense of fish and animal life.

But in Mrs. Penick's view the gift is particularly important because the property is "so unusual" — unusual for the feeling one has of being in a remote and lovely place while walking through it. She says there are other properties on the open space map that have been "proposed" for future acquisition, but which may never actually be acquired, given the implications of the new tax law or the possibility of a recession.

The Township expects to "close" on the property before the end of the year. Negotiations are still pending for the re-purchase of the main house and six acres of surrounding land from the family that purchased it from Design Interface for $950,000. This acreage includes pool, pool house, tennis court and other outbuildings.

The Township was successful in its application for a Green Acres grant and loan totalling $1 million for the purchase of the property. Some of this money may be used for repair of the dams. And the Friends of Princeton Open Space are pledged to raise $250,000.

posed route: if the DOT insists that an interchange be provided in Princeton with S-92, shouldn't that interchange be at Bunn Drive, to serve the office-research zone, rather than at residential Mt. Lucas Road?

What should be the response to the proposed western relocation of Route 206, which would cut through the Ridge and affect Princeton Community Housing's development of the Peterson tract? In Princeton, the relocated Route 206 would join regular 206 not far from Ewing Street. Would that funnel additional traffic down Ewing and Harrison Streets to Route 1?

Frustration Expressed. Members of Committee, particularly Committeeman Bill Cherry, see the proposed Somerset Expressway from Route 287 in Piscataway to Route 206 as the principal cause for requiring a dualized Route 206. They feel frustrated, as Mr. Cherry expressed it, that the DEIS for that roadway is not due for several months, but that plans are going forward to build this highway without taking adequate account of traffic from the north.

Mayor Firestone was clear on one thing: she favored the "build" alternative rather than "no-build". "We consider the 'no build' alternative very bad for Princeton," she said. "We need to get trucks off Nassau Street and relieve traffic on residential streets."

She also proposed that Township Committee accept Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmond's invitation to meet with Borough Council Thursday night to see if the two municipalities could come up with a joint policy. Planning Director Duggan Kimball said that information from the Township's traffic consultants, Garmen Associates, would be available for that meeting. The computer modeling that this consultant put in place could provide a more accurate indication of the impacts of S-92 on Princeton streets than the DOT's own traffic studies, Mr. Kimball suggested.

Housing Concerns. The Princeton Community Housing board also met on Monday night of this week. According to Harriet Bryan, coordinator of the Peterson tract development, one of the proposed Route 206 relocations would cut right through the tract, making the plan to build 140 affordable housing units, subsidized by an equal number of market units, no longer feasible.

Another proposal takes the regional detention basin on the Arcaro tract that would serve the Princeton Ridge-Dravo tract and any development of the Arcaro tract as well as the PCH development. Thus PCH would have to eliminate some of the units in order to provide an on-site detention basin.

The economics of this development have been tightly figured, and removal of any units puts the rest of the proposal in jeopardy. Detailed site plan drawings are almost complete and would have to be redrawn, if the plan were to be changed. Moreover, as Mrs. Bryan notes, a major highway along the western side of the tract would decrease the price that could be asked for the market units — again throwing the whole plan in jeopardy.

The PCH board, therefore, will have a representative making these points at the hearing on Monday.

And Environment. On Friday, the Stuart Hill Association and the North Princeton and South Montgomery Coalition for the Environment will hold a meeting at 7:30 at Stuart Country Day School to rally opposition to what members describe as "DOT's inter-regional highway plan for our neighborhoods." Residents of Cherry Hill, Cherry Valley, Stuart, Jefferson and Arreton Roads, along with Montadale, Crestview and Balcort drives are expected to attend.

Many of these residents have been digesting individual volumes of the nine-volume DEIS and will be prepared to cite chapter and verse of what they view as inconsistencies and erroneous conclusions. According to Sandra Craig, president of the Coalition for the Environment, this group feels that, as proposed by the DOT, S-92 and westerly relocated Route 206 are too big in scale and swing too far south and west.

As do Montgomery residents, these citizens see the proposed highways as one link in an unwanted inter-regional highway network consisting of the Somerset Expressway, four-lane Route 206 and S-92/relocated Route 206. They favor an alignment of the four-lane highway further north and east, through Franklin Township, to provide a more direct link between highways in the Somerville area to Route 1 and the New Jersey Turnpike. In conjunction with this northeastern route, they favor a two-lane collector road on a mutually agreed-upon alignment along the Princeton-Montgomery border.

This, in effect, is the CARS (Citizens for Appropriate Roadway Systems) alignment, proposed by Montgomery and repeatedly rejected by the DOT.

"If the purpose of the highway is to alleviate east-west traffic," Mrs. Craig asks, "why bring it all so far west and south?" She is also concerned about the impact on the environmentally sensitive Ridge, which the Township has spent much money to protect through appropriate zoning and then defending the zoning in court. That money, in her view, would be "thrown right out the window."

Although she herself is "totally opposed" to the highway as presently proposed, she realizes that there are many in Princeton who feel it is necessary and that it will relieve congestion. But she herself doesn't think the present proposals will accomplish that end, and may serve to exacerbate, rather than relieve, traffic.

Montgomery Opposition. In Montgomery, Ken Barnhart, president of CARS and a member of the Montgomery Township Highway Committee, states his group's "complete opposition" to the roadway system proposed by the DOT. He has prepared an 11-minute speech for Monday's hearing in which he will ask the Federal Highway Authority to require the DOT to withdraw the DEIS on the basis of "mis-statements, omissions, and conclusions unsupported by the evidence."

He, too, will maintain that S-92 and relocated Route 206 are one link in an interstate highway system, and will cite claims made by Hillsborough to support a $13 million bond issue that speaks about "the unsurpassed highway system" providing a major corridor for 4,680 acres of mixed use, high technology, office development.

Says Mr. Barnhart to Princeton: "If you think you have congestion now, just wait until NJDOT builds this freeway through 4,600 commercially developed acres in Hillsborough and Franklin Township with interchanges on our joint border. Let's not fall into the trap of choosing which of NJDOT's schemes is less bad for one or the both of us. Both are devastating. Let's reject both, and demand that the DOT find an acceptable alternative."

It should be a lively, highly charged meeting Monday night.

Bulletin Notes

Twenty high school youth from Ireland, Chile, Israel and countries of Southern Africa will be the featured speakers at a luncheon Sunday at Nassau Presbyterian Church.

High school students are invited to attend the lunch and program co-sponsored by the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament. This program is the concluding activity for the group organized by "Children of War," an international endeavor bringing together young people from warring countries in order to build mutual understanding and peace. The group has been in the United States for a two-week conference in New York.

A public forum for all ages featuring the Children of War group will be held earlier in the day from 11 to noon in the Assembly Room of Nassau Presbyterian Church.

St. Matthew's Church, Princeton, will hold its annual Christmas Bazaar Saturday from 10 to 4.

Crafts, homemade gourmet items, fresh Christmas wreaths and a Secret Santa room where children and adults may select special items for gift-giving will be featured. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 to 1:30. All are welcome.

Princeton Seminary's Center of Continuing Education will explore the topic of the encounter between Christianity and other faiths on Monday from 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The one-day event will study the encounters and witness between Christianity and Hinduism, Theravada Buddhism, Mahayana Buddhism, and Islam. Leaders for the seminar are Edward D.A. Hulmes, professorial fellow in theology at the University of Durham in England; Charles A. Ryerson, associate professor of the history of religions at Princeton Seminary; Donald K. Swearer, professor of religion at Swarthmore College; and Mary Evelyn Tucker, professor in the department of history, Iona College.

The fee is $25 and includes both lunch and dinner. For further information, call the Center of Continuing Education 921-8198.

FOR THE CHRISTMAS FAIR: Lindsey Fraser, Anita Strazdins and Val Francis show off some of the hand-crafted items which have been prepared for Trinity Church's Christmas Fair, to be held Saturday from 10 to 4 at 33 Mercer Street. The fair will include a silent auction, a white elephant table, baked goods, Christmas Greenery and a luncheon.

Feminist theologian Rosemary Radford Ruether will address the Princeton Theological Seminary community on Saturday, December 13, at 8 p.m. Her address is being sponsored by the Seminary Women's Center.

Ms. Ruether, a Roman Catholic theologian who has written widely in the areas of feminist and liberation theology, has often been accused of being too critical of the church as an institution. However, her writings have given support to both lay and clergywomen as she has become a major spokesperson for feminism within religion.

Currently on the faculty of Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary in Chicago, she is the author of numerous books and articles on feminist theology, including Women and Religion in America, published in May 1986.

Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund will give a talk entitled "No Room at the Inn: A Question of Affordable Housing" at the Adult Forum at the United Methodist Church Sunday morning at 9:45. The public is invited; coffee will be served at 9:30.

The youth of Princeton Alliance Church have donated 1,100 pounds of non-perishable food to the Princeton area Red Cross. The donation made it possible for the Red Cross to meet its goal of boxing and distributing more than 150 boxes of food to the needy for the Thanksgiving holiday.

The forum begins a day of Advent observances that includes a service of Holy Communion at 11, a family craft session at 5 and a potluck dinner at 6. At 7, the Otterbein College Concert Choir will present "A Celebration of Advent and Christmas," performing works by Monteverdi, Dering, Gabrielli, Britten, Poulenc, Praetorius and Honegger.

All events are free and open to the public. A free will donation will be accepted for the concert. For details call 924-2613.

The choirs of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church and the Olivet Presbyterian Church of Easton, Pa., will combine to present a service of music for the Advent season Sunday at 4 at the Hopewell Presbyterian Church, 80 West Broad Street, Hopewell. Featured soloists will include Michelle Disco, Angela Gulik, Bonnie Heffner and Chris Sobania.

The first half of the program will include the singing by the combined children's choirs of the works of John Barnard, George F. Handel, Robert Leaf and J. Alban Henton. This portion will also include music for brass choir, for flute, for handbells and for voice. The second half of the program will consist of pieces by the English composer John Rutter.

Admission is free, and the public is invited.

Trinity Church will hold a candlelight service of Advent Processions and Evensong on Sunday, beginning at 4:15. The Trinity Choir of Men, Boys and Girls will sing special music for Advent under the direction of John Bertalot. The service will be led by the Rev. Bruce Weber.

The next Sunday platform meeting of the Princeton Ethical Humanist Fellowship will be held Sunday at 11 in the main lounge of the Mackay Campus Center, Princeton Theological Seminary. The guest speaker will be Dr. Barbara Raines, leader, who will speak on "How I Found Myself in Ethical Culture."

Recently organized to serve the Central New Jersey area, the Princeton Ethical Humanist Fellowship holds monthly Sunday platform meetings. Admission is free, and all are welcome. Refreshments are served.

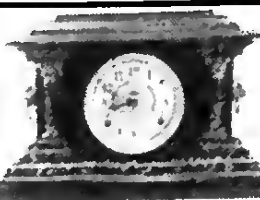

For information call Ted Schoenfeld, 655-8906, or Dick Reichert, 924-6492.

Brotherhood and Love for All Mankind," will start at 4. The keynote speaker will be Brother Harold Sims, former vice president for Johnson & Johnson Products.

Founded at Cornell University, December 4, 1906, Alpha Phi Alpha was the first Black college fraternity. More than 100,000 men have been initiated into the fraternity since the founding, and there are now 350 college chapters and 350 alumni chapters.

The women of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church will hold a Holiday Fashion Show Saturday from 4 to 6 at Community Park School.

The show will benefit Women's Day 1987. The donation for adults is $4, and $2 for children under 12. Marsha Winston is the chair of this event. The Rev. David B. Cousin is pastor.

The next lecture in the current series sponsored by St. Paul's Church, St. David's Parish and the Aquinas Institute will take place Thursday, December 11, when Prof.

Paul Sigmund of the Politics Department at Princeton University will speak. His topic will be "Liberation Theology in Latin America: Democracy or Revolution?"

Prof. Sigmund specializes in political theory and Latin American politics. Author of several volumes on Latin America, he is currently completing books on Chilean politics and on liberation theology in Latin America. He is director of the Latin American Studies Program at Princeton and a faculty associate of the Center of International Studies.

He has taught at Harvard and Bryn Mawr and at universities in Chile and Ghana.

The Women's Division of the Jewish Center will meet Monday at 8.

Rabbi Melvin Glazer will speak about "The December Dilemma," how Jews "celebrate" Christmas. Among the topics for discussion will be, should Jews give presents to Christian friends, send children to Christmas parties and decorate the neighbor's Christmas tree?

For more information, call the Jewish Center at 921-0100.

The Separated and Divorced Catholics Support Group will meet at St. Paul's Church on Monday at 8 in the school cafeteria. Father Dave Hillier from St. Paul's will speak to the group on "Dealing with the Holidays."

Interested persons are invited. For further information, call Carol at 896-3456.

A Christmas Bazaar will be held Sunday from 9 to 4 at the Consolata Mission Center, Route 27, Somerset.

Continental breakfast will be served from 9 to 11. Hamburgers, hot dogs, chili dogs and French fries will be available from 11 to 4. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will be there to welcome children.

Home-baked cakes, pies and cookies will be offered as well as homemade candies. Handmade crafts, golden elephant items, toys and plants are some of the gifts that will be offered for sale.

Memo to Princeton area consumers:

ROOFING DISCOUNT COUPON ALERT

It has come to our attention that our Consumer Bureau Registered insignia appears on the face of a discount coupon recently circulated in Princeton in the name of Nassau Roofing Division of Nassau Construction, Inc.

We make no judgment as to the competence or dependability of this firm, but under the circumstances, and in order to protect the integrity of our Register, we feel obliged to state publicly that Neither Nassau Roofing Division nor Nassau Construction, Inc., are in fact listed on our Consumer Bureau Register.

Business firms listed in our Town Topics WHO'S WHO page and in the Safer Consumer Bureau Registered yellow pages of The Princeton Community Phone Book are all listed on our Register when each of these publications goes to press.

The way to learn whether any business firm you have in mind is on our up-to-date unpublished Register* is to call us Mondays through Fridays between 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. at (609) 924-0737.

A WEEKEND AT VICTORIA ROW

The black Porsche rolls down Humbert Street and turns into the driveway. The garage door opens automatically and in glides the car. He enters the foyer and looks up towards the roof through the skylight. The crystal clear evening sky is filled with stars. Ah, Friday night, perfect for relaxing at home. She is in the family room pouring his vodka at the wet bar. A fire is blazing in the fireplace, the weekend has begun.

Saturday morning, after a relaxing bath with a skylit view, they walk to breakfast in town. She has some shopping to do, last minute details for tonight's dinner party. He is to pick up the wine. They love to entertain and they love living in Princeton, particularly now that they are able to walk to everything.

Back at home, party preparation begins. She is an excellent cook and the kitchen is perfectly designed for her entertaining style. The guests arrive at 8:00 p.m. Cocktails are served on the balcony overlooking their private yard. Every detail of their home is a reflection of their impeccable taste. The oak hardwood floors are covered with beautiful rugs that they acquired while living abroad. The large windows enhance their exquisite furnishings and objets d'art. The guests are seated for dinner in the formal dining room which overlooks the living room. The focal point is a magnificent portrait of them hanging over the fireplace. Another successful evening!

Sunday morning, newspaper and coffee in the greenhouse breakfast nook. Maybe a stroll through the university would be pleasant. It's nice to know there's a full day ahead to enjoy life in Princeton at Victoria Row.

Much in demand and hard to come by are the rare and lovely old Steadman houses, built in the early nineteenth century by Princeton's master builder-architect. Known for the pleasing proportion and classic detail, this one once owned by John Grier Hibben, 14th President of Princeton University, is located on a western borough street, a short walk to town. Renovated this year the house has a very gracious large living room and dining room in addition to a library with beamed ceiling, and a parlor — all with working fireplaces. A master bedroom suite with enormous dressing room and new bathroom shares the second floor with two other corner bedrooms, a sewing room and bath. Four bedrooms and a bath make perfect guest rooms or a hideaway spot for teenagers. Lovely and mature plantings surround the brick terraces which overlook a very deep back lawn.

PRETTY BROOK ROAD

And a pretty brook it is as it flows gently beside this picturesque road in western Princeton. A winding drive shaded by tall trees leads to this sparkling white colonial which is big and beautiful. A dramatic two story foyer opens to the gracious front to back living room with French doors to the garden, formal dining room, superb kitchen with charming family room, large panelled family/entertainment room with fireplace, opening to huge deck, den, laundry and lavatory on first floor. Two luxurious master bedrooms and baths, three other bedrooms and hall bath on second.

$745,000

HUMBERT STREET

Discover this interesting street in midtown Princeton! Still a neighborhood of long time owners and some of their children, investors are finding that the location on a one way street in walking distance of town appeals to prospective tenants as well as owners. This half a duplex offers three rooms, kitchen and bath on first floor. Two rooms, kitchen and bath on second. Two rooms and bath on third. Could be converted to single house.

$185,000

PROVINCE LINE ROAD

Long, low and lovely and built of soft-toned brick, this exceptional house offers the generous space of more than 3000 sq. ft. with the convenience of one floor living. Three plus beautiful acres of tall trees and flowering plants make a delightful setting for this charming house and a tennis court. The gracious living room, handsome library, each with fireplace, the sunny breakfast area and the luxurious master suite all overlook the large terrace and the woodland beyond. Built for expansion

$595,000

RUSSELL ESTATES

Handsome new houses adapted to your lifestyle in exclusive Edgerstone. Due to the outstanding response to these exceptional houses, the number of available properties is becoming increasingly limited. On 85 beautiful acres, open space includes a tennis court and trails for jogging and bicycling.

From $505,000

PLEASANT VALLEY ROAD

Royal Crest Farm — A horseman's dream come true! Ten plus beautiful acres in the rolling countryside of Hopewell Township with picturesque fenced pastures, sixteen stalls, outdoor ring, magnificent indoor ring with viewing room, tack room, etc. — and to complete the picture, a charming house with a view! The inviting hall opens to the living room with fireplace (hand painted tiles) adjoining sunroom and delightful country kitchen with second fireplace and beamed ceiling, opening to a deck with a Jacuzzi. A bedroom and bath complete the first floor. Two spacious bedrooms with dressing room and bath on second. Huge finished basement with more than ample room for recreation and hobbies and hall bath.

$895,000

WIGGINS STREET

A rare opportunity - a four unit apartment house in mid-Princeton just a stone's throw from Nassau Street. The two first floor units have three rooms, kitchen and bath. The two second floor units are expanded to include the third floor. A special feature is the separation of all services including the heating systems. Live in one and rent the others or rent them all - either way, sit back and enjoy their investment appreciation.

BOUDINOT STREET

This exquisite Dutch Colonial replica is one of the most admired houses in Princeton's Western Section. A center hall divides a spacious living room with fireplace with antique mantel trim and formal dining room with twin corner cupboards. Further, there is a convenient modern kitchen with up-to-date appliances and powder room. On the second floor, an ample master bedroom 13'4 x 23'4 plus two other bedrooms and two bathrooms. Lovely porch and patio overlooks manicured fenced and walled garden. Occupancy September, 1987.

PROVINCE LINE ROAD

This stylish Colonial has just been completely returbished with most everything new — roof, electrical service, central air, kitchen and much more. The spacious floor plan now has entry hall, living room, dining area, study, powder room, pantry and new kitchen. Upstairs, there is a master bedroom w/new master bath w/skylight plus two other bedrooms and two baths. All sited on a lovely two acre plus wooded lot with new driveway, new landscaping, new split rail fencing and patio. Located in the best of two worlds — a Princeton mailing address and Lawrence Township for low taxes.

$490,000

STUART ROAD AREA

This skillfully designed contemporary is sited on two plus very private wooded acres within short distances of Stuart and PDS. Architect Thaddeus Longstreth has blended brick, glass and cedar to make an eye-pleasing light-filled house with a passive solar aspect and an efficient, comfortable floor plan. A gallery like entry hall w/slate floor and decorative pool leads to a well proportioned living room with fireplace, brick dividing wall, bookcases, and sliding doors to an outside patio. Beyond is the dining room with a wall of cabinets and adjoining is the family room with a built-in brick barbeque and sliding doors to another patio. The kitchen is bright from large windows and has ample counters and cabinets plus breakfast and laundry areas. The bedroom wing with many skylights has a master suite w/adjoining dressing room and bath plus three other bedrooms and bath. Partial basement, carport with storage.

$560,000

PROSPECT AVENUE

This Handsome Hillier Contemporary is marvelously located in Princeton Borough within walking distance of town and University. Screened for privacy by a matching fence, the stunning glass and cedar exterior encloses a most convenient floor plan. An entry hall, well proportioned living room 14'8 x 17'9, formal dining room, modern kitchen, study or bedroom, master bedroom with bath, second bedroom and bath and all on one floor. On the lower level there is a family room 13' x 27' with doors to the garden and a powder room. A screened porch for outdoor living and a two car garage complete the picture. Central air.

$395,000

NOTICE

In compliance with a ruling of the State Supreme Court, all newspapers must ascertain that employment ads do not discriminate between sexes.

For example, titles such as "Salesman," "Nurse" and "Girl Friday" should be replaced respectively, by "Salesperson," "Nurse (M/F)" and "General Office Work M/F". TOWN TOPICS has a copy of the Division of Civil Rights booklet, "A Guide for Employers to the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination," and will provide assistance in the wording of all such ads upon request. Advertisers' cooperation is sought in meeting the requirements of the law.

New Listing

Spectacular — by definition — most unusual and exciting, as is the dramatic living room in this handsome Contemporary house in Princeton's western section. A complete circle with skylights in the domed ceiling and a curve of glass (overlooking beautiful grounds and a Sylvan pool) leave an arc of wall space to display one's treasured paintings. The kitchen-dining room is made elegant by the generous use of marble on counter tops and floor. A second living room offers informal space. The luxurious master suite has a spacious sitting room in addition to the master bedroom and both "his" and "her" baths. Three children's bedrooms share a bath and there is a powder room off the front hall. Built by a Princeton architect for his own use, the rugged materials make this exceptional house almost indestructible.

AN ELEGANT ENCLAVE OF JUST SIXTEEN COUNTRY HOUSES!

This is just one of the beautiful new designs by well-known architects available this very day for one of the exquisite lots still available at MANSION HILL. This particular blend of traditional design with classic details and materials contains a massive 32' living room, with oversized brick fireplace, enormous family/living areas, with expansive foyers and hallways.

Four bedrooms, three and a half ceramic tiled baths, and an extra large two-car garage, of course!

The name is MANSION HILL and MANSION HILL may well be the most wonderful place to live in the Princeton/Hopewell/Ewing area.

At MANSION HILL you will find a lovely, very private cul-de-sac winding from historic Wilburtha Drive to the Delaware-Raritan Canal. Each of the sixteen lots has had a custom house selected to fit the typography and views.

If you are considering Mercer County as a place to live and prosper, you really must pay a visit to MANSION HILL. Call your nearest Henderson office for details on this design or one of the other outstanding plans available for MANSION HILL. Or bring your own plans for review. But do it soon while there are still some sites available.

Area Software Company Seeks to Humanize Interaction Between Users and Computers

"A strange woman wants to marry you. A strange man is trying to kill you. The state of Texas wants you for murder. But that's not your problem. Your real problem is ... Amnesia."

So reads the back cover of the latest contribution to a new kind of adventure called interactive fiction. "Amnesia" is a full length novel published on two double-sided floppy disks. Without the graphics or joy sticks used in video games, the player wanders through the story by interacting with the text displayed on an Apple personal computer screen.

"Amnesia" was written by novelist Thomas M. Disch and published by Electronic Arts of San Mateo, California, but the program that enables the adventure to unfold was written by Kevin Bentley, president of Cognetics Corporation of Princeton Junction.

Cognetics was founded in 1982 when Dr. Charles Kreitzberg left the computers at Educational Testing Service, where he was a research scientist, to specialize in developing software for personal computers. The small company's software products span a variety of subjects from college economics course work to pharmaceutical marketing projects. "Amnesia," the latest commercial release, has received rave reviews from the computer magazines that evaluate new products for personal computers.

Lawrenceville Connection. The book's programming was begun three years ago by Cognetics programmer Kevin Bentley. True to the clichés that surround computers, Mr. Bentley, whose grandfather owned Bentley's Market in Lawrenceville, was a 19-year-old computer whiz when he began work on the project. At 21 he is putting the finishing touches on the IBM and Commodore versions of "Amnesia."

The story begins in a hotel room when the main character wakes up with total amnesia. The text stops and starts as the reader initiates the character's next move throughout the adventure. As the tale progresses, the reader learns about the character's complicated past life and wanders through New York City in search of clues to the past and the perilous future.

Reader commands such as "open the door" or "take the pen and leave" or whatever the player wishes to say, initiate a new sequence of events that follow logically from the actions taken. The adventure includes 4,000 separate locations in Manhattan, including 650 streets and the entire subway system. At the end of the adventure, a scoring system awards points for character development, survival and solving the mystery.

"One of the features that makes Amnesia such an ambitious project is the size and quality of the language handling," commented Dr. Kreitzberg, the creative director of the project. "Amnesia understands a vocabulary of over 1,700 words. The parser is very sophisticated and can understand many variations in the way that sentences are constructed. It is in the sophistication of the parser that the art of programming and the art of writing come together."

In fact the demands of the game were so complex that a new computer language was invented by the programmers.

Decisions, Decisions! "Interactive fiction is a new form of entertainment which has become possible because of personal computers," said Dr. Kreitzberg. "Throughout the game the player must constantly decide what to do next and these decisions affect the way that the plot unfolds."

In a conference room opening on to a maze of small offices that make up Cognetics headquarters, various Cognetics software packages are on display including "Computer Preparation for the SAT," the first computer program developed for students preparing to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test, and a math skills series for elementary school children.

"Creating a program that six year olds can use is a tremendous challenge," commented Dr. Kreitzberg, nodding to the colorfully packaged software for young children. "How do you communicate and create an interaction with a six year old who can't even read?"

"A lot of people think of software as a very technical field. The vast majority of software

SHAKESPEARE IN THE CHAPEL: David Zabel and Lynn Haaland rehearse "Measure for Measure" to be presented by Princeton University's Program in Theater and Dance at the University Chapel this weekend and next.

News of The THEATRES

Chapel Will Be Setting For Shakespeare Play

Measure for Measure, one of Shakespeare's strangest and most controversial plays, will be presented by Princeton University's Program in Theater and Dance at the University Chapel, opening Thursday. Directed by faculty member Carol Elliott, Measure for Measure will continue December 5 and 6, and again December 12 and 13 at 8 p.m.

Measure for Measure is set in medieval Vienna. Corruption permeates the city, so the Duke appoints a deputy to enforce law and order. The deputy's first act is to sentence to death a young man, Claudio, convicted of fornication. When Claudio's sister comes to plead for mercy, the deputy is so attracted to her that he offers to trade her brother's life for her virginity. What she decides sets the stage for an examination of justice and mercy.

Even as it explores such difficult questions of morality, Measure for Measure is also a comedy. With a light touch Shakespeare explores the underworld of Vienna to see how prostitutes, pimps and policemen cope with a new set of laws.

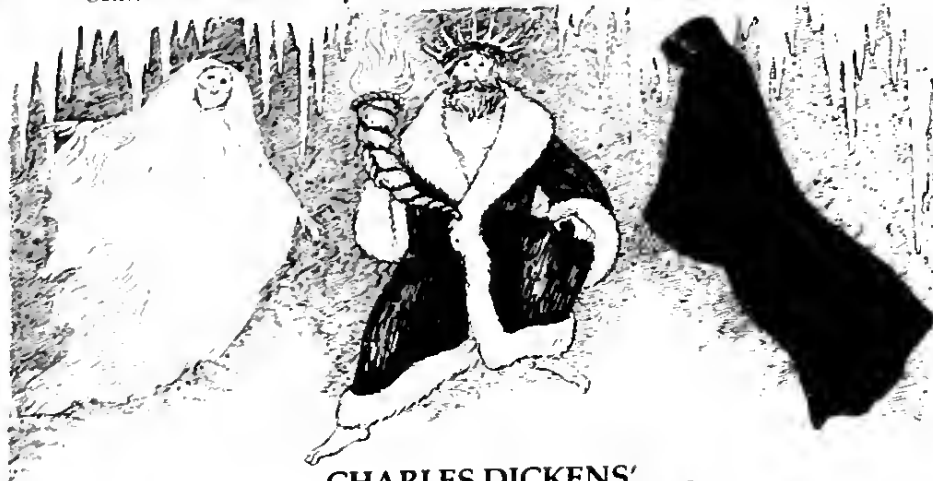

According to director Carol Elliott, the University Chapel is the ideal setting for a play that investigates issues of human and divine law, justice, mercy, sin and grace. The play will be performed in the chancel, with the audience seated on two sides, almost as if it were a jury. At various times the church will be transformed into a prison, a bawdy house, and back to a chapel, as Shakespeare moves his action through the layers of Vienna society.

Original music for the production has been composed by Julia White of Westminster Choir College, and program designers Isabelle Ring and Lisa Cameron have provided the visual elements necessary to create the medieval world of the play.

Tickets are $3, and reservations may be made by calling the Program in Theater and Dance, 452-3676.

Extra Performance Set For "The Nutcracker"

Princeton Ballet and McCarter Theatre have added an extra performance to The Nutcracker student matinee series. The four student matinees at McCarter Theatre have sold out.

The extra performance has been scheduled for Friday, December 12, at 11 at the War Memorial Auditorium in Trenton. By expanding the schedule, Princeton Ballet and McCarter Theatre will enable an additional 1,900 school children from throughout the state to see this season's The Nutcracker.

Tickets are $6, with one free chaperone ticket for every 20 ordered. Reservations are open to school groups only. For more information on this and any student matinee call 452-6133.

Musical 'Eubie' Due At Crossroads Theatre

The musical Eubie, a tribute to the jazz musician and songwriter Eubie Blake, will open Saturday at 8:30 at Crossroads Theatre, New Brunswick.

Eubie pays tribute to the man who was one of the first composers to break the color barrier on Broadway and who wrote music that ranged from ragtime to blues to spirituals.

Lee Richardson, artistic director of Crossroads, will direct. Bernard Marsh is choreographer, and Lillette Jenkins is musical director.

Casting Call for Musical

Auditions for Princeton Community Players' production of A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum will be held on December 17 and 18 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Triangle Broadmead Theatre, 171 Broadmead. Churchill Clark is the director.

All parts are open. Auditioners should prepare one song and bring their own music. An accompanist will be provided. No appointment is necessary; call 448-5643 for further details. Performance dates are February 13, 14, 20, 21, 27 and 28.

The show will run through January 18. Performances are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 8; Saturdays at 4 and 8:30; and Sundays at 3 and 7:30. Tickets range from $15 to $22, with student and senior citizen discounts on Sunday evenings.

Crossroads Theatre Company is located at 320 Memorial Parkway in downtown New Brunswick, adjacent to the Hyatt Regency Hotel. Parking is available in an attended lot at the corner of Hiram Street and Memorial Parkway for $1. For further information and ticket reservations call (201) 249-5560.

Dance-Theater Piece Due at Forbes College

The Echobow Company will present "Ho Eleusis," a theater-dance piece based on the Greek myth of Demeter and Persephone, on Friday and Saturday at 8 in the Forbes College Theater, 116 Alexander Road.

The performers are Ute Hensler, Eckhard Kiefel, Birgit Renkes and Anka Surber. Moshe Budmor is the musical advisor. Costumes are by Deborah Nathan and Diana Woodside. Earthcloth was designed and executed by Ilse Johnson.

Tickets are $6, students $3. Admission is free for Forbes College students.

For further information, call 737-0150 or write Box 348, Titusville 08560.

The Peddie Drama Club Set to Perform 'Oliver!'

The Peddie School Drama Club will present the musical Oliver! as its annual fall production December 4, 5 and 6 at 8 p.m. in Geiger-Reeves Hall, South Main and East Ward streets, Hightstown.

The show is based on Charles Dickens' novel Oliver Twist. Rewritten by Lionel Bart, it tells the story of the orphan boy who lands in Fagin's thieves' kitchen before he finally finds

Play About Deafness At West Windsor Library

The Rainbow Factory, a repertory group of young people who use the theatre to interpret deaf awareness in music and drama, will present The Clubhouse Christmas, an original holiday play, at the West Windsor Library on Saturday at 1 p.m.

Christmas songs interpreted in sign language and information about deafness highlight this play about a group of quarrelsome friends who want to raise money for their clubhouse.

The performance will run about 1½ hours. Interested persons may call the library at 799-0462 to register. The library is located in the West Windsor municipal town center at the corner of Clarksville Road and North Post Road in Princeton Junction.

PHS Scholarship to Gain From Ski Film Showing

The Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation will present the Warren Miller ski film Beyond the Edge on Friday at 7 and 9 p.m.

Ticket proceeds benefit Princeton High School seniors who have been accepted at colleges but whose personal resources do not quite cover their tuition expenses. Last June, 27 graduates received grants totalling $33,000. The Foundation hopes to make even more grants available this year.

Beyond the Edge is the 37th feature film by the well-known sports filmmaker Warren Miller. In it, Mr. Miller explores the edge where a skier's instinct for self-preservation is balanced against the urge to challenge one's limits.

Tickets are $3.50 for students and $5 for adults. They may be purchased at Princeton Nautilus and at the high school, where they will also be available at the door the evening of the performance.

Langhorn Ski Shop, Princeton Nautilus, H. Gross & Co., and Princeton Orthopedic Group are co-sponsoring the film. There will be door prizes the night the film is shown. For additional information call Harriet Teweles, 924-4439, or Eva Collins, 924-3708.

Dance, Drama Auditions For MCCC Arts Program

Dance and drama auditions for the Mercer County High School of Performing Arts are scheduled for Saturday, December 13, on the West Windsor campus of Mercer County Community College. Drama auditions will be held in the Audio Visual Theatre in room AV108 of the Audio Visual building, while dance auditions will be held in the dance studios in the Physical Education building.

Applications for auditions may be obtained from high school guidance offices throughout Mercer County or by calling the Mercer County

Drama auditions are open to all present 10th and 11th grade students from public, private, and parochial high schools. Dance auditions are open to all present 9th, 10th, and 11th grade students. This is the first time auditions are open to 9th graders.

Those individuals who never completed high school but can document progress toward obtaining their high school equivalency diploma are welcome to audition. Adults who have graduated from high school or college may also audition, but must attend the School of Performing Arts on a tuition basis.

The Mercer County High School of Performing Arts, a program of the Mercer County Vocational-Technical School system, is a time-shared school in which students split their days. They spend half a day at their high school and half a day at the High School of Performing Arts, where they earn 15 graduation credits per year.

The program is tuition free and includes transportation from the student's high school to MCCC's West Windsor campus.

Chamber Will Sponsor A Musical "Cinderella"

The Fanfare Theatre Ensemble of New York City will present two performances of their own version of the Cinderella legend Tuesday, December 16, at 5:30 and 8 at Princeton High School. The performances are sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the Princeton Area.

Founded in 1971 by the husband-and-wife team Evan Thompson and Joan Shepard, along with composer John Clifton, Fanfare specializes in live musical theatre for the whole family. The group has performed all over the Eastern seaboard and the midwest, in high school auditoriums as well as opera halls.

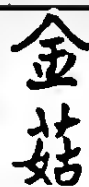

Fanfare Theatre retells the immortal story of rags to riches in a style that is said to be "imaginative but still traditional." John Clifton wrote the score and the lyrics, and Tom Tippet is the author of the script which reaffirms the endurability of the legendary fable about poor, mistreated Cinderella, her Prince Charming, her Fairy Godmother, and her selfish and wicked stepmother and sisters.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Tickets for children and students are $4, adults $6.

Jazz-Modern Dance Set In Dillon Gym Concert

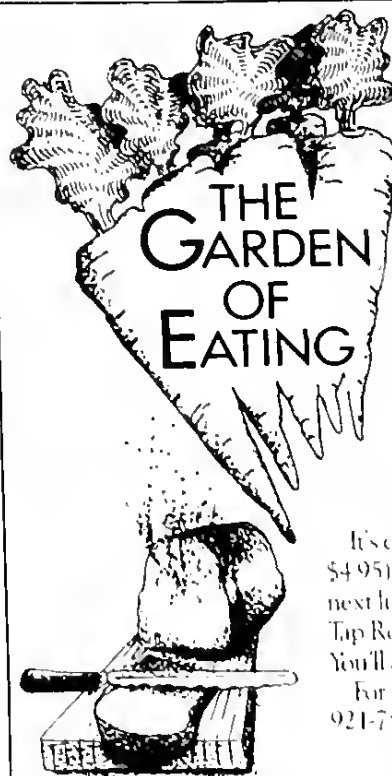

Princeton University's jazz-modern dance company Expressions will perform Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 in Dillon Gym.

Tickets are $6, $4 for students.

MUSIC

Role of 'Amahl' Played By Princeton Resident

William Georgantaa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aristides Georgantaa of Princeton Avenue, will perform the title role in Gian Carlo Menotti's Amahl and the Night Visitors when it is presented by the Princeton Opera Association in Trinity Cathedral in Trenton on Saturday. Performances are at 2 and 7:30.

Young Georgantaa played the role of Amahl a year ago at Thompson Memorial Church in New Hope, Pa. He is head choirboy in the Trinity Church Choir of Men, Boys and Girls and a recipient of the Bishop's Award last year. This summer he expects to join 100 young choristers chosen internationally to sing with 500 British choristers at the Royal Albert Hall in London when Queen Elizabeth will be in attendance.

FAMILIAR WITH THE PARTS: Both Nancy Jackson, who plays the Mother, and William Georgantaa, who has the lead in the Princeton Opera Association production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" at Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, have played the roles in previous productions. There will be two performances of the touching Christmas tale by Menotti on Saturday, at 2 and 7:30.

Nancy Jackson, soprano, who has performed the role of the Mother in Amahl and the Night Visitors will do so again on Saturday. Ms. Jackson has performed in operas and concerts in the Delaware Valley, the Opera Company of Philadelphia, Radio City Music Hall and the Cape Cod Playhouse.

Bill Parent will play one of the kings, along with Bill Baggett, counter-tenor, and John A. Howard. Tom Friedman, who studied at the Columbus Boychoir, will be the Page. Accompaniment will be provided by Sondra Wagner, pianist, Mike Spratlin, harp, and Jennifer Lehman, recorder.

Jeff Byrum will direct and Betty Beltz, president of the Princeton Opera Association, is the producer.

Tickets are $6 for adults, $5 for senior citizens, and $3 for children. Tickets are available at the door. There is no reserved seating.

Jazz Ensemble Is Ready For Concert on Sunday

The Princeton University Jazz Ensemble will perform Sunday from 3:30 to 5:30 in Richardson Auditorium.

The concert will feature two 17-piece ensembles playing music that will include Latin, straight jazz and rock. Conductor Richard DeRosa, who also teaches at the Manhattan School of Music, has arranged most of the selections.

NJSO Presents Preview Of New Chamber Series

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will give an open house preview party Monday, December 15, 6:15 to 8:45 p.m. at Richardson Auditorium.

The informal gathering will introduce the NJSO's new Chamber Orchestra Series with a short program of music by Haydn and Mozart. Guests will also be treated to a tasting of more than 30 wines provided by the New Jersey Winegrowers Association and a variety of refreshments, including imported cheeses and chocolates. Guests attending the party will have an opportunity to subscribe to the three-concert series and enjoy priority seating privileges plus a special package offering discounts at area restaurants.

The NJSO's premiere season of Chamber Orchestra concerts in Richardson will feature three programs in January, March and May of music of Mozart, Haydn, Rossini, Richard Strauss, Tchaikovsky, Stravinsky and Ravel. Hugh Wolff will conduct the January and May concerts, while Michael Pratt will conduct the one in March. Performers will include soprano Erie Mills, cellist Carter Brey and pianist Robert Taub.

Admission to the party is free. Those wishing to attend should reply to David Joseph or Katherine Marinovich at (201) 624-3713.

Musical Amateurs Select 'Messiah' for Sunday Sing

The December meeting of the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will be held on Sunday at 4 in the Unitarian Church.

The chorus and orchestra will read through the Christmas portion of Handel's Messiah. Interested singers who would like to sing along with the Amateurs are invited to participate. A modest fee to cover the cost of the scores and refreshments will be charged at the door. Orchestra musicians who would like to play should contact Rogers Woolston at 921-2478.

The Messiah reading will be under the baton of Walter Nollner, the director of music at Princeton Chapel. Soloists include Winifred Livesay, soprano; Lindsay Christiansen, alto; Jeffrey Stamm, tenor; and Donald Sheasley, bass.

Musica Alta to Perform Concert of Early Music

Princeton University's Musica Alta will present a program of early music for Christmas at Forbes College, Wednesday, December 10, at 8:30 p.m.

The chorus, with viols, recorders, sackbuts and shawms, will perform 15th-century English carols, settings of traditional tunes by Praetorius, lute songs and fantasies by Orlando Gibbons.

Ensemble Will Perform Advent Music at Rutgers

The Rutgers Collegium Musicum, a vocal and instrumental ensemble, will perform Advent music from the Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque periods Wednesday, December 10, at 8 p.m. in Kirkpatrick Chapel.

The ensemble comprises 25 singers and 16 instrumentalists who perform on period instruments including the lute, recorder, viols, crumhorn and sackbut. Selections will include Gregorian chants, 14th-century Florentine laude, 15th-century English carols sung in middle English, and seasonal music from Germany by Heinrich Schutz and Michael Praetorius.

Voices of the Collegium Musicum are directed by Frederick Urrey, while the instrumentalists are directed by Scott Whitener, both of the music faculty. The concert is free and open to the public.

For additional information, contact the Rutgers Arts Ticket Office at (201) 932-7511.

Program Is Announced For Orchestra Concert

Michael Pratt will conduct the Princeton University Orchestra featuring guest soloist Martin Butler, in a performance of Rachmaninoff's Rhapsodie on a theme by Paganini Op. 43.

The program also features Martha Elliott, soprano, in Mahler's Symphony No. 4. The concert is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, December 12 and 13, at 8:30 p.m. in Richardson Auditorium. Admission is free.

Mr. Butler is a native of Romsey, England, and is a graduate of Manchester University and the Royal Northern College of Music. He is currently on a Fulbright grant to Princeton where he is enrolled as a graduate student in composition. He has previously received commissions from The Cheltenham Festival and London Sinfonietta, and he was commissioned earlier this year to write a short opera, The Siren's Song, which was produced during the Summer '86 Festival in Heraklion, Crete.

DAVE BRUBECK HIMSELF at the piano, Tuesday at 8:30 in Richardson Auditorium, accompanying a performance of his musical setting of the Christmas story "La Fiesta De La Posada." The work will be sung by the combined Princeton Seminary Chapel Choir, the Westminster Singers and the Nassau Presbyterian Church Children's Choir. The second half of the program will be a jazz trio concert.

As a pianist, he has performed extensively in England as soloist and ensemble player, specializing in 20th century music.

Ms. Elliott graduated from Princeton in 1980 and continued her studies at the Juilliard School where she earned her master's degree. A resident of Princeton, she is well known to audiences here for her appearances with the Princeton University Opera Theatre, and for her roles of Susanna in The Marriage of Figaro, Zerlina in Don Giovanni, and Papagena in The Magic Flute with the June Opera Festival.

A 1985 winner of the Liederkrantz Foundation Scholarship award and a frequent oratorio soloist, she was heard in the December concert of the Messiah with the Princeton Pro Musica, and in Bach's St. Matthew's Passion at Trinity Church. She has performed with the Concerto Soloists of Philadelphia as well as given performances in Boston and the New Jersey-New York area. She is currently teaching voice at Princeton University.

Mr. Pratt has conducted the Princeton University Orchestra since September 1977, with a one-year hiatus in 1984-85. He also currently serves as the associate conductor of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, the artistic director of the June Opera Festival, and the co-director of the Chamber Ensemble at Princeton.

In the coming season, Mr. Pratt will make his debut with the Detroit Symphony as well as appear with the New Jersey Symphony Chamber Orchestra series in Alexander Hall.

Peace Concert Features The Paul Winter Consort

The Paul Winter Consort, the well-known jazz/classical/folk ensemble, will perform "A New Year's Concert for Peace on Earth" on Friday, January 2, at 8 at the Princeton University Chapel.

The concert is sponsored by the University Chapel and the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament. All proceeds will benefit the Coalition's Education Fund, which conducts research and educational activities.

Tickets are $10, $15 and $25. Anyone wishing to be a sponsor of the concert should contact the Coalition. Sponsors are invited to a pre-concert reception and dinner at Prospect House on the Princeton University campus. For further information, phone 924-5022 days.

Rutgers Groups to Offer Joint Christmas Concert

Holiday music will be presented by a joint concert by Rutgers University's Queen's Chorale, Glee Club and Wind Ensemble at 8 p.m. Friday at the Nicholas Music Center, George Street, New Brunswick. The free program is open to the public.

The Rutgers Queen's Chorale, a women's chorus, will perform Niccolò Porpora's Magnificat under the direction of Frances Slade. The chorale will be accompanied by members of St. Luke's Chamber Ensemble, artists-in-residence this year at the State University's Mason Gross School of the Arts.

As in previous years the concert will conclude with Leroy Anderson's A Christmas Festival, in which the audience is invited to sing Christmas carols along with all three performing groups.

Holiday Shopping in Full Swing with Area Stores Offering Bountiful Selection

December has arrived, and with it, holiday shoppers really get going. The Princeton stores have outdone themselves this season, and customers will find gift items in just about every category imaginable. Skis and ski apparel, outerwear, hiking boots, perfume, jewelry, household gifts, plants, collectibles, toys, dressers — and those special items unique to Princeton, such as Terhune's apples and cider and Thomas Sweet chocolate and ice cream.

With an emphasis on quality and service that has stood the test of time, Princeton shops are the place to be!

Peterson's Nursery and Landscaping has, for many years, provided area residents with high-quality plants, Christmas trees and wreaths. In the last few years, it has added a charming new tradition — its Christmas Shop. This has become a favorite of many visitors to Peterson's, who now look forward to seeing the variety of ornaments and Christmas decorations available.

Decorated by owner Charles Peterson's daughter Liz, the shop contains many Christmas gift items, including a variety of wooden, fabric, metal, glass and ceramic ornaments, from $1.95 to $3.25. There are nutcrackers at $25.99 and $39.99, and music boxes at $12.99 and $19.95. Small wooden decorative sleighs are $11, antique rocking horse decorations $6.99, and Christmas angel tree toppers are $10. Miniature Santos, candles in all shapes and sizes, and three-dimensional Advent calendars are also available.

IT'S NEW To Us

Holiday trays and pot-holders, Christmas stockings, Christmas tree skirts and table covers with holiday designs are also on display, as are creches and Nativity scenes and a great variety of baskets. This year, the Christmas atmosphere has been extended, with the placement of decorated trees and lights throughout Peterson's entire area.

Peterson's is known for its extensive and fine selection of plants. Holiday specialties are poinsettias, of course, and there are rows and rows of these, in red, pink and white, as well as gardenias for Christmas, cyclamen, Christmas cactus, Reger begonias, chrysanthemums and camellias.

There is a very large supply of ferns, including the Dallas fern, from $4 to $30. Like a philodendron, it doesn't need a lot of attention, and it's "really the ultimate house plant," says Mr. Peterson.

A tremendous variety of all kinds of house plants is available, from three to 24 inches, and there are very attractive large hand-made tile plant coasters. In two sizes, they are $46 and $50. There are ceramics of all types and styles from $1 up to $200, as well as brass containers. Another popular gift of the season is the miniature decorated Christmas tree. In different sizes with a variety of decorations, they are $6.98 and up, and perfect for a holiday remembrance.

Feed the Birds. Bird feeders are also welcome holiday gifts, and Peterson's carries a large supply of many styles. Plastic feeders start at $4, and redwood are $8 and up. There is a selection of bird feed and, of course, a complete line of gardening supplies and tools.

Christmas trees, wreaths, also starting at $15. Balsam, greens and roping are also Norway and blue spruce, and available in large quantities, white pine, among others, are with many live trees $15 and up available.

(small table size) and cut trees Mr. Peterson especially enjoys the landscaping part of his business and specializes in residential, creative landscapes. For the holidays, however, he did the gardens at the Quaker Bridge Mall, using an antique sleigh and concrete reindeer.

Gifts for Fun and Fancy

You're bound to be kissed, if you wear "Kissletoe"! Mistletoe is attached to a headband and thus always readily available when worn. It's $4 from Wit & Whimsy.

'Classical Footwear' for both adults' and children's feet are guaranteed to keep the toes toasty and at the same time provide someone with a dandy pair of slippers. In soft brown fur with large bear claws, they are $10 at Jordan's.

Also at Jordan's is a humorous selection of ceramic tile trivets with sayings such as "Hail to the Chief", "I'm Starting My Diet Tomorrow", and "The Secret of Staying Young Is to Find an Age You Really Like and Stick With It". (Snoopy). $10.

Other fun items at Jordan's include books such as "And What Do You Do?" An Answer Book for Homemakers, and When the Going Gets Tough, The Tough Go Shopping for $2.95.

If you or someone you know prefer to keep your hands clean when reading Town Topics, try The New York Times Newspaper Gloves. $10 at The Country Mouse.

A variety of concrete statuary, including large reindeer for $410, as well as frogs, deer, turtles, owls and gnomes in many sizes, starting at $8, is available and can stay outdoors year round.

The finest quality at very fair prices is Peterson's motto, and through the years people have come to know and appreciate this. Hours are 9 to 5 seven days a week.

Country Flavor. A variety of handcrafted items and fresh flowers is available at The Country Petaler, 61 Main Street, in Kingston. This charming shop, with its pronounced country flavor, has many holiday gifts and decorations.

MONTGOMERY GRAND OPENING

National State takes bold step into the future

At last there is a bank that listens to what customers want and need! The National State Bank has taken a bold step by creating an entirely new banking environment designed to make banking easier for everyone and to deliver extraordinary personal service.

Cathy Lipton, manager of the new Montgomery office, stated, "We designed this exciting environment after research told us that people are looking for a better way to do their banking!"

The new office is one of the first banking offices of its kind in the country.

Something new Something different Something better

When you visit the new office, you'll notice something very different. Instead of standing in line at the usual tall teller counters, you'll sit in a comfortable chair to do your banking. Something else is very different—the quality of service you'll enjoy. Lipton stated that "Our customer service team handles a wider range of services than traditional tellers. You'll be able to get up-to-the-minute account information—and even learn which checks cleared since your last statement. The promise of caring service that other banks make is fulfilled at National State. It's full-service banking at its best."

Personal Financial Center and Priority Service

You don't have to be a millionaire to be treated like one at National State. If you have as little as $10,000 on deposit in any combination of accounts (including money market, savings, IRAs and CDs), or can transfer that amount from elsewhere, you qualify for private banking at the Personal Financial Center—away from the busy bank lobby. You can do your banking in a private office with your personal account manager.

With as little as $5,000 on deposit with us, you automatically qualify for priority service. Your personal account manager will do everything possible to make your banking smooth, efficient and enjoyable.

Very Civilized Banking

It all adds up to very civilized banking. A perfect blend of new ideas and technology with the best of the past—the kind of courtesy and outstanding service that has given National State its reputation for quality for 174 years.

You will save time when you're busy, and have all the time you need when you want to take the time. You can bank at your convenience in person at our office... or by phone from your office, your home or your car. Use MAC®/Plus® machines for 24-hour banking—at over 5,000 locations across the country.

Safe Deposit Boxes
Available in all sizes.

Residents receive personal invitations

Special invitations will be sent out to area residents inviting them to stop by to meet the customer service representatives and enter the drawing for the free cruise to Bermuda.

Stop by soon!

Stop in and find out why so many customers insist that this is the only way to bank. Register for the free drawing, ask to see the WISH BOOK, and join in the celebration of the new office. Once you've tried this new kind of banking, you'll never want to go back to ordinary banking again!

FREE GIFTS and high yields for deposits

Browse through National State's WISH BOOK catalog and see the exciting variety of valuable gifts that can be yours, free, when you decide to open a new money market, savings account or certificate of deposit with a deposit of $5,000 or more. The larger your initial deposit, the greater the value and selection of gifts. Everything from fine silver and china to sporting goods, household appliances, tools, and more!

You'll be surprised to discover that, at National State, you won't have to sacrifice high yields for a free gift.

WIN a free luxury cruise for two to Bermuda!

Win a free luxury cruise for two to Bermuda, where you'll be pampered and treated like royalty for eight unforgettable days! To register for the drawing, simply fill out an entry form when you stop by to visit the new office. No deposit necessary. Lipton indicated, "The cruise is our way of giving you a taste of the kind of royal treatment you can expect to receive as a customer at National State."

The Country Gift Basket at $24.95 is filled with candles, potpourri and note cards, and is a suitable remembrance for a new baby, or to say "Get Well," "Welcome to the Neighborhood" or "Glad We're Friends." An herbal hot mat in a variety of colors for $13.95 releases a delicious aromatic fragrance when a hot dish is placed on it.

The Cat's Meow Collectibles, small wooden villages for the mantel or window sill, are an especially desirable gift. This year's set features Savannah, and is $29.95. Individual houses or fences can be sold separately and are $6.95. With some of the items, such as a gazebo and Cotton patch people ($19.95) remind us of long-ago times on Southern plantations when small children played with such dolls. There are also country checkerboards, lots of wall decorations and sconces, door decorations, folk art applique and a large selection of baskets and dried wreaths and candles.

Special holiday items include tiny Santas with packs, seasonal mugs, dish towels and a variety of wooden folk art — Santas, snowmen and Christmas trees. Delightful fragrances waft through the air at The Country Petaler as a potpourri cooker simmers. At $12.50, this is a wonderful way to create fresh fragrances in your home. poinsettias, cyclamen and flowering cactus.

In fact, flowers are a very important part of the store's business, especially at holiday time. Owner Jerrie Lodato is a very busy florist who makes fresh, as well as artificial and silk, arrangements.

With every nook and cranny filled to the brim with delightful country gifts, The Country Petaler offers not only a wide choice but a congenial and engaging atmosphere. As Mrs. Lodato says, "Country is a real, comfortable way to live. It's an old way of living that somehow provides a real, warm feeling."

Hours for The Country Petaler will be expanded for holiday shopping: Monday-Saturday 10 to 6, Thursday till 8, and Sunday 12 to 5.

Clothes for Men. A wide selection of men's apparel is available at Princeton Clothing Co. on Witherspoon Street. This fine store, a family operation, has been serving Princeton residents for nearly 76 years, and it offers a great selection of gift ideas this year.

Night shirts are popular, and there is an assortment in 100% cotton flannel authentic tartans for $22, and also pajamas from $20 to $22. If you need a robe to go with the pjs, there are also several in terry cloth and velours from $28 to $40.

Sweaters are one of the best gifts, and Princeton Clothing has all types and styles. The basic traditional crewneck of wool and orlon by Jantzen, for $28, is both machine washable and dryable, and comes in many colors, solids and patterns. There are also cotton sweaters, as well as sweater vests, in blends of orlon and wool in a variety of colors.

One hundred percent cotton flannel shirts are a traditionally favored holiday gift. From $20 to $22, they come in many plaids and with the patterns woven into the material. Turtlenecks are always needed, and they are available in poly and cotton, in many colors, at $17. Another good gift item at Princeton Clothing is the 100% cotton button-down Oxford for $26. Blends are also available.

What's Christmas without a tie? There is a full selection, including wool challis, pure silk, poplin and polyester from $10 to $17. Bow ties are fun, too, and regaining their popularity. They sell for $13, both untied and already tied, in a variety of colors and designs. Christmas ties are a big hit, and they are available with candy cane, trees, or Santa designs for $12.

Belts, Socks ... Belts are another holiday gift, and there is a variety at $12. If the man in your life prefers suspenders, there are several from which to choose, including paisleys, stripes and solids, with buttons or clips, from $10 and up. Argyle socks are a favorite for Christmas, and they're available for $5.50. Princeton Clothing's complete selection of socks includes Christmas socks.

Princeton Clothing also carries a nice variety of London Fog 100% wool hats and caps, which are also 100% waterproof. In Herringbone designs and different colors, they are $18 and up. Another waterproof cap is also reversible with black watch plaid on one side and navy on the other.

Sportscoats are a big item for Christmas, and there is a hand-woven Harris tweed for $185, as well as a pure camel's hair for $235, among many others. Plaid wool trousers, including the black watch and other tartans, are also popular now, and are $65. Other wool trousers start at $65.

There is a selection of raincoats with zip-out linings for $90, and a wide assortment of Woolrich thinsulate waterproof jackets and parkas for $110 in tan and navy. Shorter jackets are $80. Three-fourth length car coats for $100 and Woolrich duffle style casual coats with plaid linings for $140 are also available, and, of course, topcoats are in stock, with cashmere blends at $240 and others imported from Italy and England at $210.

Princeton Clothing continues to rent and sell tuxedos, with both regular dress shirts and wing collar shirts available. The shirts are $30 and the tuxes $275. There is also an extensive selection of suits from $235 up to $295, and Levi's blue jeans, regular or pre-washed, for $30, as well as such accessories as all-wool scarves for $16, a variety of gloves starting at $12, and umbrellas.

Gift certificates and free gift wrapping are available.

Sophistication at Merrick's. Sophisticated styles and personalized service are highlights of Merrick's on Moore, the women's clothing shop at 6 Moore Street. There is a wide variety of apparel at Merrick's ranging from dresses (casual to formal), skirts, blouses, sweaters, suits and slacks. Accessories, such as jewelry, belts, scarves and handbags, are also available.

For the holiday season, there are superbly elegant evening dresses, both long formal gowns and cocktail length, in a medley of colors and styles. Merrick's truly has an outstanding selection of these lovely dresses. Albert Nippon, Kathryn Conover, Nicole Miller and S.G. Gilbert and Raul Blanco are among the labels you will find.

Glittery tops are also very popular, and suitable for holiday parties and entertaining. Again, Merrick's has a distinctive variety, along with dressy sweaters. Sweaters and sweater dresses are a big Christmas gift item, and there is a wide variety, including mohair and angora in all styles.

Jewelry is always a welcome gift, and Merrick's offers an intriguing choice from sterling silver to handsome costume jewelry. One of the delightful aspects of shopping at Merrick's is the fun of opening special drawers filled with an array of colorful earrings, bracelets and necklaces. Other 'browsing drawers' are brimful of a variety of scarves.

Barbara Racich, owner of Merrick's, plans a special jewelry showing on December 4. Customers are invited to come see a large and varied selection, from costume jewelry to semi-precious.

Also on December 4, a holiday program is scheduled for men, from 5 to 9, and again on Sunday, December 7, from 12 to 4. Advice and suggestions for gifts will be offered to men interested in finding a special dress, sweater, jewelry, etc., for their wives or friends.

Merrick's is an especially attractive place to shop, enhanced by its understated and uncluttered decor and an expert sense of style.

A new addition is 'Baby,' a pretty black and white cat who adapted the store last year. Now a permanent inhabitant, Baby welcomes customers with a certain feline aplomb as she gazes calmly out of the window or silently investigates the merchandise.

Holiday hours for Merrick's are Monday, Tuesday, Saturday 10 to 6, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday until 9 and Sunday 12 to 4. Gift certificates and gift wrapping are available, and there are special holiday sales on suits, blazers and skirts.

For the Gourmet. "When we buy something, we try to get the best," says Carl Andersen, owner of Bon Appetit in the Princeton Shopping Center. "Quality is most important to us."

For 19 years, this favorite gourmet shop has been offering a variety of quality cheese, chocolate, cakes, cookies and home-made salads. At holiday time, its specialties become even more appealing.

Gift baskets are excellent holiday remembrances and Bon Appetit has a variety of sizes and types, filled with ham, cheese, tea, chocolate, cookies and other gourmet items. They are handsomely packaged and can be mailed.

For those who prefer to fill their own baskets, there is an extensive assortment of baskets in many sizes and styles. It is probably one of the largest selections of baskets in the area, with many from China, South America and the Philippines. Red and green are available, as well as tan and brown, and they range from $1.15 up to $40.

Holiday specialties at Bon Appetit include the traditional Gingerbread House for $10.99 and, new this year, The Country Cottage for $24.50. The doors and windows of the house open to reveal seven different jars of Blanchard & Blanchard sauces, mustard, ketchup and vinaigrette, etc. It also contains a Vermont country recipe book.

German stollens, yuletide logs, plum and fig puddings from England, Johnnie Walker Drambuie cakes and malt whiskey cakes and, of course, fruit cakes, are other tempting holiday delicacies.

Scottish shortbread is particularly popular now, reports Mr. Andersen, and Bon Appetit has a large supply. In addition, there is a fine selection of biscuits and cookies from Europe. Packaged in the traditional tins, with a decorative scene on the cover, these cookies almost look too good to eat. The famous Huntley Palmers from England and Fabis from Belgium have especially attractive boxes and are $9.75 and up.

If you enjoy a cup of tea with the biscuits, there is an extensive selection at Bon Appetit, and many of the teas come in special gift packages. A set of six Twinings Teas (60 tea bags) is $7.50, and a set of three different Twinings Breakfast Teas (Irish, English and Ceylon) is $12.75. Twinings also offers a canister of tea with scenes by the English painter John Constable.

Jacksons of Piccadilly offers The Earl Grey Teas (25 tea bags) in special canisters with decorative scenes for $9.50. Also available is The Dublin Tea Company's Irish Breakfast Tea and a variety of herbal and spice teas.

For Chocoholics. Chocolate has become a big favorite at Bon Appetit, and this holiday season, there is an incredible variety, surely enough to satisfy anyone's sweet tooth. The famous Neuhaus chocolate from Belgium is always in stock (with fresh shipments several times a month). There is Perugina from Italy, Lindt and Tobler from Switzerland, Droste from Holland, Reber from Germany and Cote d'Or from Belgium.

And that's not all! Large Niederegger marzipan loaves from Germany, marzipan gift boxes, Lindt chocolates filled with liqueur, plum in Madeira, little chocolate batons filled with kirsch — the list goes on.

The packaging of many of these European chocolates is truly a visual delight and makes such a gift even more welcome.

Another specialty at Bon Appetit is its selection of cakes made by famous pastry chef Albert Kumin. A Swiss pastry maker of the old school, Mr. Kumin was chef at the White House during the Carter Administration and also chef at such restaurants as Windows on the World and the Four Seasons.

Perugina of Italy, so famous for its chocolate, also offers two cakes, its Pandoro Christmas cakes with a light delicate wine flavor and the Panettone which is more like a fruit cake. Both cakes come beautifully packaged.

Children will be delighted by Bon Appetit's chocolate Advent Calendars from Germany ($1.95). Each day, as the window is opened, a piece of chocolate is waiting. There are also chocolate Santas and Christmas trees, marzipan pigs and a great variety of ornaments with pieces of chocolate attached to them. Small wooden rocking horses with saddlebags filled with chocolate for $6.95 and a wooden train atop a track of chocolate for $3.50 are just some samples of what's in store.

Bon Appetit also has a wide selection of jams, jellies and preserves from France,

LET'S TALK ABOUT

DUTCH ELM DISEASE

with Sam DeTuro Woodwinds Associates

Scientists at the Institute of Applied Chemistry in Zeist, Holland have come up with a way to block the spread of the fungus of Dutch Elm Disease that is carried by young bark beetles. Trees are injected with fenprolmorph, a fungicide commonly used to treat mildew on cereal crops. It is reported to be harmless to the tree.

When the fungicide was injected into disease-free elms, it was 100% effective in preventing germination of the fungus spores that were carried to the trees by the bark beetles. When injected into heavily infected trees, it halted the spread of the fungus.

The treatment's only drawback is that it is very labor-intensive and therefore expensive. A Dutch Elm "vaccine" could be on the market as soon as next year.

There is still time for your fall feeding and anti-desiccant spray before winter sets in. Call Woodwinds for these needs. (609-924-3500)

England and Switzerland, as well as the U.S., in the $2.98 to $4.95 range, as well as a set of traditional English jams and marmalades for $9.95 from Nelson's of Aintree.

There are gourmet dressings and vinegar and oil imported from Italy and France, Massetti raisins in grape liqueur and Mandarin oranges in liqueur from Italy, along with numerous other gourmet items.

Long known for its exceptionally fine selection of cheeses, Bon Appetit continues to introduce new cheeses, with some particularly interesting ones from France and northern Italy, according to Mr. Andersen. With its 28-foot-long case and hundreds of different kinds of cheese, Bon Appetit certainly has a wide choice for holiday entertaining.

Homemade salads (including potato, antipasto, Waldorf, macaroni and cheddar, chicken amandine and tortellini), pates, and fresh Beluga caviar are also available.

Other items at Bon Appetit include matched aprons, potholders and holder mitts for $14, $3 and $3 respectively, and a variety of holiday paper cocktail napkins, boxes, tins and trays and mugs with decorative seasonal scenes.

Scandinavian Christmas. An intriguing selection of gifts awaits holiday shoppers at Nordcraft at 246 Nassau Street. This charmingly decorated shop emphasizes Scandinavian items and is especially known for its Carl Larsson books, prints, posters and greeting cards. It has a fine selection of the Swedish painter's work.

Traditional Danish and Swedish wood and straw ornaments in delightful designs are another specialty, and there is a variety of these in bright colors, ranging in price from $1 to under $10. Other decorations include wooden or straw figures in traditional dress, children on sleds and a wooden apple tree with candles.

The captivating Danish cutouts to hang in the window or on the tree are available in several styles, as are wooden candle holders and wooden nativity sets at $19.95. From Finland come beautifully finished laminated wood cheese trays in several sizes. Very popular, they make an excellent holiday gift.

Lovely aromas emanate from Nordcraft as its collection of spices and potpourri waft through the air. They come in different varieties, and one item bound to appeal to many is a mortar and pestle filled with cinnamon sticks, parsley, sage, rosemary and thyme for $14.50. Another aromatic gift is a simmering pot filled with cedar and spices. It sits on top of the stove and creates wondrous fragrances throughout the house. It goes for $17.50.

There is a nice selection of dried wreaths, always a popular gift, for $8.50, Swedish wooden door chimes at $31, Swedish candles and Kosta Boda crystal (including the popular snowballs in two sizes, $9.95 and $15) and Pukeberg crystal, also from Sweden.

Children will love the toys at Nordcraft. There is a new line of sturdy wooden toys from Vermont, $9 and up, and other wooden airplanes, helicopters, trucks and cars at $5.95, and traditional wooden soldiers from Denmark at $15.50. Jump ropes are available, and a wonderful line of American-made furry hand puppets and plush toys.

A favorite children's story is The Tomten and the Fox by Astrid Lindgren. A Swedish tale, it is also noted for its wonderful illustrations. There are also beautifully hand-knitted woollen mittens from Sweden in both children's and adult sizes. In a variety of designs, they are $12.50.

Nordcraft has an abundance of gift wrapping paper, holiday paper napkins, tin boxes and holiday mugs. There are samples of traditional Norwegian jewelry, including earrings, necklaces and bracelets, as well as a new line of jewelry from American artist Holly Yashi.

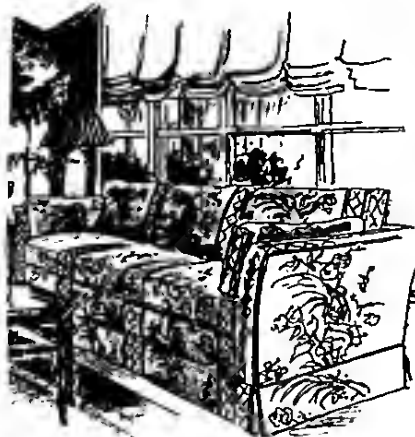

Especially attractive are hand-carved, hand-painted ducks and owls from China. Completely authentic, they are $19.50 and up. Finnish mohair blankets come in a variety of delicate, soft colors and designs and sell for $195. As one customer remarked, "They couldn't be more luscious."

There is also lovely runner material with typical Scandinavian designs at $7.50 a yard, and an assortment of sturdy dish towels with pretty designs from Austria for $5.95. Lovely handpainted silk scarves in beautiful colors and designs are $22 and $31.

Also popular are the Swedish post boxes and attractive coffee thermoses in blue and white, also from Sweden, for $14, and a variety of handsome Swedish fireplace bellows. Other big sellers are the Danish, Swedish, Norwegian and Finnish cookbooks, Delectably Danish, Superbly Swedish, Natably Norwegian and Fantastically Finnish. Selling for $5.95, these books offer recipes, reflections and traditions. Nordicraft also offers gift certificates.

Many people know of Nordicraft's outstanding yarn selection. Imported Pingouin yarn from France, Norwegian yarn and baby yarn are available in many colors. There are also many pattern books and several samples of sweaters, including authentic Norwegian sweaters.

The staff members at Nordicraft are accomplished knitters and very happy to offer advice and help.

SCANDINAVIAN SPECIALTIES: A variety of holiday gift items, including traditional ornaments and decorations from Sweden, Norway and Denmark, is available at Nordicraft on Nassau Street. The shop also carries American-made toys and crafts.

Captivating Collectibles. Collecting is becoming more and more popular, and for those caught up in the excitement, Merican & Peskin, at 77 Main Street in Kingston, has a wonderful variety of captivating items. An extensive selection of vintage costume jewelry (Art Deco and Art Nouveau) from the 1920s to the 1960s, as well as an assortment of intriguing items, such as salt and pepper shakers, cookie jars, plaster of Paris lamps and Art Deco vases, are all available.

Age, quality and taste are the criteria in choosing the jewelry, report Barbara Peskin and Ron Merican, owners of the gallery. They also aim to appeal to many people and their items cover a broad price range. "At least half of the items are under $25," says Mr. Merican. "Also the quality of the jewelry is so superior to what is being made today, price for price. And, if people compare what we have here to old costume jewelry being sold in New York, they'll see how reasonable our prices are."

The shop also carries a selection of Bakelite jewelry. A type of plastic, it was developed after celluloid and is very collectible. Other collectible items include salt and pepper shakers, piggy banks, an array of figurines from occupied Japan (very collectible) and Bakelite napkin rings. There is also a candy container in the shape of a snowman, and a Christmas tree-shaped serving plate.

The variety really never ends. There are antique beaded bags, an attractive fan, cuff links for men, and Mexican silver. The range of jewelry includes rings, bracelets, earrings and necklaces, as well as pins and a large selection of rhinestones.

New items come in all the time, as the stock is replenished each week.

In addition, a number of Anne Packard's paintings are available, and in January a show of watercolors by J. Bernard Sauer of the Delaware Valley will be held. Dating Customers can find jewelry by such designers as De Mario, Miriam Haskell, Hattie Carnegie, Mazer and Weiss, as well as examples of Coro Craft, Old Trifari and Eisenberg Ice.

Pins have been especially popular, and there is a great selection of Christmas pins, including wreaths, trees and Christmas stockings. Bright and colorful, they can make terrific gifts, from $2.50 and up.

Also on display is a decorative Christmas tree col-

Gear Up for Outdoors. Extreme weather gear, cross country skis and ski apparel, a great selection of sweaters, a variety of outdoor gear — all this and much more is available at The Nickel on State Road.

Cross country skis are in stock, to buy or rent, including Fischer, Epoke and Trak. Skis are $100 and up, boots $45 and up, and poles $12. Combination packages are available — you can mix and match skis, boots and poles — at 15% off.

An extensive variety of ski apparel includes jackets, parkas, and bibs. The North Face, Patagonia, Sierra Designs, Woolrich and JanSport are in stock in many colors and styles, with parkas starting at $100. The shop also carries wool jackets, down and synthetic insulated vests, windbreakers, and wind shells.

Flannel and chamois shirts for men and women make popular gifts, and there is a big selection of these in a variety of plaids and solid colors in the $25 range. The traditional Buffalo red-and-black plaid jacket is also in stock at $55, and Pendleton wool shirts are $50.

The sweaters at The Nickel are super. There are Ragg wool, ski sweaters, cotton, handknit, cable knit, crew neck, turtleneck, sweater vests — just about every possible design, pattern, color and style. They start at $25, with some Ragg wool at $29.95, Woolrich classic styles at $65, and handknits at $72.50.

One hundred percent cotton Stry classic turtlenecks are always popular for men and women. In many colors, they are $19.50. Patagonia T- and sweatshirts are in full supply, and there are socks for just about every activity. People with cold feet can take heart — The Nickel has the right pair of socks for the occasion.

Polypropylene underwear by The North Face ($22.50) and Patagonia Capilene underwear ($29.50) are also in stock, as are flannel and chamois night shirts for $27.50. Hiking boots start at $40, are $100 and up for waterproof boots, and $110 to $150 for heavy-duty leather boots, appropriate for off-trail hiking or ice climbing. Rock climbing shoes are also available from $73 to $85. Polar boots at $15.50 are cosy and warm once you're back inside. Machine washable, they come in a variety of colors.

The Nickel also carries a selection of gloves and scarves, including wool gloves with leather palms for $18, Ragg wool with leather palms for $26, and deerskin for $35. Stadium blankets start at $21.85 and go up to $45 for Pendletons.

Camping Gear. There is a great variety of backpacks from day packs to mid-range and long-range packs from $30 up to $185. North Face, JanSport and Windy Pass are among the brands available.

Tents and sleeping bags are also in full supply, including The North Face and Sierra Designs tents in the free-standing dome or geodesic style. Sleeping bags come filled with synthetic fiber or goose down, and North Face, Kelty, Windy Pass and Marmot are available from $85 to $400.

A variety of books on the outdoors and hiking and climbing is available, as are numerous accessories, such as flashlights, mini-lanterns, fanny packs, pocket belt pouches, a variety of tools and climbing gear, knives and freeze-dried food for camping.

The Nickel offers gift certificates as well as extended hours for holiday shopping.

Urken's Supply Co. on Witherspoon Street has been serving the Princeton community for nearly 50 years, and there is always a variety of useful and fascinating tools, gadgets and appliances. Filled to the brim with intriguing items, Urken's, as always, offers excellent holiday gift possibilities.

A fire on a cold wintry night is something special, and Urken's carries a five-piece fire set for $49.95, fireplace bellows for $8.95 and a wood basket for $24.95.

Humidifiers are very useful in alleviating the hot dry air so common inside in winter, and Sunbeam Ultrasonic humidifiers are on special for $69.95 and $79.95. There is also an excellent Welbilt ultrasonic humidifier for $49.95. There is a variety of room heaters including The DeLonghi Heater, Electric Radiator for $59.95 and the Heatwave Instant Heater for $46.98.

Do you have a problem with space? Not enough of it? Urken's has a space-saver and storage solution in the Elfa System. Of steel, with heavy-duty epoxy bond finish, these organizers can help create extra closet space or custom storage anywhere in the house.

A variety of cookware is available, including cast iron skillets, Wagner Ware, silver stone aluminum, stainless steel, range top cookware by Corning and Pyrex. Revere Ware and Farber Ware are also on sale. Perhaps a new roasting pan will be needed for the holidays. They're in stock for $7.59, and woks are a popular holiday gift.

Coffeemakers are also in demand, and My Cafe by Toshiba is one of the best. It both grinds the beans and makes the coffee in the same container, or it can use regular coffee. It's on sale for $99. For something more exotic, The Salton 'Three For All' makes cappuccino, espresso and regular coffee, all for $99.95.

The Sunbeam Oskar mini food processor is an excellent buy at $54.95, and, of course, there is a variety of blenders and toaster ovens also. A small under-counter or surface microwave oven with a 30-minute timer is on sale for $119.

Fresh-squeezed orange juice is the best, and once again, Urken's has the Mighty OJ, the classic new juicer, for $39.99. Chicago Cutlery is on sale at 25% to 60% off, and there is a line of fluted glassware by J.J. Durand from France, and another by Bormillo Rocca, from Italy. Also available are pasta bowls, lucite bowls and condiment trays and, a very popular item, the Hot Air Popcorn Popper at $16.95 with the rebate.

Ice buckets are always a useful gift, and Urken's has an attractive seasonal display of red and green buckets surrounded by candles. Black & Decker has tried to make ironing easier by introducing the "Smart Iron," which automatically turns off when not in use. There is also the classic metal steam iron for $24.98 and a full-size fold-down travel iron for $31.98. Another boon for travelers is the fold-down "Stowaway" blow dryer for $19.95.

More Ideas. The Spotlitter is a great gift. If there is ever an electrical emergency, this is one light that is guaranteed to work. It is $19.98 with the rebate. Urken's has a wonderful selection of a new style of thermos, "The Milkman." In a variety of colors, it is shaped like a milk bottle and goes for $13.95.

If you like to sing in the shower, "Wet Tunes, the Shower Radio" is available to keep you company. Waterproof, it can be placed on the shower wall with complete safety. $14.95. Add a bit of fun to holiday entertaining with a lighted transparent apron for $19.95. It lights up and can be a real conversation piece.

Urken's has a supply of fine power tools by Stanley, Black & Decker and Mikata, as well as a great variety of tools of all kinds.

There is a selection of whistling tea kettles, salad spinners ($7.98), kitchen clocks and a travel alarm clock by Braun which reacts to sound. If you tell it to be quiet, it will shut off, giving you vital minutes of extra sleep! Christmas lights and tree stands are available, as are gift certificates and gift wrapping. There will be extended hours for holiday shopping.

Shoe Bargains. The price is right at Step 'n' Out in the Montgomery Shopping Center. The shop carries a variety of top brand women's shoes, all priced at $14.90, as well as boots and handbags.

The latest fashions in shoes are available from dressy to casual, as is a selection of athletic shoes. High heels and flats in all colors and styles — sandals and slingbacks for the holidays, pumps for the office and flats for fun — are all available.

Step 'n' Out carries boots starting at $16 in a variety of styles and colors, from waterproof and snow boots to high fashion. There is also a selection of handbags in many styles at $9 and up. Accessories such as pantyhose and knee-highs, a variety of socks in many colors, are available, too, as are wallets and organizers.

All ages can find appropriate footwear at Step 'n' Out, and with 6,000 to 7,000 shoes in the store and new shipments coming in every week, there is always an extensive selection.

Gift certificates are available, and although the shop emphasizes self service, someone is always nearby to offer help and advice. Step 'n' Out's hours are 10 to 9 Monday to Friday, 10 to 6 on Saturday and 12 to 5 on Sunday.

Intriguing Jewelry. Since it opened last August, the Jewel Lady of Palmer Square has been attracting customers with its wide and varied selection of fashion or costume jewelry as well as its collection of evening bags and belts.

In a charming Victorian parlor-type setting, customers will find an intriguing choice of items, 90% of which is fashion jewelry. Rings, bracelets, pins, earrings (clips and pierced), necklaces and one-of-a-kind antique pieces are on display.

Many of the items are eye-catching, from the pins and earrings by Adagio, depicting tiny faces handpainted on porcelain, to the enamel necklaces and pins — truly works of art — by Antonia Schwed, and the unique hand-sculptured flowers fashioned of ceramic-on-metal in necklaces, pins and earrings. These are really exceptional pieces that make a statement, from $50 to $200.

The Jewel Lady also has a fine selection of sterling silver necklaces, bracelets and earrings, including 18-inch heart necklaces for $95, seven-inch heart bracelets for $38 and drop pierced heart earrings for $22. Sterling silver rings are also popular, as are fun items such

$5-and-Under Gifts for Children

Buying gifts for the kids is really the most fun, and there are opportunities galore this year. Magnets always intrigue children, and Marsh & Co. has a variety of sets of four in different designs and colors (cars, phones, ice cream cones, etc.) for $2.25. Another favorite, also at Marsh, is a series of delightful piggy banks in pink and blue, and also in the shape of contemporary computer monitors for $5.

"Teddy Tee" shirts for favorite stuffed bear are $2.00 at Jordan's, and Ambleside has wooden train whistles that sound like the real thing for $4.99.

If you're in a Scrooge-like mood ("Bah, humbug!"), you can find a 'Lump of Coal' for $2.50 in Epstein's Christmas Shop.

On the sweeter side are some super chocolate delights from Thomas Sweet, such as full-size chocolate tennis balls for $4.50, a chocolate Snoopy for $4.00, a chocolate ruler for $2.98 and a chocolate cat for $4.25.

as The Flying Colors Christmas Tree Lights and Three Little Pigs necklaces. Rhinestones are big sellers, too.

A selection of fashion jewelry from India, including antique chains with silver and ivory, makes lovely Christmas gifts from $60 to $310, and there is also a line of "Faux" jewelry which "looks better than the real thing." It's great for the holidays, and includes necklaces, earrings and bracelets from $78 to $90.

Leather goods, such as Carlos Falchi evening bags, eyeglass and key cases, change purses and address books, are also available. Nina Ricci peau-de-soie evening bags are in stock, as are handpainted bags carved of wood by Rafael Sanchez which can also be used as wall decorations. These items, as well as bags by Barbara Bolan and Christian Dior, are 30% off.

Other excellent gift choices are miniature perfume bottles with semi-precious stones, hand set in Paris, and a line of leather belts with 24k gold-plated buckles in a variety of shapes — rabbits, panthers, snakes and bows (also in silver) designed by Christopher Ross. The Christian Dior gold and silver umbrellas for $38 have been very much in demand and make popular gifts for the woman who has every other umbrella.

Prices at The Jewel Lady range from $5 to $450, with most of the fashion jewelry under $100; $75 and up for evening bags; and $50 and up for belts.

A fascinating choice of merchandise and personalized service are highlights of The Jewel lady, and customers will also appreciate the gift wrapping and gift certificates and extended shopping hours: Monday-Friday 10 to 9, Saturday 10 to 6 and Sunday 12 to 5.

Dazzle the Kids. From casual jog shirts to pretty dresses to specialty sleepwear, there is an abundance of lovely styles at Kiddazzle, the children's shop in the Pennington Shopping Center. The clothes tend to be bright and colorful, with a variety of designs and patterns. Dinosaurs are in for boys — on pajamas, robes, socks, sweat-shirts — and rhinestones are very popular with girls. They decorate sweatshirts, socks, barrettes, head bands, belts and jog suits.

Such brands as Wibbies, J.M. Originals, Unique, Spumoni, Tickle Me, Cary, Baby Guess and Christian Dior are included. Sizes range from infant to pre-teen for girls and infant to 6 for boys.

Kiddazzle has a wide selection of socks, which have become so popular. Whether decorated with rhinestones, brightly colored in a variety of designs and patterns, including "slouch" socks to be worn outside the clothing, or non-skid bottoms, helpful to children learning to walk, the socks at Kiddazzle are sure to be noticed.

A number of specialty gift items are available for the holidays, including a large selection of the celebrated Madame Alexander dolls. These are collectibles and often difficult to get. They range from $34 to $325. Kazooty hand-painted barrettes, tote bags, purses, baby books, and photo albums are in stock, as is the Gund line of plush toys.

Dinosaurs are very popular as stuffed animals, and Kiddazzle also carries a large selection of other dinosaur paraphernalia, including inflatable dinosaurs.

Other fun items are round disks that submerge in water and are transformed into a washcloth or hand towel. In different designs, they are $3.50 and $4. "The Young Carpenter's Work Bin" is a great gift for a budding carpenter seven and older. Filled with tools, wood pieces, sandpaper, glue and pencils, it is $25. "The Hobby Shop" is also fun, and contains a variety of items, such as paints, felt, beads, paper, yarn, and paste. At $30, it offers kids a chance to experiment with their creativity and imagination.

There are also old-fashioned candy bins, filled with a selection of old-fashioned candy — very appropriate for holiday gift giving. Lots of accessories are in stock, including belts, pocketbooks, personalized large bath towels with different designs, and a selection of watches for boys and girls.

Prices start at $1.50 for jewelry, $10 for infant shirts, and go up to the $80s for a Christian Dior dress. Sweaters and dresses are $30 and up, jog suits $30 to $50, shirts $20 and up, pants $17 and up and snow-suits $65 and up. Boys' outfits start at $30. Many clothes will be on sale, with savings of up to 50%.

Mothers and children alike enjoy the special play area in the back of the store, and customers also appreciate the gift certificates, gift wrapping and convenient layaway plan.

The Way Station, located in The Marketplace at Routes 27 and 518 in Kendall Park, is a factory store with savings from 25% to 75% off regular retail prices. Its extensive selection of women's apparel specializes in sweaters, skirts, jackets, blouses and dresses in classic, traditional styles and offers many excellent gift possibilities.

There are lovely velvet dresses for the holidays, as well as a variety of dresses in many colors, designs and patterns for the career woman. Sizes go from 4 to 18 (with some 2's and 20's) and are $70 and up. Blouses make very popular gifts, and a particularly special polyester blouse comes in wine (also navy and aqua) with a soft cowl collar, jacquard pattern and front plcat. At $39, it is sophisticated and feminine.

Nearly everyone loves sweaters, and The Way Station has a great selection, from pullovers, turtlenecks, cardigan sweater-jackets to vests — in all kinds of patterns, from wool to blends to cotton. Sweater jackets are popular, and can be worn as outerwear. The Way Station has a big selection in wool and mohair from $63 up to $117.

Vests are also a nice gift, and they are available in silk and acrylic blends, cotton and wool from $17 to $36. There are also special prices on heavy-duty cotton, oversized sweaters from Mexico.

Jackets are a big item and start at $39. Many fashions are available including blazers and fancy, plain, quilted or box-weave styles. The addition of a jacket to a skirt and blouse can complete the outfit.

Barbara Lederman, manager of The Way Station, emphasizes the importance of matching and coordinating separates. "The customer can get a lot more mileage out of something when it can coordinate — with a skirt, blouse and vest and jacket to pull it all together. We do all we can to assist customers in this. Service is very important to us."

Cotton/poly turtlenecks, always popular, are available in all colors for $13, and accessories, such as silk scarves and belts, are also in stock. For those who may be traveling to the islands, a selection of lightweight clothes is carried all year.

Gift certificates are offered, and just in case the color or size isn't right, The Way Station has a liberal return policy. As of December 8, holiday shopping hours will be extended to 10-9 Monday to Friday, 10-6 Saturday and 12-5 on Sunday.

For Handbags. You can really do a lot of Christmas shopping at Susan Greene in The Marketplace at Routes 27 and 518 in Kendall Park. With its large selection of handbags, jewelry, luggage and accessories, it offers an excellent choice for gifts.

There is an incredible variety of handbags in stock, with all styles and sizes available. Prices run the gamut, from very reasonable to high fashion, so there is really a choice for everyone's budget. Fine leather bags, denim and carpet bags are in full supply, as are the shoulder bags, hobo, satchel or clutches. Brands such as Dooney & Burke, Liz Claiborne, Brio, Carlo Fiori and Stephine are represented.

For holiday parties, there are lovely evening beaded bags, mother-of-pearl and silver and gold metal dress bags. Mother-of-pearl bags, in particular, can be a wonderful gift since they go with just about everything and also pick up the colors the woman is wearing. There are also lots of tote bags in bright colors at reasonable prices.

Luggage is always a welcome gift, and Susan Greene has a fine selection at some big savings, including a special on a Verdi five-piece set for $99. Ventura, American Tourister and The Airway by Oleg Cassini are also available. The shop carries fine leather attache and brief cases, women's and men's wallets (Ann Klein wallets at half price) and men's cosmetic cases.

has become a very important part of the store's business, and there is a very large selection, including necklaces from $8.99 to 14k gem stones for more than $100. Earrings (clips and pierced), bracelets, rings and pins are also available, as are sterling silver, ivory from China, India and Majorca, pearls and multi-colored stones, genuine onyx, jet and frosted crystal beads.

There are dramatic pieces as well as delicate, subtle styles. Men's jewelry, including cuff links and tie clasps, is also available.

Susan Greene carries Seiko clocks and watches and the fun Swatch watches, too, plus the charming crystal zoo from Austria. There is 20% off these lovely miniature crystal animals and figures, which start at $24.

Gift certificates are offered, and the store will have extended holiday shopping hours.

A Visit to Marsh. You can get a great start on your Christmas shopping with a visit to Marsh & Co. on Nassau Street. The variety and selection of items extends far beyond what one would expect to find in a drug store. From stuffed animals, to jam and preserves, to gourmet teas, chocolate and biscuits, to glassware, there is a wide choice of gift items.

Cosmetic bags from Liberty of London, as well as eyeglass cases and jewelry rolls, start at $9.95. There are scented drawer liners and a variety of men's and women's manicure sets at $5.75 and up, and once again the store carries the Metropolitan Museum of Art paper cocktail napkins designed with a variety of prints from the museum's collection.

The Crabtree & Evelyn line covers a vast array of items from soaps to sweets. One novelty gift item includes a large dictionary-type "book" filled with men's Sandalwood toiletry articles for $45.

Soap, bath gels, talc, bubble bath and shampoo are other Crabtree & Evelyn products, as well as jams, preserves, honey, mustards and a variety of teas (including Jackson's of Piccadilly in a gift canister). Peaches in Amaretto liqueur is something new for $18, and another gift item is a 'Book' of Teas and Biscuits for $12.

There are Peter Rabbit carrot biscuits and cheese biscuits, and a Peter Rabbit lunch box filled with biscuits and three small jars of jam for $16.50. Beautifully packaged biscuits from P. Lazzaroni in Italy are available, as is Walker shortbread from Scotland and a variety of chocolate. Lindt boxed chocolate and bars, Russell Stover and Whitman's Samplers are all available.

Vermont maple syrup, maple butter and a choice of imported olive oils and imported vinegars are also in stock.

Children will like the big selection of stuffed animals, the fun Quartz clock with crayon or balloon motif for $17.50, and the wooden toothbrush holders in the shape of dinosaur, rabbit or bear for $6.

A full selection of cosmetics and perfumes includes the Nina Ricci line, No. 4711, Je Reviens, Lancome, Christian Dior, Chanel, Tea Rose, Ma Griffe, Elizabeth Arden and Floris of London. Dusting powder is also available in many of these lines. Gentlemen are not forgotten, and there is Sauvage, Dior for Men and Chanel for Men.

Soap is in abundance with a variety of single bars and gift sets in stock. There is Roger & Gallet from Paris, Caswell Massey from England for $7.50, Magno from Spain, The Body Shop, Country Diary and Norfolk Lavendar soap from England. Many of these brands also carry a line of shampoo, bath foam, beads, moisturizers and lotions. Jean Nate and Vita Bath are two other popular brands in the bath and fragrance department, and Evian atomizers are popular. Claire Burke room sprays and scented papers are also available, as are Taylor of London, Floris, and Crabtree & Evelyn room sprays.

A variety of hair dryers and hot curlers is in full supply, as are men's electric razors. Hair brushes from Mason Pearson in London are $19.50 and up, and the Kent brush is $27.50 and up. There are also back brushes from Kent.

Timex and Loris watches are always a good gift at $17.95 and up, and there is a variety of clocks, with Braun from Germany, Linden and Westclox available. Picture frames remain popular, and Marsh carries a selection of all sizes and types, including ceramic and wood at $7.25 and up.

Glass pitchers and salad bowls are also on display, as are Ray-Ban sunglasses, shell night lights and a variety of atomizers. When it comes time to wrap all of these packages, Marsh has a big selection of Christmas wrapping paper, ribbons, ready-made bows, tags and gift cards, as well as small ornaments.

Hours are Monday through Friday 9 to 9, Saturday 9 to 6, and Sunday 9 to 1.

High Quality, Low Price. High-quality brand names at low prices are the key to Just Men Clothiers, also located in The Marketplace. The shop carries a wide selection of clothes from informal to dress, including suits, sportcoats, slacks, shirts (dress and formal), sweaters, outerwear, pajamas, nightshirts, robes, gloves, belts, ties, socks and underwear.

It's New to Us

holiday gift possibilities. Shirts are always a popular item for Christmas, notes partner and manager Al Verger, as are sweaters. The shop's variety of sweaters appeals to women, too. "I sell half of our sweaters to women," adds Mr. Verger. The big selection of shirts offers a wide choice for the holidays. Plaid flannel shirts are $9.95 and up, and quilted acrylic shirts, also in plaids, are very warm and can be worn outside like a jacket ($29.95). There is also a variety of knit shirts and sports shirts of all sorts in many colors, designs and styles in the $25 price range.

Coats are also in abundance, from parkas to duffle coats to the traditional topcoat. Many of the parkas have thinsulate linings. There is a terrific selection of sportcoats, including corduroy jackets in a variety of colors at $49.50.

Just Men also carries a nice line of wool and acrylic scarves in many designs and colors, including plaids at $7.95 and $9.95. Pajamas and robes are big Christmas sellers, and the shop has a fine selection, as well as night shirts (in stripes and solids). Pajamas are $11.95 and $13.95 (for flannel), and night shirts are $14.95. Robes start at $22.95.

Belts, ties and gloves are also popular Christmas gifts, and there is an extensive selection. All-leather gloves run from $17 and up. Some of the gloves are "two-in-one," with soft wool gloves worn inside leather. Just Men has a wide choice of ties. Mostly silk, they range in design and color, and cost $9.98.

A nice gift ensemble includes a tie and matching handkerchief, in a variety of designs and colors. Not only are belts available in a wide selection, but suspenders are also in stock at $9.95. There is also a variety of caps and thinsulate earmuffs, which will make welcome gifts as the cold weather comes along.

Customers will find 20% to 60% marked off on all merchandise. Suits range from $99 to $199, sportcoats $59 to $109, trousers $12.95 to $17.95, dress shirts $12.95 to $15.95, casual shirts $12.95 to $17.95 and sweaters $26 and up.

Shoppers will also appreciate the gift certificates and certainly the convenient parking at The Marketplace.

What's Your Whim? A delightful variety of gift items, guaranteed to suit any whim, fancy or impulse, is overflowing at Wit & Whimsy on Palmer Square. Charming decorated for the holidays, the shop offers a congenial atmosphere to browse or buy.

Gifts for the house are a specialty, and there are lots of linen (including Christmas linens) and tabletop items, cloths, napkins, skirts for tables (and skirts for Christmas trees). There are also a lot of country French items, including linens, dishes and decorative accessories. The shop also carries a wide variety of sturdy, very good quality baskets which are very often a welcome gift.

Personalized items are popular at Wit & Whimsy, and there are monogrammed pillowcases, towels, children's sweaters, and painted furniture, such as tables and kitchen stools, which can be personalized.

Specialty items for children, including toys, stuffed animals and clothes, are available, as well as seasonal items. Red and green Christmas socks for kids at $9, toy trumpets with red tassels for $8, lots of pretty red dresses and ribbons and a variety of appealing Christmas tree ornaments of all sorts, including marvelous glass balloon ornaments, are just some of the attractions.

A very special do-it-yourself wooden Advent calendar is available for $150. Behind each window or door, you can leave your own personal message or ornament or candy, whatever you wish. It can be kept in the family and handed down through the generations.

Men's ties, decorated with holly, candy canes, and Christmas trees are a lot of fun for $12.50, as are red cumberbunds, designed with Christmas trees, for $23. Another fanciful — but functional — item is a red ice bucket with flashing lights. Just the thing for holiday entertaining!

For the outdoors, there is an excellent selection of doormats with geese or Christmas motifs, or an outdoor Christmas tree window thermometer for $17.

There are handpainted director's chair covers, Christmas pillows with Joy or Noel designs, numerous wool Christmas stockings, wooden doorstops in the shape of cow, sheep or house for $34, adorable miniature glass bears holding a balloon (which are actually place card holders but can be whimsical objets d'art) and wall decorations with messages such as "Merry Christmas" or "There's No Place Like Home for the Holidays."

Candlesticks are always popular, as are brass items, and there is also a selection of pewter, silver plate and some sterling. Attractive window and store displays invite customers in to take a look, and they will enjoy the gift certificates, gift wrapping, and extended hours for holiday shopping.

Prices cover a wide spectrum ranging from $5 up to $200, with many gifts in the $25 category.

The Taste of Thomas's. If by some chance, you have never tasted Thomas Sweet's homemade ice cream or chocolates, wait no longer! A special holiday treat for a friend — or yourself — is in store with a special ice cream cake, chocolate novelty or delicious ice cream cone.

Now at two locations, the original one on Nassau Street and a new one on Palmer Square West, Thomas Sweet offers scrumptious ice cream and chocolates and, with the addition of Thomas Eats, just adja-$20 and medium cakes are $19 to $22.

Popular winter ice cream flavors are egg nog and pumpkin, and there is also the amazing variety of blend-ins available. Using Oreo cookies or such candies as Reese's Pieces, M&M's, Butterfingers or Snickers, and limited only by the imagination, one can create an endless number of fascinating concoctions.

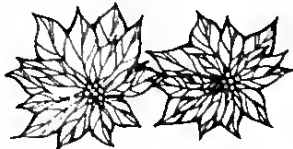

Rum raspberry cordial, cinnamon, coffee toffee crunch and chocolate mousse are among the intriguing flavors, and they come in cones, cups, sundaes, banana splits, shakes, floats or ice cream sodas.

A box of chocolates is always welcome at Christmas, and Thomas Sweet has its own homemade assortment for $9.50 a pound, as well as numerous other novel chocolate gifts. Chocolate santas, Christmas trees, wreaths, reindeer and candy canes will be in abundance this season, ranging in size from two ounces to 30 pounds.

Chocolate cars — Ferraris, Porsches, Corvettes, etc. — are available for $10, and there are chocolate trains for $8.95, hammer and nail for $5.50 and musical notes and treble clefs. Truffles (praline cream is the newest) sell for $14.95 a pound, and there are also bourbon balls, meltaways, butter creams, marzipan and fudge. However sweet your tooth, it should be satisfied at Thomas Sweet.

Thomas Sweet T-shirts, sweatshirts, boxer shorts and hats are also available for fun gifts.

Hours for Thomas Sweet are Monday-Sunday 10 to 9 (candy) and 11 to 11, midnight Friday and Saturday (ice cream) and 7:30 to 8 p.m. for Thomas Eats.

Terhune's Orchards on Cold Soil Road is a favorite spot for many, and, with its outstanding selection of apples, cider, fresh vegetables and Christmas trees and wreaths, it offers some great holiday gift ideas.

For example, if you'd like to send a Christmas remembrance, Terhune's ships apples in two quantities — a box of 15 or a box of 30 — anywhere in the country. Cider can also be shipped — frozen — in 1/2-gallon or gallon containers. These make especially nice gifts for friends who have moved away but remember the great taste of Terhune's apples and cider. Gift baskets are also available and can include a variety of fruits, cheeses, jams and jellies. Many are made to order and are $8.50 and up.

Terhune's also carries Blanchard & Blanchard salad dressings, jams and fudge sauces and a selection of cheeses, as well as its assortment of fresh fruits and vegetables, and, for the season, chestnuts.

Freshly baked pies of all kinds have become a favorite at Terhune's — especially for the holidays. They are baked to order. While waiting for their apples or cider, many visitors also become fans of the special cider doughnuts.

Christmas trees, wreaths and greens are available, and Douglas fir, balsam, Scotch pine and white pine are among the trees on hand. Both plain wreaths and decorated wreaths are available, and Pam Mount, co-owner with her husband Gary, of Terhune's, enjoys making Williamsburg-style wreaths, decorated with fruit such as lemons, small oranges and crabapples.

Firewood is another feature of Terhune's, and many people pick up a stack of it while they are choosing apples or sipping cider.

Terhune's is always a special place for children. Hayrides are featured every weekend, weather permitting, and a treat for many is a visit with the farm's resident animals.

Hours for Terhune's are Monday to Friday 9 to 6 and Saturday and Sunday 9 to 5.

For Little Ones. Holiday shopping at Country Kids, on Main Street in Kingston, can be a pleasure for all the family. There is something bright and cheerful to look at in every corner, and a play area is set aside in the shop for kids to investigate some of the toys or just romp about. There are often groups of children — babies and up — enjoying the special ambiance of this delightful store.

Fascinating to children, from six months to 10 years, is the "Roller Coaster" toy. Resembling the shape of a roller coaster, it has colorful wooden balls that can be moved about on curving wires. It is interesting to children on different levels because of the colors, the movement and the hand dexterity. It sells for $50, and mothers appreciate the fact that it is intact. There are no little pieces spread about all over the room. There is also a model available for children to play with in the store.

Large swinging rocking horses are on display which delight the kids. These horses actually glide back and forth rather than rock, and are thought to be safer. They are $125.

Wooden Brio train sets from Sweden are very popular, and the Playmobil series of toys from Germany also appeals to the kids. There is a large variety of these toys — cars, trucks, men working, etc. — which can fit with the L.G.B. train to make a village area.

Dinosaurs are a big seller, and there are stuffed dinosaur toys in purple, red and yellow in two sizes. Each wears a tag describing its species. They are $15 and $28.

Blocks and puzzles, an inflatable globe and placemats with a scene of the United States are other popular items, as are the Bubblescope ($3.50) and the Octoscope ($4), two types of kaleidoscope.

Dolls and doll carriages are always special at Christmas, and Country Kids has charming white wicker doll carriages for $90 and $180. A variety of dolls, including a soft doll by Pauline from Holland, is in stock, as are the traditional stuffed toys. Two-story doll houses, designed for younger children will also be available with furniture sets. Hand-doo quilts in pretty pastels with applique trim are also on display, as is a selection of comforters. The quilts are $100.

Country Kids specializes in 100% cotton clothing with sizes for babies up to 7, and some items up to 14 for girls. There is a new line by Hana in bright primary colors, very suitable for mixing and matching.

"THE ART OF BOOKBINDING," featuring works by Jamie Kamph, is currently on exhibit in the Leonard L. Millberg Gallery for the Graphic Arts on the second floor of Firestone Library.

ART

Modern Book Bindings On Exhibit at Firestone

If you think a book is just "a volume of printed pages fastened along one side and encased between protective covers," (the standard dictionary definition), you have a lot to learn about books. For as long as scribes have been setting letter forms on paper, the illuminator has not been far behind, putting an artistic spin on them.

Handsomely embellished book covers were an early adjunct to the collected words. Before long, the packaging was often as important as the words inside. In fact, when the illuminator's hand was turned to lesser works of literature and poetry, the medium overtook the message.

Currently on view at Firestone Library's Leonard L. Millberg Gallery for the Graphic Arts is an exhibition of contemporary book bindings which serves as a reminder, in this day of throwaway paperbacks, that this ancient craft is not only alive and well, but, in the hands of a master craftsman, can be an elegant visual feast.

The 50 design bindings on view were crafted by Jamie Kamph over the last dozen years and are arranged chronologically so that one can follow her technological and artistic growth. Seldom is the marriage between artistic vision and technical skill so clearly in evidence as in this sometimes breathtaking tour de force, and rarely these days does one see technique pressed into artistic service so seamlessly and skillfully.

Demanding Confines. All this is the more surprising given the limitations of the artist's "canvas": the limited framework provided by the front and back covers of a book separated by the hump of a spine. Within these demanding confines, Kamph constructs her overall design narrative. Individual design elements, often raised or recessed, bear their own structural weight as well as relating decoratively with one another. The effect is at once both rich and economical.

Kamph explains in the catalog that accompanies the exhibit that her artistic intention is often limited by her technical progress and that she often finds herself dwelling "in the limbo between what I can do and what I want to do." The first books on display, which date back no more than a dozen years, she describes as "Beginner's essays." These elegant, though relatively simple, designs are soon blossoming with some stunning pictorials.

The artist sets her hand — and imagination — to almost every type of printed volume. Perhaps not surprisingly, we find works by Shakespeare, Shelley, Browning, Milton and Blake here. Less obvious inspirations spring from H.C. Cutcliffe's The Art of Trout Fishing on the Rapid Streams and Charles Mackay's Extraordinary Popular Delusions and the Madness of Crowds.

Illustrations from the texts are incorporated in her designs, but each picture is translated into "bookbinding terminology." Designs wrap around both front and back covers so that the book needs to be opened flat to appreciate the full sweep (these are not volumes to be lined up on a bookshelf with only the spines on view!). Kamph's favorite "canvas" is Nigerian goatskin, which turns up in a rainbow of colors, adding a rich background to the lustrous hues and radiant tints of the design overlays.

Inventive Imagination. When Kamph's subject matter is most literal, as in her designs for three book catalogs, her imagination is most inventive. For one, the dark red goatskin is embellished with full-scale representations of bookbinding tools in a complementary array of colors. For the catalog of the books in a private collection, the cover incorporates replicas of the collector's favorite volumes. These descriptions, unfortunately, hardly do justice to the sophistication and smoothness of the execution.

More ornamental, a volume of Thoreau's Nature Themes is bound in dark brown goatskin, blind-tooled and onlaid with a motif of flowers, birds, butterflies, fruit and a sun made of gold tea chest paper.

Especially winning are her excursions into children's literature. For a book of wood engravings of The Pied Piper of Hamelin, Kamph has embellished a ground of tan goatskin with a recessed footprint that straddles both the front and back covers and is surrounded by tiny gold-tooled "mousetracks." For a series of colorful little alphabet books the artist has designed her own alphabet. The "A" volume, for instance, is onlaid with "A" objects: a gold-tooled angel, a blind-tooled apple and an airplane, worked over the large onlaid letter "A." "B" features a blind-tooled buffalo with a silk tail, a leather and marbled paper butterfly and mother-of-pearl buttons dotting the spine. And so forth.

"FAT CATS AND COUSIN SCRAGGS": Illustrations by Lonni Sue Johnson from this book and four others will be on exhibition through December 24 at Academy Books and Bindery in Stockton.

The artist also strays whimsically from strictly bindery techniques at times. Thus, a feather bookmark accompanies a book on ornithology and slip cases range from floral silk to corduroy and lace.

At times she even incorporates actual objects into the book designs themselves. For Trout Fishing, for instance, she uses actual fishing flies hooked into the book leather and hanging from silver threads. In a binding for John Berryman's The Dream Songs, raccoon jawbones (Mr. Bones is a Berryman persona in the poems) are set into the covers and tied into place. These embellishments might seem a bit de trop, but they are executed so skillfully and with such restraint that the effect is sheer delight.

The artist admits to continually testing her limitations in an effort to expand her skills. Thus she notes in the catalog, "I could not resist the temptation to see how small I could bind and still maintain details in the construction." The result, which matches purple Nigerian goatskin with handsewn endbands, measures a wispy 2" x 3-1/6" x 1/8". The small catalog that accompanies the exhibit has an informative introduction by the curator, Dale Roylance, and offers a helpful guide to the artist's progress as well as a glossary for the layman.

The exhibit runs through January 15.

—Marion Burdick

Exhibition and Sale Set In Lobby of Dillon Gym

The Graduate Foreign Student Committee of Princeton University will sponsor an exhibition and sale of original graphic art in the lobby of Dillon Gym on Friday and Saturday, December 12 and 13 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The collection, by Marson Galleries Ltd. of Baltimore, consists of approximately 800 pieces of original graphic art by leading American, European and Oriental artists.

A representative will be present to discuss the collection and answer questions. The prints are shown in open portfolios in an informal atmosphere.

Exhibits

The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will present an exhibit of watercolor and pen-and-ink works by Renee Sokolow from Monday through Wednesday, December 31. On Sunday from 4 to 6 there will be an opening of the exhibit with coffee and cake.

Ms. Sokolow attended the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts and then worked in lettering and layout, as well as freelance art work, for several years.

The exhibit and the opening are free and open to the public. For further information call the library at 924-7073.

Recent Works by Elizabeth Ruggles including oils, pastels and drawings, will be on display through December at the Lawrence Gallery, Lawrence Center.

The Cercle Français de Princeton will meet Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in Kresge Auditorium, Frick Hall, Washington Road.

A 1981 French film with English subtitles, "Une Affaire d'Hommes" (R), will be shown. It was directed by Nicolas Ribowski and features Claude Brasseur, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Beatrice Camurat, and Elisabeth Huppert.

The showing is free and open to the public.

The American Association of Retired Persons will meet Thursday, December 11, at All Saints' Church, Van Dyke Road. Featured will be a concert by the Westminster Singers, the choral group of the Westminster Choir College, under the direction of Allen Crowell.

Interested newcomers are invited to attend.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit 76 will hold a Christmas party on Sunday, December 14, at the post home, 95 Washington Road, from 1 to 5 p.m.

For reservations, call Patricia C. Headley at 443-4968.

The Hun School Chapter of the Cum Laude Society will inaugurate a series of after-dinner lectures, addressing contemporary issues and developments in the humanities and social sciences, with a talk by Dr. Robert E. Kuenne, professor of economics at Princeton University.

Dr. Kuenne's talk, which will consider current trends in U.S. economy, will be held on Monday at 6:45 p.m. in Russell Lounge on the Hun School campus. The talk is free and open to the public.

The American Association of University Women will hold a holiday season brunch on Sunday at 12:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, Route 1. The Princeton Madrigal Singers will entertain.

Cost is $20. Call Aleta Marshall at (201) 874-6114 for reservations.

The Friday Club of the YWCA will meet this Friday at 12:30 in the All Purpose Room. Ann Reeves, director of the Arts Council, will be the guest speaker.

The Sierra Club will hold its annual wine and cheese holiday party on Wednesday, December 10, at 7:30 p.m. at All Saints Church, Van Dyke Road. The party is free and open to the public, and guests are encouraged to bring a favorite drink or snack.

Sierra Club calendars and other club-related gifts will be on sale at the party. For more information, call Denny O'Neil at (201) 359-2039.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will hold its annual holiday bazaar on Saturday from 9 to 4 at the Squad House, Harrison Street. Featured will be handmade crafts, Christmas items and baked goods. Lunch will be served.

Tables are available for reservation by calling 921-2576.

Princeton Chapter of Deborah will hold a Christmas party on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the First National Bank of Central New Jersey, Washington Street, Rocky Hill. All former patients and members will be introduced.

There will be a drawing, with prizes, and patients who were sponsored by the Princeton chapter will be guests of honor.

Religious issues in family treatment will be the topic at the next meeting of the Association for the Advancement of Family Therapy in New Jersey. The meeting will be held at the Family Service Agency of Princeton, 120 John Street, Wednesday, December 10, from 10 to noon. There will be refreshments at 9:30. The presenters will be J. Randall Nichols, Ph.D., and Iola Caplan, MSW.

Dr. Nichols is senior staff psychotherapist at Trinity Counseling Service and director of the Doctor of Ministry Program, Princeton Theological Seminary. His newest book is entitled The Restoring Word: Preaching as Pastoral Communication.

Iola Caplan is a school social worker in Atlantic Highlands who earned her MSW at Rutgers University. She has worked with Syrian Jewish Families at Hillel Yeshiva in Deal, New Jersey.

Cognetics

companies are purely technical. What makes a small group of software companies around the country unique is that we are communications experts as well as computer experts. The computer is a medium the same way that film and video are communications media."

Humanizing Computers. Dr. Krietzberg draws on his own diverse interests in bringing this humanistic approach to computers. Besides a bachelor's and master's in computer science, he holds a doctorate in instructional psychology and is a licensed psychologist. A pianist since age three, he's one of those enviable players who seems to know every piece ever written from Bach to Gershwin, Beatles to Phil Collins.

Dr. Krietzberg is concerned with bridging the gap between computers and computer laymen by blending the cognitive sciences with the technical. Critical of much of the software devised for non-computer people, he sees the problem as a holdover from the earlier days of computers.

"Before six years ago the computers were behind glass in sterile rooms. When I was at

ETS, we walked around in white lab coats. Even the technicians didn't go near the computer. Programs were put 'through the window'."

According to Dr. Krietzberg, the isolation of the computers and their mysterious technical aura ended with the advent of the personal computer. "Now all of the sudden these multi-million dollar machines turned into toasters."

With the computer out of the laboratory and on to the desk top, he wants to change the message of the computer medium.

Frightening Words. "There is a real lack of sensitivity in computer language. Words like 'abort,' 'terminate,' 'illegal entry,' and 'fatal error' frighten people. They suggest a philosophy that is antithetical to what you want in communicating. For some people it's frightening to push a button and see 'terminate' as if they killed it."

"The whole attitude towards constructing software has to change. We don't have the word for it yet — knowledge engineering? The area in which we specialize is where the computer comes in contact with the public."

Since a number of the big publishing houses moved out of the software business during the recent computer industry slump, Cognetics has tightened its belt, relying on a small staff and a pool of free-lance programmers from the Princeton area.

The company has expanded from entertainment and educational software into business applications. According to Dr. Krietzberg, this same philosophy of making the human cognitive factors part of the program can increase business efficiency, since most people using computers at work are not computer people.

Cognetics is developing a new data base for a number of business applications as well as designing marketing programs for trade shows and other more entertainment-oriented business applications.

Ambitious Projects. Commenting on programming for Apples, Commodores, and IBM PC's, Dr. Krietzberg said, "It's an interesting paradox. On the surface, games and pictures, compared with business problems, seem simple. Therein lies the paradox. Often the simpler on the outside, the more complex on the inside. This attracts a very high level of programmer. You are always pushing the limits of the machine."

Some of Cognetics' most ambitious projects will be for the Museum of Jewish Heritage, to be built in New York's Battery Park, overlooking the Statue of Liberty. Currently the company is designing a database that will serve as a filing system for the museum's thousands of photographs. The software will be used by curators and exhibit designers.

The museum will document Jewish European culture from 1900 through World War II and will be the site of a memorial to the six million holocaust victims. The museum will use the computer rather than stone to record the three million known names of those who died. Cognetics will design the database for the memorial. Accessible to the public, the software will store names with alternate spellings, data in five languages, and a catalogue of available photographs.

Like most Cognetics programs, no computer skills will be necessary to operate the program.

During the past five years, almost everyone has been touched by the "high tech" revolution of VCRs, micro-waves, and personal computers. Rapidly, the new technology has become a part of life.

Cognetics, by pushing the limits of the pc's on the inside, is making the computer phenomena more palatable for us on the outside. We don't always have to terminate our computers — we can also relax and enjoy them.

Amnesia is a fun, well written alternative to adventure movies or mystery stories. Available for Apple computers at Clancy Paul and other computer stores, the IBM and Commodore versions are expected during the holiday season.

OBITUARIES

Jean Labatut, 87, professor of architecture, emeritus, at Princeton University, died November 26 at his home on Sawden Lane following a long illness.

The development of the School of Architecture at Princeton owes much to the personal efforts of Prof. Labatut, a distinguished architect and inspiring teacher who set a standard for teaching and design during his 39 years on the faculty. The recipient of numerous architectural commissions, he approached each as an educator as well as an architect and selected those which would be the most stimulating to his students.

Born in France, Mr. Labatut was admitted through architectural competitions to study at L'Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris in 1919. In 1926, he won the Premier Second Grand Prix in the Grand Prix de Rome competition.

Through the efforts of Princeton graduates who studied with him in France, he was persuaded to come to Princeton in 1928 as resident critic in architectural design. He joined the faculty nine years after the School of Architecture was initiated, was made a professor in 1935 and remained for nearly four decades, until 1967.

Prof. Labatut served as director of graduate studies in architecture and was known for his ability to bring out the best in his students. During his tenure, the school was awarded many medals in national competitions, and individual students won five Paris prizes and four Rome prizes in architecture, as well as other awards.

He was himself the first recipient of the award for distinction in education jointly sponsored by the American Institute of Architects and the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture. Many of Prof. Labatut's students are currently teaching all over the world, including many who are deans or directors of their own schools.

Prof. Labatut also played a role in many of the advances in architectural education for which Princeton is known. He founded the Bureau of Urban Research in 1941, for example. An interdepartmental committee to establish source material for urban studies, the Bureau represented the first step toward the broadening of the school's program to include studies in urban planning.

He also designed Princeton's architectural laboratory where, beginning in 1949, pioneering studies were conducted on the effects of climate and environment on building materials, and where new ideas in architectural research continue to be tested.

Soon after his arrival in 1928, Prof. Labatut directed his first group of graduate students towards the degree of master of fine arts, and in 1949 he promoted the creation of the Ph.D. degree in architecture, the first such degree awarded in the United States. By the time of his retirement, six graduate students had received that degree.

Throughout his tenure, Prof. Labatut's contributions to Princeton were enhanced by his achievements in his own practice. In 1932, he drew up a plan for the future development of the City of Paris, and in 1939 he won first place in an international competition for the design of a national monument honoring the Cuban patriot, Jose Marti.

Prof. Labatut was a consultant to the board of design for the 1939 World's Fair, for which he designed the fire and water displays and supervised the fountain spectacles. He served as architect-in-residence at the American Academy in Rome at different periods in the 1950's and '60's. In Princeton, he was personally involved with improvements to the campus and served for 10 years as chairman of the Princeton Township Planning Board.

He was the architect of Stuart Country Day School, and his design is notable for the way it incorporated the diabase boulders and tall trees of the site into the layout and into the building itself. Among other commissions were the village, church, residence and gardens of Castilleja de Gusman in Spain (1926-31) and the park, plaza, museum, library and 300-foot-high monument to Jose Marti in Havana, Cuba (1926-60).

He acted as consultant in charge of the campus development of several educational institutions, including Valparaiso University in Indiana, Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, and Florida State University in Tallahassee. He also served as consultant to the federal government and to the states of Virginia and New Jersey, as well as to numerous architects and urban planners.

Prof. Labatut was a member of the architectural faculty of the American School of Fine Arts at the Palace of Fontainebleau, and in 1947 served as its director and later as a trustee. He was the recipient in 1973 of a double honor: the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation Professorship in Architecture from the University of Virginia, and the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation Medal in Architecture.

In 1951 France made him a knight of the Legion of Honor and promoted him to the rank of officer during a ceremony in Nassau Hall in 1960. Princeton University conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of humanities in 1975.

Prof. Labatut's wife, Mercedes, died several years ago, and there are no immediate survivors.

A memorial Mass will be held Saturday, December 13, at noon in the Princeton University Chapel. The Rev. Charles Weiser of the Aquinas Institute will officiate. Memorial contributions may be made to Princeton University, care of Recording Secretary, New South Building, Princeton 08544.

Carl E. Foss, 80, died November 24 at his home on Elm Road after a long illness.

Mr. Foss was a self-employed consultant on color to industry for the past 40 years and an internationally known authority on mixing colors and color order systems. He played a major role in producing the Munsell color system and Optical Society of America uniform color scales, the two most important color order systems of this century.

Born in Chicago, he was educated in Chicago public schools and at the University of Chicago. He moved to New York City in 1932 to direct research for International Printing Ink Corporation and wrote three monographs on color in 1935.

During World War II, he worked for the scientific research office of the U.S. Defense Department, where he developed camouflage for weapons systems.

After the war, he came to Princeton and built a home and laboratory on Route 518 in Rocky Hill. In 1956 he moved to Elm Road.

Mr. Foss lectured at many universities, including Princeton, on color theory, and was the author of many articles and editor of several books in this field. He was a member of the Optical Society of America (OSA) since 1930, and was elected Fellow in 1959. As OSA's delegate to the Inter-Society Color Council, he was elected honorary member and later vice chairman of the Council.

Obituaries

He was president of the Munsell Color Co. from 1951-70 and then trustee of the Munsell Color Foundation from 1969-81. In Princeton, he was a member of the Nassau Club and the Nassau Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Eleanor; a son, Stephen, and a daughter, Christine Foss, both of Princeton; and three brothers, August, Adolph and Walter Foss.

A memorial service will be held at a later date. Contributions may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, PO Box 592, Princeton 08542, or to the Munsell Color Laboratories at Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, N.Y.

Nancy S. Garrett, 57, of Constitution Hill died November 29 at home, following a lengthy illness.

Born in Lancaster, Pa., Mrs. Garrett lived in Westfield for 24 years before moving to Princeton three years ago. She was a graduate of Sweet Briar College, Va.

She was a former member and director of Homemakers of Central Union County and the founder of Mobile Meals of Westfield. She was a member of the Association of Junior Leagues, the Garden Club of Westfield, Bedens Brook Club and Trinity Church, Princeton. Surviving are her husband, Robert Y. Garrett III; a daughter, Tracy Rubin of Needham, Mass.; two sons, Robert Y. Garrett IV of Seattle, Wash., and John H. Garrett of New York City; her mother, Lydia S. Snook of Tarborough, N.C.; a sister, Sylvia Evans of Chesapeake, Va.; a brother, Edwin Snook of Grosse Isle, Mich.; and four grandchildren.

The service was held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Westfield. Burial will take place Thursday in Arlington Cemetery, Drexel Hill, Pa. Arrangements are under the direction of Kimble Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to Westfield Foundation (for the Mobile Meals Fund), 210 Orchard Street, Westfield 07091.

George W. Loos, Jr., retired treasurer and business manager of Princeton Theological Seminary, died in Doylestown, Pa., on November 22, after a brief illness. He was 87 and had lived in Princeton for 49 years.

Mr. Loos was born in Haddonfield and graduated from Haddonfield High School. He worked for a year at the Victor Talking Machine Company before entering Princeton University where he graduated in 1922. He then served two years as a member of "Princeton-in-Peking," teaching English in the Peking YMCA.

From January 1925 to March 1927, he was treasurer and business manager of Ginling College, Nanking, China. In July 1925, he married Esther Moody, who was serving as a missionary under the American Board of Foreign Missions.

Escaping by gunboat at the time of the "Nanking Incident," they returned to the United States and settled in Princeton, where he joined the staff of Princeton Theological Seminary as assistant treasurer and head of buildings and grounds. In 1947 he became treasurer and business manager and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1964.

After 12 more years in Princeton, they moved to the Pine Run Community in Doylestown in 1976. In Princeton, he was involved in a variety of community activities, including service on the Board of Education, treasurer of Rotary, treasurer of the Adult School from its beginnings and elder and clerk of the Session of the First Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Esther, and their sons, Gordon and Donald.

There will be a Memorial Service Saturday, January 3, at 2 at Lenape Valley Presbyterian Church, Route 202, Doylestown. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be sent to Princeton Theological Seminary, for the Scholarship Fund.

Richard L. Silvis Jr., of Berrien Court, died November 30 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Princeton, son of Richard S. and Mildred Davis Silvis, Mr. Silvis was a lifelong resident of the Borough and a former employee of Tenacre Foundation.

Surviving are a son, Richard L. Silvis III of East Orange; a daughter, Sherream Silvis of Trenton; two brothers, Tyrone and Stephen; and five sisters, Frances, Linda and Betty Silvis, Florence Woods and Lucy Murray, all of Trenton.

The service was held at a Trenton Funeral home, the Rev. Felton D. Rowe, pastor of the Bethlehem Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Joseph R. Goeke, 69, died December 1 at his home in Kingston.

Mr. Goeke was a market research consultant for 40 years, most recently as a vice president at Total Research Corporation and before that with Opinion Research, both in Princeton. He was a graduate of the University of Chicago and a member of the American Association for Public Opinion Research.

Survivors include his wife, Greacian Ospenson Goeke; two daughters, Greacian Mary of San Francisco, Calif., and Judith of Boulder, Colo.; a son, David Goeke of San Carlos, Calif.; and several brothers and sisters in the Princeton area.

A memorial service will be held Sunday at 4 at All Saints' Church. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Kingston First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Pete Hutter Remembered By Friends of Open Space

To the Editor of Town Topics: The following resolution was adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Friends of Princeton Open Space at their meeting on November 18, 1986.

"Resolve that the Board of the Friends of Princeton Open Space record with deep sorrow our sense of loss at the death of our esteemed Board member, Edwin C. Hutter, affectionately known to all as 'Pete,' a distinguished and valuable member of this organization and also founding member of our predecessor organization, the Friends of Princeton Environment."

"His contributions in the promotion of open space over many years were especially focused on water quality and protection of wetlands, based upon sound technical knowledge. Many generations of Princeton citizens will benefit from the careful concern Pete has bestowed on our town. His memory is honored among us, and we send our deepest sympathy to his wife Duffy and his family."

Accountability Needed On Township Committee

To the Editor of Town Topics: Surprised at the defeat of Messrs. Cherry and Royal on November 4, I began to think about how it could have happened.

Rejecting a single Republican incumbent on the Princeton Township Committee might not have been surprising, but two incumbents! That was, indeed, sobering since, in the next local election, it could lead to the unraveling of the Republican domination of the Committee.

After all, Bill Cherry has served nine productive years as a Committeeman. He has long been respected for his diligence and his responsiveness to appeals for assistance from Township residents on this and that problem.

But he has been outspoken, not always going along with the majority, and that fact may not have ingratiated him with some Republicans. Be that as it may, I believe that there is a larger question involved, one that may very well have caused the Republican setback.

The issue is this: as run for several years now, the Committee has become so preoccupied with day-to-day operations that it appears to have lost touch with the voters and their "right to know." Put another way, accountability of its actions seems to have slipped to the bottom of its agenda.

With the public being excluded from so many Committee discussions, we are often kept in the dark. The nemesis of the current Committee relates to its penchant for closed sessions and "informal talks" in the absence of the public.

Until the latter part of the 1970's, closed sessions were a predominant feature of the modus operandi of the Princeton Township Committee and the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

Then the N.J. State Legislature passed the Open Public Meetings Act. Virtually overnight, things improved tremendously and the public became better informed, both in the Borough and the Township.

Backward Step. However, in the 1980's, the clock started to go backwards. In the Township, a standing joke is that the Township Committee "meets, goes into closed session, opens up the meeting for a while, then winds up the evening with a second closed session."

Are so many closed sessions really needed? As things stand, the Committee cites six types of situations that justify going into closed session, each of which is reportedly permitted by the Open Public Meetings Act.

Actually, it's a matter of interpretation of the Act by Committee members and the legal counsel for the Committee. I know, important decisions are not being made in smoke-filled rooms behind locked doors, but they are being made by non-smokers in a well-ventilated room without the public being present.

"Negotiations" turns out to be a key word in the Committee's rationale for lowering the curtain on many of its activities. Regardless of legal and financial questions involved, the electorate has a right to know about what's happening and that requires open discussions.

Choose your analogy, but the governing of a municipality should be more than a poker game played only by elected officials. Talks with Calton Homes is a good example. Questions put to Committee members for a year or more did not, until just recently, elicit more information than that the "other side" was "unreasonable."

During that period, I assumed, because of conversations with several Committee members, that the main difference between the Township and Calton Homes was a disagreement on the number of affordable housing units to be constructed on the White Farm tract.

Now that November has rolled around, local newspapers are reporting that the number of units is only one of the stumbling blocks that are holding up a settlement. Would the world have fallen apart if we had been told of some of the other factors discussed in closed sessions?

Voters Have Spoken. By replacing two members of the Princeton Township Committee, voters have voiced their dissatisfaction with the Committee's approach to local government. Even a letter to local newspapers by Mayor Gail Firestone failed to inspire confidence on the day before the November 4 election.

Such statements as "I have met with...", "We called a meeting at my office...", "I have taken part in...", are not the equivalent of keeping Township residents informed on a weekly basis on municipal matters.

Considering the outcome of the November 4 election, it seems an appropriate time for the Princeton Township Committee to provide answers to the following questions and others that will inevitably be coming up in the new year.

As Township residents, we deserve as much, plus it would be a good beginning if the present Committee wants to be regarded as a governing body that conducts public business openly.

1) Where does the Committee stand on S-92? Not only Ms. Firestone as the Mayor, but also the other Committee members. Is the Committee sticking to the "Highway Policy Statement" signed by former Mayor Winthrop Pike on July 19, 1985, or does it have another position?

Just last week I read in a local newspaper that Princeton Township is preparing, for the Department of Transportation, engineering information on an interchange for S-92 at Bunn Drive. Are we to assume that the Committee favors such an interchange at Bunn Drive? Incidentally, where is the location of the location?

Does the Committee intend to announce public hearings on this location? DOT-sponsored meetings in December at Princeton High School are simply not a substitute for Township public hearings on S-92 and any DOT-recommended interchange.

2) Why did the Harrison Street Bridge become a low-priority issue? When first closed ed in 1985, there was talk about renting a temporary replacement bridge. Wouldn't the 9,000 motorists who daily used the Harrison Street bridge for commuting settle for that solution rather than wait and wait for resolution of the extraordinary disagreements between Princeton Township and Trenton?

3) What is the number of lawsuits against the Township and how many legal counsels are being retained at the present time by the Township on these disputes?

Also, what is the position of the Township in each lawsuit, and what are those of the parties suing the Township? Furthermore, what have been the legal fees of Township counsels so far this year?

4) Which members of the Township Committee are prevented from participating in discussions on what suits because of conflict of interest, real or alleged? In other words, who is actually taking part in the litigation?

5) Where does the Township Committee currently stand on its continuing commitment to provide its "fair share" of affordable housing? When I read the newspapers, I keep seeing the "fair share" dwindling.

There is the diabase argument, the too-far-out argument, the historical site argument, the infrastructure argument. It all reminds me of a conversation with the late Joseph Redding.

Following completion of Redding Circle after a great deal of opposition, he said to me: "Ah by the people of the state. Princeton. They don't ever want old people to live here."

TSC's Goal of Upgrading Will Hurt Local Students

To the Editor of Town Topics: Recent newspaper stories have reported that Trenton State College expects to enroll 900 full-time freshmen out of an estimated 7,000 applicants. This is about 2,000 more applicants than in the present year. This increase underlines the dubiousness of the oft-stated claim that prospective students are discouraged from applying to TSC because "Trenton" is a part of the college's title.

Objective evidence furnished by the college itself, as shown in the statistics listed above, indicates the contrary. It seems clear that applicants are attracted by the college's reputation, and that association with Trenton is not a significant deterrent to inquiries and applications for admission.

Other reports say that TSC is decreasing its enrollment in an effort to become a more selective and residential college. What are some of the implications of this action? Worthy students will be denied access to TSC, not because the college cannot physically accommodate them, but because of a deliberate attempt to exclude all but the "select."

This maneuver can be interpreted as a cold and calculated attempt to increase applications and increase rejections, thus possibly improving the college's rating on the highly questionable Barron's scale of competitiveness. TSC's Director of College Relations once boasted, as reported by the TSC student newspaper The Signal, "Before I'm finished with Trenton State, we're going to move in to the highly competitive category." Yes, probably so, but to what end and at what price?

With enrollment deliberately reduced and rejections increased, qualified college applicants unacceptable to TSC must apply to other colleges. Where?

Out-of-state is one possibility, but that is contrary to another proclaimed objective, i.e., keep provide its "fair share" of affordable housing? When I read the newspapers, I keep seeing the "fair share" dwindling.

There is the diabase argument, the too-far-out argument, the historical site argument, the infrastructure argument. It all reminds me of a conversation with the late Joseph Redding.

ROBERT HOSFORD
430 Terhune Road

The inevitable result of converting TSC to a residential college will be a reduction in commuting students. Where will the commuters — those determined and resourceful young men and women who brave weather, distance and the hazards of the road in their spunky Chevettes, Escorts and Toyotas — go for their educations? Kean? Glassboro? Montclair?

All good schools but not within reasonable commuting distance of this area. Long-distance commuting would be expensive, time would be taken away from the employment they need to earn money for living and college expenses, and the hazards of travel would increase. Commuters cannot take up residency in faraway places for the simple reason that they and their hard-working families can't afford it.

The TSC administrators and Board of Trustees who have determined on the goals of selectivity, which closely correlates with exclusivity and its inevitable undemocratic results, should consider this question: What happens to the college aspirations of the daughters and sons of the area's workers — blue-collar mechanics and artisans, state and commercial office personnel, sales persons, farmers and others — who have looked to Trenton State as their route to a college education, but who now find it denied?

Simple logic and a desire to do the greatest good for the greatest number of people tells us that increase in applicants who want to attend TSC should bring about an increase in total enrollment and a consequent increase in acceptances. To do otherwise is to disregard the needs of New Jersey college-bound students, in particular, and the needs of society, in general.

Carril's Cagers Win Opener against Franklin & Marshall, Hope to Continue Success at Seton Hall This Saturday

The Princeton basketball team may be the best kept secret in town this winter.

The Tigers had what the movie trade likes to call "a soft opening" last Saturday, beating Franklin & Marshall, 74-58, in Jadwin Gym. The opposition wasn't soft, but the gate sure was.

Only 510 fans rattled around in the cavernous confines of Jadwin. Some Christmas cocktail parties in this town have drawn more than that. Where was everybody?

Well, about twice that many were down in Baker Rink watching hockey, which almost always outdraws basketball.

SPORTS

when the two go head to head. And a large number of students were not even on campus because of Thanksgiving vacation.

Still, you have to wonder where the support is when a Rutgers-Rider contest the same night draws a crowd seven times as large (3,712) in Piscataway.

In this strangest of schedules, the Orange and Black will play only once more at home before late January. Davidson will be the opponent on Tuesday, December 16. (Princeton did think it had a home game with St. Joseph's December 3, but St. Joe's got a better offer and pulled out of that agreement.)

By the time Davidson comes to town, we'll have a better read on this Princeton team, which now must play its next four contests on the road. The first is set for 8 p.m. this Saturday against Seton Hall in South Orange.

That's followed by a Monday night (December 8) meeting

SCRABIS GOES FOR TWO: Princeton's Bob Scrabis puts in two of his game-high 21 points in second half action against Franklin & Marshall Saturday.

with Lehigh in Bethlehem, and then a trip to Champaign, Ill. for the Illini Classic on December 12-13. Princeton is matched against Illinois-Chicago in the opening round, while Illinois and Baylor are in the other half of the draw.

If there is one team with which Carril would like to get even, it's got to be Seton Hall. He's beaten the Pirates only once in six tries (1978) and the losses have been excruciating. Last year Seton Hall won in Jadwin, 44-43; five years ago they won 75-74; in 1980, 53-51; and 1978, 67-65.

The Pirates are coming off a 14-18 mark a year ago, but they must play in the tough Big East conference where they won only three of 13. They also opened with a win Saturday night, beating Columbia 86-73.

Diplomats Hang in for a Half. The first 20 minutes of last Saturday's contest brought back memories of the opener two years ago when the Tigers needed an overtime period to defeat Franklin & Marshall, 45-43. Playing their fourth game of the season, the 2-2 Diplomats kept pace with the Orange and Black through the first half, and trailed by only a point, 33-32 at the intermission.

The visitors hit on two quick three-point shots at the start to take a 6-2 lead, and 12 of 18 shooting and an edge in rebounds enabled them to keep up. Princeton started slowly, connecting on 15 of 26 from the floor, and really opened it up at the start of the second half.

Led by Bob Scrabis, who finished with a game-high 21 points, Princeton hit four consecutive baskets at the start to take a 41-32 lead. The 6'3 sophomore scored three of those. A pair of baskets by John Thompson, sandwiched around one by the Dips, then gave the Tigers a 43-34 lead with 3:49 gone.

The visitors closed to within eight a few minutes later, but three-pointers by Mike Harnum and Joe Scott put the lead into double figures, and Princeton had its first victory safely tucked away. Its shooting in the second half improved to 14 of 20 for an overall percentage of 63.

Four other players reached double figures for the Tigers. Joe Scott had 14, and Alan Williams and Dave Orlandini had 12 apiece. Carril had high praise for Scrabis, "He can do a lot of things for us out there," but was more reserved about the team play.

"I thought we played okay," he commented. We need to get a little more intensity, but that was a good second half."

He is still worried about the team's lack of height, and hopes that the new three-point shot will help compensate. The 19-foot, 9-inch distance is still too close he feels, making the shot too easy.

In this contest, the new rule did not play a significant part. Franklin & Marshall hit four of nine attempts for 12 points, while Princeton canned five of eight for 15.

However, the visitors did enjoy a 24-19 edge in rebounds, so it is going to be imperative for the Tigers to keep that shooting percentage well above 50.

One of the most unusual touchdowns in football history was made by Snooks Dowd of Lehigh University in 1934 ... He took the ball on his opponent's one-yard line and, to dodge tacklers, ran 99 yards down the field the wrong way, then circled a yard back in his own end zone and ran 101 yards back the other way for a touchdown ... In all, he ran 200 yards on that one play for an all-time record.

Did you know that a mother-son combination has participated in the Olympics for the United States? ... The only mother-son combination ever to do that was Alice Arden Hodge who competed in track and field in the 1936 Olympics, while her son, Russ Hodge, took part in the decathlon in the 1964 Olympics.

The buck stops here. A famous slogan but not true with S.D.B. claims.

It seems hard to believe now, but the National Football League once had teams named the Brooklyn Dodgers, St. Louis Gunners, Evansville Crimson Giants, Minneapolis Marines, Rochester Jeffersons, Dayton Triangles, Columbus Panhandles, Providence Steam Roller, and the Duluth Eskimos ... All those teams were in the NFL at one time.

RECOGNITION CAME EARLY: Most hockey players will play four years and never be named ECAC Player of the Week, but it took Princeton's Greg Polaski (in white jersey) just two weeks to earn the honor. # It's Nice to Beat Army Twice, But Can Tiger Hockey Win at Least One of Two on the Road This Weekend?

Any one who has watched the Princeton hockey team year after year doesn't dare get excited about the Tigers' prospects quite yet, but those back-to-back victories last weekend give plenty of reason for renewed hope.

Winless in its first four ECAC Division I contests, the Orange and Black won twice in overtime over a decent Army team. Saturday night's 2-1 triumph in Baker Rink was followed by a 4-3 decision at West Point Sunday afternoon.

Tied with Dartmouth in the league cellar, Princeton vaulted over several idle teams and landed in seventh place in the standings. However, its stay there may not last past this Sunday.

And that's why it's much too early to get too excited about those victories.

If the Tigers can follow up with something positive this weekend, there will be plenty of time next week to contemplate the possibilities of making the playoffs. A road trip Friday and Saturday will find coach Jim Higgins' skaters at RPI and then Vermont for successive 7:30 p.m. contests. They won't play another ECAC game for almost a month.

No one is asking for another sweep; merely winning one of the two games would be extremely positive for Princeton. The Orange and Black has had great difficulty beating anybody except Dartmouth and Brown on the road the last few years. With the momentum provided by the Army victories, this is the time to change that deficiency.

The best chance for a win would seem to be Saturday night. Vermont has won only once in four ECAC games, managing a 6-4 triumph over Brown. It has lost at home to Clarkson and St. Lawrence and to Yale in New Haven.

The only problem is, the Orange and Black has rarely beaten Vermont in Burlington. The Catamounts won both games last year; the Tigers last won in February 1985, 4-3 in overtime in Baker Rink. It's been tougher against RPI, whom the Tigers have not beaten at home or away in four years, a streak of eight consecutive losses. The Engineers are not the powerhouse they were two years ago, when they beat Princeton four times in one season. They've had their problems so far this year, splitting four ECAC games, and last weekend they lost twice at home in their own tournament to Alaska-Fairbanks and Merrimack.

Outshot, But Not Outscored. The tightly-contested battles against Army saw Princeton outshot on both occasions, but goalie Dave Marotta proved to be steadier in the nets than his Army counterpart Paul DeGironimo.

In Baker Saturday night, the teams battled on even terms through a scoreless first period and into the second before the Cadets broke the deadlock with a goal by Kevin Keenan at 15:18 of the second. That 1-0 lead began to look like it might hold up for the rest of the game, as shot after shot by Princeton bounced harmlessly off DeGironimo's chest.

Finally at 10:27 of the third, freshman Greg Polaski tied the score at 1-1, knocking in the rebound of a shot by Scott Howe. Bart Blaesser also picked up an assist. Neither team could score again in regulation time, and through the first seven minutes of a 10-minute overtime.

At 7:18 Army was called for hooking, and 36 seconds later Polaski made Princeton a winner with his second goal, a beautiful shot from the right circle that beat DeGironimo to the far side. The freshman was named ECAC Player of the Week for his efforts. The Black Knights outshot the Tigers 30-26, but Marotta turned away all but one.

Tough Start at West Point. Sunday afternoon, Princeton got off to a rocky start in its efforts to sweep the series. The Orange and Black started the game down a man, when it was called for dressing too many players. Eighteen is the limit, but the Tigers had 19 skating during the warm-up.

To make matters worse, Howe was hit with a cross-checking penalty 1:13 into the contest, so the Cadets enjoyed a two-man advantage for 47 seconds and a power play for 3:13 in all. Marotta was equal to the challenge, stopping six shots.

Three minutes later, Princeton got its own power play and made it work, with John Messuri scoring at 6:06. The home team answered with a goal at 12:58 with John Rocco off the ice for tripping.

A pair of goals in the second by Princeton made it appear the Tigers might win this one in easier fashion. Dave Umland tallied at 8:20, and Blaeser followed with another at 15:57, on a pretty cross-ice pass from Messuri.

But the Cadets rallied back to 3-2 before the period ended, and tied it just 1:08 into the third, on

The call came at 6:40, and at 7:07 Messuri sent the puck into the Army net. The Cadets had a 40-32 shot advantage.

Statistics Tell Sad Story Of Losing Football Season

Statistics released last week confirm the kind of season experienced by the Princeton football team.

In the Ivy League, the Tigers placed seventh in offense, only ahead of Columbia with 262.1 yards gained per game. They were sixth on defense, allowing 346 yards per game, ahead of Dartmouth and Columbia. In the more important categories of scoring offense and defense, the Orange and Black was seventh in both, scoring 11.6 points per game, while giving up 21.3.

Fullback Jerry Santillo was seventh in the league in rushing with 328 yards in 77 attempts, an average of 4.2 per carry. Split end Jeff Baker was also seventh, with 19 receptions for 255 yards. Quarterback Brad Hammond was ranked eighth among league passers. One bright spot was punter Rob DiGiacomo, whose 38.4 yard average placed him second, just .4 of a yard behind Cornell's Erik Bernstein.

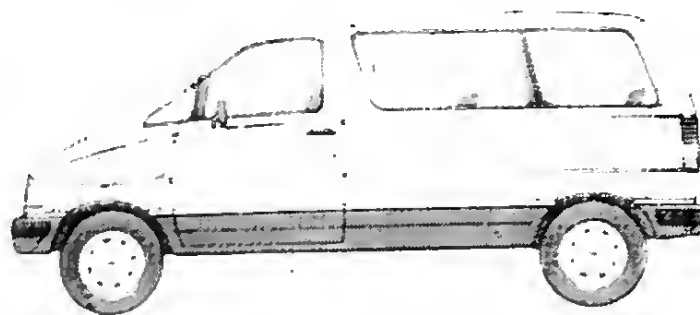

Tailback Rich Comizio of Penn won the league's rushing honors with 785 yards in 146 attempts, an average of 5.2 per game. The leading passer was David Gabianelli of Dartmouth. He threw for 1,628 yards, completing 106 out of 187 passes, 15 for touchdowns. His favorite receiver, Craig Morton, was the leading receiver with 27 receptions for 641 yards, an average of 23.7 yards per catch.

In team statistics, Penn led in both offense and defense, gaining an average of just over 407 yards per game, while allowing 198. Penn led in scoring offense with almost 28 points per game, while Cornell was tops in scoring defense, allowing just under eight points per contest.

All-Ivy Selections. The final Ivy standings were also reflected in the voting for the 1986 Ivy League Coaches all-league football team. Cornell, which finished second, led the way with nine first-team selections, Penn had seven, and third place Brown placed five on the first team.

Princeton's junior free safety, Dean Cain, was the only Princeton player named to the first team. He led the Tigers with five interceptions.

The Orange and Black's second team choices included DiGiacomo, senior defensive end, and co-captain Ned Elton, who led the Tigers in sacks with seven and was sixth in tackles with 50; and junior placekicker, Rob Goodwin, who hit on eight of 14 field goal attempts.

Also named were senior offensive guard, Mike Harter, and junior split end, Jeff Baker.

Honorable mention choices were senior tight end Mike Behrman, senior halfback Derek Wassink and senior strong safety Chip Nuzzo.

12 Starters to Graduate. Princeton will lose seven starters on offense and five on defense from this year's team. Harter, Wassink, Behrman, Weisglass, center Gerry Courier, as well as Brian Wiley and Jerry Santillo will depart from the offense. Elton, Nuzzo, defensive back Kevin Armstrong, linebacker Matt Heisler and tackle Jim Soss will need to be replaced on defense.

Returning on offense are Baker, tackle George Sarcevitich, guard Mark Seilhamer, running back Greg DiFelice, and the three Garrett brothers, John, Jason and Judd. Running back Steve Foster, injured in an automobile accident a year ago, may also return.

On defense, tackle Rob Vanden Noven, end David Rose, linebackers Pete Milano and Matt Whalen, cornerback Sean Brennan and Cain will be back.

Next year's schedule is as follows: September 19 at Dartmouth; September 26 at Davidson, October 3 at Brown; October 10, Columbia; October 17, Lehigh, October 24 at Harvard; October 31 at Pennsylvania; November 7, Colgate; November 14, Yale, November 21, Cornell.

Hun Begins Mat Season Strong at Top, Bottom

Hoping to improve upon its record of last year when it won just three matches, the Hun School wrestling team will open its new season this Wednesday when it competes in a tri-meet with Rutgers Prep and Admiral Farragut at the Rutgers gym.

Saturday at 2, Hun will make the short trip to Lawrenceville School to oppose a strong Larry team. "All I can say is I'm glad we're meeting them early," commented Hun coach Dave Faus of Lawrenceville. "The one thing I'm proud of is we don't dodge anybody. For some reason we had some trouble scheduling some of the public schools this year but we'll meet them all in the Mercer County Tournament."

As for how the Raiders will do this year, it's too early to tell, says Faus, although he allowed: "I always set a goal of reaching .500. We never came together as a team last year but I am confident we will have a better dual meet record this year."

"I think Cobin will be the class of Mercer County. That's a bold statement, I know. He has a bruised shoulder but if we keep him healthy he should do very well and make a good showing in the nationals." Rob Cobin is Hun's veteran 158-pounder and co-captain of this year's squad, together with another senior, Dave Glassberg, who returns at 185 pounds.

"Individually, we should do very well," predicts Faus. Hun, he notes, is solid up top and is also strong in the lower weights.

Faus is counting on two freshmen to help Hun get off to a good start. One is 98-pounder Terry Gold from Rhode Island, whom he says "looks real tough."

The other is Matt Cabbash, 119 pounds, who has had four years experience wrestling in junior programs and who recently won a title in a junior tournament in Massachusetts. Cabbash is a native of New York City. In between these two will be junior Steve McNally, a returning starter at 105 pounds.

At the upper end is Cobin, who will probably alternate between 158 and 170, and the talented Glassberg at 185. At heavyweight is Nils Rector, a PG student from Mendham, a hotbed for wrestling in the Garden State. Rector, reports Faus, had a good year in public school competition and, he adds, "at 205 pounds there is not an ounce of fat on him. He is very quick. We're looking for real good things from him."

Last Call for Dillon BB

The Princeton Recreation Department urges any Princeton youth between the age of 10 and 14 who is interested in playing in the Dillon Basketball League to contact the Recreation Office before Friday.

Two juniors up from the jayvee squad are Brad Carris, 126 pounds, and Rick Laver, 132 pounds. Another junior, David Ross is a candidate for the 155-pound class.

Sophomore Josh Waxman is also vying for a starting berth at 138 or 145 pounds, where the lineup is less fixed.

A PG from York, Pa., Jamie Hutton wrestled as a sophomore and Faus is counting on help from him at 145 or 155 pounds. "He's a gutsy kid, a lot like Glassberg," commented Faus. "He'll win his fair share; he's just a good athlete. He has a feeling for it."

Ahead for Hun, after its first home meet with George School next Wednesday, is the 16-bracket New Hope Tournament on December 12-13 which Faus says will be competitive. While Faus says it is too early now to make any predictions, after the New Hope tourney he'll have a better handle on what he can expect from his squad this season.

Hun 4-1 Hockey Victor; Roberson Has Hat Trick

The Hun School made its hockey debut a successful one Monday when it defeated Hopewell Valley, 4-1, at the Mercer County rink.

Post graduate student Sanger Roberson, who didn't play hockey his senior year in high school because of a concussion, led Hun with three goals. Hun outshot the Bulldogs, 52-16.

Paul Hopkins scored Hun's initial goal at 1:11 into the contest, when he slapped in the rebound of a shot by Roberson from the right point. Roberson then made it 2-0 at 11:20 in the first period, when he beat HV goalie Steve Gore on breakaway for his first of three goals.

Hun goalie, Jason Halpern, had 15 saves, while Gore, under attack throughout the game, had 48.

"This isn't a bad start," allowed Hun coach Dave Bala, who took over as coach only a week and a half ago. Bala and his assistant, Rick Anderson both agreed, however, that the Raiders still have a long way to go.

Record Is Now at 2-0 For CJ Hockey Club

The Princeton-based Central Jersey Hockey Club, which competes in the Southern Division of the Commuters' League, increased its record to 2-0 with a 21-5 rout of the Chester County, Pa., Skating Club, in a non-league contest held Sunday in Chester.

The scoring barrage was led by John Cook's eight goals, Steve Cook's seven goals, and Colie Donaldson's five goals.

Little Tigers Can Be Proud of a Fine Season Despite Loss to Trenton High in Final Game

No, the Princeton High School football team did not upset favored Trenton High in its final game of the season last week. There was no Frank Merriwell finish to savour, no cherry on the icing of a season that was far sweeter than anyone had ever expected it to be.

Although it completely dominated the second half and had several chances to go out a winner, PHS fell short, bowing to the visiting Tornados, 15-10.

With that, the Little Tigers, champions of the Valley Division of the Colonial Valley Conference, ended with a 7-3 record. The year before, the last under former coach Bill Cirullo, the Little Tigers were 3-6.

It was time for new coach Kurt Vollherbst to remind his players what they had accomplished.

"You had a super second half," he told his assembled squad after the game. "We came up a little short but we should be proud of what we did this year as a team."

"We should have won it but we didn't. But everyone should be proud of what we did."

"Get your hands in here for one last time."

And for the final time, the 1986 Little Tigers, huddled, grabbed hands and shouted, "Let's Go Tigers!"

"Should be 8-2. Despite being down from a humbling 45-0 loss the week before in the state competition and despite being absolutely flat in the first half against Trenton, the thought remained: this was a game the Little Tigers let slip away."

"We had our chances," agreed Vollherbst. "We blew a couple of real fine opportunities. Our defense played well but we weren't able to capitalize."

"We could have made a few more completions," continued Vollherbst, and when asked if the team missed its leading receiver, Peter Paris, Vollherbst replied: "Yes, we did. But those who played for us did a super job."

Paris and defensive back Rob Cifelli both did not dress for the game. Both, said team physician Robert Lewis had suffered a mild concussion in the game against Long Branch the week before. Noting that Paris, who is also a fine basketball player and the area's top high jumper, had sustained a bad concussion a year ago, Dr. Lewis said, "It just wasn't worth it."

Summed up Vollherbst: "I'm very pleased with what we did. We won the CVC with a 7-3 record, we had a shot in the states, they've got to remember what we were able to do. I think they all have to be proud."

Still, Vollherbst could not resist adding, "We should be 8-2."

Both teams entered Saturday's contest here with 7-2 records. Both had been defeated the previous week in the NJSIAA state competition, and both schools wanted to play on Saturday, Vollherbst reported.

It didn't appear that way, at first, to the spectators. PHS was flat and there was hardly a sound from either squad on the field throughout the first half.

"In general, both teams were not at their peak," agreed Vollherbst. "We were flat and they were a little bit up. When you get beat 45-0 the week before it's difficult to get it back up again."

The PHS defense all year had given the team breaks when it needed it, observed Vollherbst. "It's just unfortunate we weren't able to do a little bit more with the football when we had it. But 7-3 is great. There is no taking seven wins away."

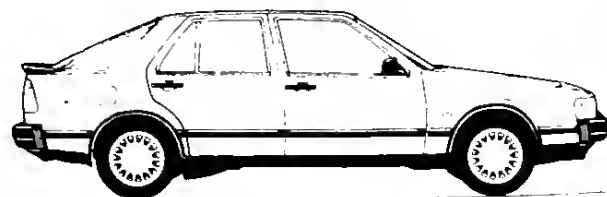

PHS ran only eight plays from scrimmage in the first period — the eighth was an interception of a Tim Rumer pass by Ernest Harris on the PHS 19. Six plays later THS quarterback, Anthony Cannon, scored on a five-yard keeper with 10:05 left in the second period.

Two plays later, following the return kickoff, another Rumer pass was tipped and picked off by Sean McJunkins at the PHS 26. This time THS was stopped when Cannon was nailed by Darius Young on the three on fourth down.

PHS was unable to move in three plays and Jim Laverly's punt was returned to the PHS 28. This time the Tornados were not denied. Cannon, the CVC's leading passer, connected on two passes that carried to the PHS six, and three plays later, with 1:21 left in the half, Cannon bucked over from the two for a 15-0 lead.

Rumer took to the air, completed one short pass to Mike Riddick for a first down, but four others were off the mark or dropped. Under constant pressure Rumer was one-for-more with the football when he had it. But 7-3 is great. There is no taking seven wins away."

McKellar Goes 85 Yards. The second half was all Princeton. It began with Pat McKellar fielding the opening kickoff around the PHS 15, cutting to the sidelines and going all the way for an 85-yard return — the team's first punt return all season.

Three plays later, Young intercepted Cannon for the only time and returned the ball to the THS 12. On fourth down, under pressure again, Rumer lofted a pass into the end zone which was intercepted by Teddy Lee.

The Little Tigers were soon in business again. After Jesse Klingebiel had sacked Cannon for a seven-yard loss, Young recovered a THS fumble on the next play on the Tornado 20. The drive stalled, however, and PHS settled for a 38-yard field goal by John Lyons (the ball hit the crossbar and fell over) to cut Trenton's lead to 15-10.

After an exchange of punts in the final period, PHS forced another turnover when Ross Pratt recovered a fumble by Romauldo Perez. On fourth-and-four, Rumer threw a screen pass to Riddick, who gained a first down on the THS 24, but in three succeeding plays Rumer was sacked for a loss, Paul Fisher on a draw netted nothing, and Rumer's pass from the THS 35 to Young near the end zone failed. PHS was forced to kick with 5:15 remaining.

PHS was presented another opportunity to pull the game out when Klingebiel recovered a handoff that Perez never had control of on the THS 33. Rumer passes to Mark Pirone and Young misfired but then he connected with McKellar for a first down on the THS 18 for an 15-yard gain.

Two incomplete passes to Riddick and McKellar plus two illegal procedure calls against PHS in the next series found the Little Tigers facing a 3-and-20 situation. The drive was kept alive when Rumer found McKellar again over the middle for a first down on the THS nine. The big fullback jumped high in the air with his arms waving after the reception. Plenty of time left: 2:28.

Rumer was sacked by Tino Malave for the third time in the game and when Rumer's pass to Riddick failed, Vollherbst called time. On third down, Rumer overthrew Young. On fourth down, with the whole game riding on the play, Rumer's pass to Riddick slanting in over the middle was high. THS had managed to hang on for its eighth win, tying the school record for most wins in a season.

Despite the outcome, it was a highly successful first season for Vollherbst. Asked if he had set any goals at the start of the season, he replied that his biggest goal had been to be a winning football team. "We certainly did that," he said.

"After I got here I wanted to get the kids working as a team," continued Vollherbst. "The way we came back today proved we were a team."

There were a lot of individuals at the start; bringing them together as a team was another goal that Vollherbst felt he had accomplished.

Is he looking forward to next year, when he again will be faced with the problem of a thin squad? "You bet I am," he replied.

Seniors who played their last game, almost all of whom were called upon to play both ways, are: Peter Paris, Mike Riddick, Tim Rumer, Paul Fisher, Rob Cifelli, Pat McKellar, Jesse Klingebiel, Terrance Thomas, John Lyons, Jim Lavery, Chandler Kinchla, Davie Lees and Mark Pirone. McKellar and Riddick were co-captains of the team.

Central Jersey's next game will be a non-league contest vs. the Monsey, N.Y., Hockey Club on Saturday at Princeton University's Baker Rink at 3:45 p.m.

Registration Is Underway For Coed Youth Basketball

The YMCA is registering youths age six to 12 in its Youth Basketball League.

Now in its second year, the co-ed league offers five weeks of instruction and drills and seven weeks of lessons and games. Children are grouped by age. Six- to eight-year-olds meet Saturdays from 10 to 11:30 a.m., and nine- to 12-year-olds meet Tuesdays 3 to 4:30 p.m. Both sessions are at the Paul Robeson Place facility.

Registration is held Monday to Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the YMCA office. Membership plus a $15 program fee is required. For more information call 924-4497.

Home Opener Is Monday For Hun Basketball Team

The Hun basketball team will play its first home game of the season on Monday at 3:45 when it plays host to newcomer Lakewood Prep.

In two away games before the opener, Hun will be at Newark Academy this Wednesday afternoon and at Rutgers Prep on Friday. Coach Pat Kahny's Raiders had been scheduled to open their season against Morrisville, Pa., high school this week but because public high schools in Pennsylvania can not start their seasons as early as Monday, the game was played as a scrimmage.

Topics of the Town

Combustion Will Be Focus Of Science Show at PDS

The final show in the Saturday science series for youngsters, sponsored by Princeton Day School, will be on combustion.

"The Wizards of Chemistry" will present shows at 1 and 3:30. In between show times, there are crafts, side shows, computer and other activities. For further information call 924-6700, ext. 219.

Family Night Skating Saturdays at Ice Rink

The Mercer County Ice Skating Center, in Mercer county Central Park, will hold family night skating Saturday evenings from 5 to 7 p.m. The session is open only to children accompanied by a skating parent.

For a schedule of the public skating sessions, call 989-6533.

An Old-Time Christmas Planned at Howell Farm

An old-fashioned Christmas celebration will begin Saturday at 10 a.m. at Howell Farm. Visitors may wish either to help cut a tree and bring it in from the woods with horses or work inside stringing popcorn and cranberries. Tree trimming and singing will begin at noon, and hot cider will be served.

St. Nicholas will arrive by horsedrawn wagon (or sleigh) at 1:30. He'll stay through 4, and will give each child a gingerbread farm animal.

The farm is located on Valley Road, one mile east of Belle Mountain Ski Area in Hopewell Township. For further information, tion, call 397-0449 weekdays or 737-3299 Saturdays. Admission, parking, and activities are free.

Re-enactments Planned Of British Occupation

The Historical Society will celebrate the 210th anniversary of the arrival of British General William Howe at Bainbridge House with two days of special events Saturday and Sunday.

The "Revolutionary Weekend" will feature reenactment troops who will interpret the experiences of soldiers fighting for and against the British Crown during the American Revolution. Visitors of all ages are invited to join the festivities at Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau Street, between 11 and 4 on both days. All activities are presented free of charge.

On Saturday Bainbridge House will be "occupied" by troops from the American side. Visitors will be able to discuss life in General George Washington's army with costumed interpreters, and explore life in 18th-century Princeton.

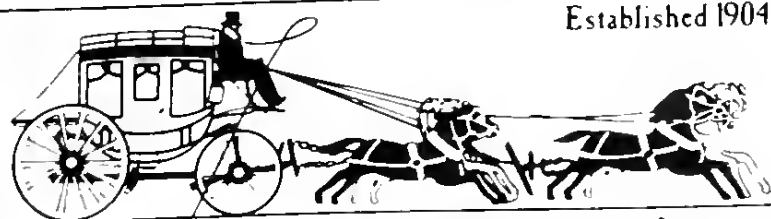

Sunday has been designated "Crown Forces Day" at Bainbridge House. British, Hessian, and Loyalist troops will be on hand to describe the experience of fighting for the British Crown during the Revolution. They will also reenact the arrival of General William Howe at the home of Dr. Absalom Bainbridge on December 7, 1776. General Howe was in Princeton roughly a month before the Battle of Princeton, which took place on January 3, 1777.

Bainbridge House will be decorated appropriately for the season, and "switchel," an 18th-century beverage, will be served. For more information call 921-6748.

Open House Is Planned By YWCA Artisans Guild

The YWCA Artisans Guild will hold a holiday open house Thursday, December 11, from 6 to 8:30 to celebrate its new quarters in Bramwell House. The public is invited.

The Artisans Guild is presently holding its annual raffle, and the drawing for the handmade quilt that is the handwork of Guild consignors will take place at 7 p.m. Hortense Green, crafts coordinator of the New Jersey State Council of the Arts, will pick the winning ticket.
